

ave these per ne, I want them not destroy them

Rufus H. LeFever

COLLEGE NEWS

LEBANON VALLEY COLLEGE

Volume VI

Annville, Pa., Tuesday, September 15, 1914

No. 28

Entered as second-class matter November 12, 1910, at the post office at Annville, Pa., under the act of March 3, 1879.

ADDRESS BY DR. SCHMAUK

Most auspicious was the opening of college with the chapel services last Wednesday morning. The President and Faculty, as they mounted the platform, received an enthusiastic greeting from the assemblage of students, the largest in the history of the institution. An air of vivacious enthusiasm prevailed which suggested an extremely promising forecast for the opening year.

The exercises were opened by the Reverend Mr. Linebaugh, of Hershey, who read the Scripture passage and offered an earnest prayer in supplication for divine guidance and benediction respecting our college.

Then followed the principal address of the morning delivered by the Reverend Dr. Theodore E. Schmauk, of Lebanon, who holds, among other offices, the presidency of the Conference of the Evangelical Lutheran churches of the United States and Canada. The pleasing personality of Dr. Schmauk won his audience at the start.

He commenced by saying that he had been tempted to base his remarks on lessons drawn from the present great European conflict, but had concluded to follow more traditional lines. He spoke beautifully of our college buildings and their attractive surroundings, in the course of his remarks calling up picture after picture before the mind's eye of the classic beauty and scenic grandeur of the aesthetic meccas of the world past and present. Continuing he said, "Vacation is the land of memories; college is the land of promise." The trees of knowledge and life flourish in college; the two are inseparable, for without life knowledge is useless.

The theme of his discourse was, "How to make the most out of a college career." The speaker declared that the luxuries and fine appointments often incident to college life are extremely pleasant, but should not be developed at the expense of its true function, the training of the individual to make one's life count for the most. Referring to athletics he said that sports were all right if enjoyed in moderation, but that they were often carried to excess in our American colleges.

One of the great advantages of a college career, said the speaker, lies in the training one receives in learning to work in co-operation with others and to become acquainted

Continued on page 3

RECEPTION TO NEW STUDENTS

A very happy company of young people gathered in the Alumni gymnasium last Saturday evening. The occasion was the welcoming of the new students. Every year Young Men's and Young Women's Christian Associations hold a reception for the incoming students and this year the affair was especially enjoyable.

It was a sight that gladdened many a heart when they saw the great number there assembled. Each person wore a card bearing his name, thus making it much easier to meet one another. When all had assembled the president of the Y. M. C. A., Paul Bowman, made a short speech of welcome and then introduced our beloved president, Dr. Gossard. He spoke, as he always does, in a way that made every one feel at home. The older students felt glad to see dear old Lebanon Valley receive so many new faces into her ranks; and the new students with the hearty welcome they received felt glad that they had come.

After Dr. Gossard had spoken we were entertained with several readings by Josephine Ulrich, '14, and several selections by a ladies' quartet, consisting of Louise Henry, Pauline Clark, Ella Mutch and Helen Ziegler. Mr. Bender also added his share to the entertainment by singing some of the popular songs while the refreshments were being served.

Toward the close of the evening's sociability, the classes began to gather together to give their yells. After the classes had shown as much enthusiasm as they thought fitting and in accordance with their dignity, class spirit was forgotten in one long "Rama-zama" for Lebanon Valley.

The yearly reception given by the Christian Associations is one that is remembered during all the college year; for there we learn to know one another, there all ceremony is laid aside and every one gets acquainted with every one else. We hope this year's reception has kept up to the standard and that the new students will feel at home in their new Alma Mater.

Miss Verda Snyder was the guest of her sister, Miss Arita Snyder, during the past week.

Mrs. Colt, of Meehsoppin, accompanied her daughter to college.

Miss Grace Beidler, of Leighton, was a visitor at the college last Tuesday and Wednesday.

OUTLOOK FOR FOOTBALL SEASON

The outlook for a good football team at Lebanon Valley is the best in the history of the institution. Never before have so many men reported for practice. Already thirty-six men have procured uniforms, and there are at least six men to report sometime during this week. Judging from the first few practices the squad is not only strong in numbers but in the quality of real football material.

To have return such a large number of last year's L men is most gratifying to Coach Guyer because they know his system of coaching and are a great aid in handling the new men in the rudiments of the game. The following L men of last year's team have returned: Capt. C. Snively, end and back; Von Bereghy, center; Hollinger, DeHuff and Mickey, guards; Mackert, tackle; E. Snively, end; Lerew, Wheelock and Donohue, backs. Besides these there is promising second team material of last year such as Loomis, Rupp, Swartz, Wenrick, and Bachman.

The most promising new men are: Jaeger, a back from Springfield Y. M. C. A. College; Keating, Race and Inman from the Rome Free Academy, Rome, N. Y.; Bechtel from Allentown Preparatory; Morrison and Atticks from Steelton H. S.; Besse from Springville, N. Y.; Walter of Lebanon H. S., and others. With all of this splendid new material it is at once evident that the old men will have to play better football than last year to hold their jobs and judging from the few practices they have taken note of this and seem determined to give the new men a good fight. That is the condition the coach has been longing for, to have sufficient material so that no man is ever sure of his position on the team.

Sixteen men reported last Tuesday for the first practice and each following day the number rapidly increased. The work of the week consisted chiefly in mastering the rudiments of the game such as handling punts, forward passing, falling on ball, tackling, blocking, etc. On Saturday the first scrimmage was held. The coach desired the men to go at it with little vigor for the first, but because of the keen competition it was a real battle for about ten minutes.

The schedule for this season is also the best ever and we shall have to play considerable better ball than

Continued on page 2

College News

Issued weekly during the College Year by the Students of Lebanon Valley College

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

FRANK M. VAN SCHAAK '15

ASSOCIATE EDITORS

FLORENCE MENTZ '15

S. HUBER HEINTZELMAN '16

Social

M. BELLE ORRIS '15

Athletics

PHILO STATTON '15

Alumni

MASON LONG '16

Music

RAY P. CAMPBELL '16

BUSINESS MANAGER

FABER E. STENGLE '15

Subscription Price $1.00 per year

Single Copies 5 cts.

Clubs of ten, 75 cts.

Address all business communications to FABER E. STENGLE '15 all other matter to Room 22, Administration Building Lebanon Valley College, Annville, Pa.

EDITORIAL.

Another school year dawns before us. To those of us who have been here before, the pleasure of gathering once more in the dear old halls of our college is enhanced by the renewing of old friendships among faculty and students. New faces are seen also—many of them—their number almost surprises us. It gives us great pleasure to welcome to our midst these new students who will, we feel sure, assist in the perpetuation of the wholesome activities and the reputation for scholastic attainment of Lebanon Valley.

The presence of new faces, however, is not the only change noticeable. Many are missing from our ranks, the familiar faces of those who have gone out into the more extended field of service in the world of action. We shall feel their absence more as the days go by, and our sympathetic interest and well-wishes will follow them in the various new spheres of activity which they have so recently entered.

This absence of the friends of former days reminds us that the element of change is ever present in school life, and that our time for departure will arrive before we are aware of it. This thought of the fleeting days is a solemn one which is not considered often enough. Our school days are passing rapidly; are we making the most of them? Have we been meeting our obligations to the parents and friends who make it possible for us to be here, in the midst of great advantages? Now is the time to make the most of our opportunities—at the opening of college.

Exceedingly auspicious was the opening of our institution this year, with an enrollment far exceeding that of any previous season, and a Freshman class, which will probably number one hundred, twice as large as any in the past, with the exception of last year. The future is exceedingly bright; it lies with us students to bring about the fulfillment of the glowing promise of an unusually successful year. We come here—or at least we should—to secure training for participation in active life. The harmonious development of the individual is the aim of college, not only mentally and physically, but morally as well. This should be the aim of all education.

If we miss the moral part of the training, we are like a ship without a rudder, of no good to ourselves and a derelict in the path of others. Good discipline and right conduct are necessary everywhere and nowhere more so than in the school. One of the most interesting aspects of the present great European conflict now in progress, aside from the momentous issues involved is the precision and orderliness with which the military machinery of the great powers has been operated. Party spirit and individual difference have been subordinated to national exigency. Unanimous patriotic co-operation for the sake of the nation is the watchword of the day in the various countries involved. Thus the awful war, lamentable though it is, is not without its fruitful lessons.

The year now opening before us here at college demands the co-operation of all of us students in order to make it successful. The President and faculty will do their part—we may be sure of that. It devolves upon us to do ours. Let co-operation be the watchword of our day, our month, our year: co-operation between students and faculty; between students and student council—with the one aim, the general good.

We students have our own representative assembly, the Senior-Junior Council, whom we have chosen to act for us and make certain regulations designed to promote the best interests of the college. Let us be true to our representatives and co-operate heartily with them, and through them with the faculty. Thus, and thus only, can the coming year be made to yield its richest fruits both to ourselves and to the future of our college.

Y. W. C. A.

The first meeting of the Young Women's Christian Association was held in the Ladies' Parlor on Sunday afternoon. The attendance was excellent, nearly all the new girls being present. We were pleased also to have the faculty with us. The subject, "Our Purpose," was discussed by Belle Orris, the President of our association, who dwelt upon what the Y. W. C. A. means. Every organization has a purpose and that of the Christian Association is a noble one. There was special music provided, consisting of a solo, "Crossing the Bar," by Professor Gertrude K. Schmidt, and a quartette consisting of Misses Henry, Cantz, Mutch and Ziegler, who sang "One Sweetly Solemn Thought." The spirit of prayer was manifest at this first meeting and we have great hopes for the good work to be done during the coming year.

Misses Estella Uhrick and Mabel Fluck, of Myerstown, were week-end guests of Miss Mary Basler.

OUTLOOK FOR FOOTBALL SEASON

Continued from page 1

former teams to make a good showing. If we win four of the nine games we shall have done well but we shall not be satisfied with that for we believe we can do better. The coach asks the cooperation of the student body in every way toward making this the banner football season.

CHANGE IN THE FACULTY.

The only change in the college faculty this year is that in the English Department. Miss Doris Long, A. M., formerly of Brooklyn, N. Y., will fill the chair of English, left vacant by the resignation of Miss Falba Love Johnson. Miss Long also succeeds Miss Johnson as Dean of Women at the institution. The new professor comes to us with high qualifications. She prepared for college at Berkeley Institute, Brooklyn. In 1910 she was graduated with honors in English from Barnard College, Columbia University, receiving the degree of A. B. Professor Long received her Master's degree in the departments of English and Economics at Columbia University in 1911. During 1912-1913 she continued the study of Economics and English at Columbia.

Thus far Miss Long has taken all the courses presented for the degree of Ph.D. and has almost completed the other requirements necessary.

It may be of interest to note that the new professor, on her father's side, is descendant from Pennsylvania Germans, originally living in the vicinity of Gettysburg.

RESOLUTION OF THE CLONIAN LITERARY SOCIETY REGARDING THE RECENT DEATH OF E. MAY MEYER

Whereas, it has pleased our Heavenly Father in His wise Providence to remove from us by death our beloved fellow-member and ex-president, E. Mae Meyer,

Be it resolved, That we bow in humble submission to Him who doeth all things well, and that we express our deepest sympathy to the parents and brother in this their time of sadness,

Further, That we keep her in remembrance, always cherishing her faithfulness and willingness to help while in our midst; that, while it is to us a loss, we know that it is for her eternal gain.

Further, be it resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family and placed in the minutes of the Clonian Literary Society of Lebanon Valley College.

FLORENCE C. MENTZ,
HELEN E. ZIEGLER,
MARY A. BERGDOLL.

WM. WALTZ

Hair Cutting and Shaving
Saloon

W. Main St.

Annville, Pa.

D. L. SAYLOR & SONS
CONTRACTORS and BUILDERSDealers in
LUMBER and COAL - ANNVILLE, PA.

CAPS and GOWNS

Faculty Gowns and Hoods. Pulpit and
Choir Gowns.

Judicial Fctes

Best Workmanship
Lowest Prices

COX SONS &amp; VINING

72 Madison Ave., New York

JACOB SARGENT

MERCHANT
TAILOR

READY-TO-WEAR CLOTHING

Main Street

Annville

THE BLAZIER STUDIOPhotographs of Quality
839 Cumberland Street
LEBANON, PA.THE REDPATH BROCKWAY LYCEUM
BUREAU

PITTSBURGH, PENNA.

Furnishes this Winter's Lecture Course for the
Lebanon Valley College

Season Tickets $1.00 Reserved $1.50

RAH! RAH! BOYS EAT
Raw Oysters at "Ussy's"OR EAT 'EM STEWED OR FRIED JUST AS YOU PREFER

A. S. MILLER W. MAIN ST

For Cakes and Confectionery
GO TOBowman's Bakery
A FULL SUPPLY OF HALL'S CHOCO-LATES. ALWAYS FRESH
W. Main St. Annville, Pa.Dr. Harry Zimmerman
DENTIST

W. Main St. Annville, Pa.

ADDRESS BY
DR. SCHMAUK

Continued from page 1

with other personalities. That this is of great benefit to us in after life Dr. Schmauk showed by citing instances. He declared that the attainment of the main purpose of a college education does not depend so much on the information we acquire or on the broadening of one's horizon, but rests on what we ourselves are at graduation. That is the test of its value to us. The development of personality is one of the chief aims—the divine attribute of personality.

The speaker then took up the various elements that combine to form a personality. One of these elements is cogency, driving power, the power to do, the ability to be of service in the world and meet the various situations that may arise in a satisfactory manner. Health is another element necessary. He declared that any one who is not able to take care of oneself physically has not received a truly liberal education.

Enthusiasm is an attribute of personality, according to Dr. Schmauk, that is very necessary. We should cultivate enthusiasm; enthusiasm for our work, enthusiasm for all that is good and noble in life. A serious and exalted purpose also he included in the category of personal elements, declaring that we should be men and women first, and scholars afterward, and that professors could not be expected to make over a student put together without a purpose. Another element of our character worth of our cultivation, he said, is concreteness. "We should find out what we are; magnitude does not always indicate quality." We are each an individuality, not an average, and should strive toward analysis first and synthesis afterward. He said that we are apt to deal too much with generalities, and should cultivate "first of all the concrete and definite element," being constructive and sweetly positive.

"Compass," declared Dr. Schmauk, "is another necessary element in a student's character." We need a wider range of vision; some have too narrow a scale. He said, "Specialization too early in a college career is a mistake." He urged that we strive to acquire ability in handling the colossal and avoid narrowness, which, in a public speaker, is often the cause of tiresomeness. He spoke of the different methods of training in education, naming the genetic as the best.

Control, according to Dr. Schmauk, is a great secret of success in life. In his humorous way he said that a man is like a watermelon; the good part is on the inside. The incomplete control of one's knowledge, clumsiness of intellect, timidity of intellect, ignorance, impulse, and passion he named as among the hindrances to the development of personality. An important element in our development is harmony. We should cultivate the power to move great forces in harmony, and should be in sympathy with Nature in all her moods. We should also be in harmony with human nature, national ideals, social ideals, and spiritual ideals—all of which is necessary to a cultivated person.

The last important element that he named and, as he said, the keynote of them all is ability to follow God's purpose. God gives us the key. The highest ideal of the highly cultivated is liberty to work out God's ideals. Many philosophers in the past have tried to lead the world toward these ideals; but there is only one, namely, Christ, who has combined all the virtues and ideals in himself. The speaker closed his eloquent address with an exhortation to the students to follow Christ as the ideal toward the realization of God's purposes in their lives.

After Dr. Schmauk had finished, Dr. Gossard, the President of the college, made some remarks appropriate to the occasion extending a hearty greeting to students old and new, and expressing his pleasure at the bright prospects for the new year.

SERVICES and CHARGES

Our services are worth more to all applicants than we charge. We earn more than we get.

We do not share our earnings with others. We have no local agents employed to "discuss" the qualifications of our applicants.

School authorities employing teachers through this agency are not open to the suspicion that they are sharing in the earnings of the agency.

Every year there is an increase in the number of applications for teachers coming direct from school authorities, and we are constantly enlarging our facilities.

These environments are appreciated by strong, self-reliant teachers.

THE TEACHERS' AGENCY

R. L. MYERS &amp; CO.

Lemoyne Trust Bldg., Harrisburg, Pa.
Co-operating agencies in Denver and Atlanta.MORRIS GIANDONATO'S
Electric Shoe Shop

Shoes repaired by machinery give better results than hand work.

Shop Work done while you wait.

Satisfaction guaranteed Prices right
STUDENT'S WORK SOLICITEDJOS. MILLER
FURNITURE
and UNDERTAKING

West Main Street Annville, Pa.

Journal Publishing Co.

Printers

Main Street Annville, Pa.

Better work and more of it. That's the policy of this Laundry. If you haven't your name on our list we'd be glad to place it there today. Fine shirt collar and cuff work a specialty here.

Hershey Laundry Co.

C. E. Brenneman Agt.

IT'S LIKE THIS!
GOLLAM'S
FOR YOUR
GOOD EATS

BURDAN'S ICE CREAM

Made in Pottstown and
Lebanon, Pa.

You are correct if you get your

LADIES' and GENTS'
FURNISHINGS

At KINPORTS', Annville, Pa.

Students' Discount. Parkard & American Lady Shoes
Arrow Collars and Shirts

WINDSOR HOTEL

W. T. BRUBAKER, Manager.
European, $1.00 per day and up
American, $2.50 per day and up

Midway between Broad Street
Station and Reading Terminal
on Filbert Street.

The only moderate priced hotel of
reputation and consequence in
PHILADELPHIA

THE COLLEGE BOOK STORE

HEAD QUARTERS FOR STUDENTS' SUPPLIES
PENNANTS BANNERS
CUSHION TOPS NOVELTIES

KODAKS CAMERAS SUPPLIES
DEVELOPING AND PRINTING
CIRCULATING LIBRARY PARKER FOUNTAIN PENS

DAVID B. BASEHORE
SUCCESSOR TO
HARNISH & SMITH

HARLAN P. FRENCH, President

A. B. FRENCH, Vice President

VINCENT B. FISK, Sec'y and Manager

THE ALBANY TEACHERS AGENCY, INC.

KNOWS HOW!

Twenty-four Years of successful experience in bringing together
Good Schools and Good Teachers

Our field: Public and Private schools and colleges; we have filled positions in every State in the Union

Send for Bulletin

81 Chapel Street, Albany, N. Y.

A LETTER FROM DR. WASHINGER

It gives the "News" pleasure to publish the following letter, received too late for publication in the commencement issue last June, from the Superintendent of the Pennsylvania Conference of the United Brethren Church:

"To the Editor of the College News:

"Please allow an old Lebanon Valley College boy to rejoice with his Alma Mater and her friends everywhere on account of the oratorical and athletic victories recently won.

"Lebanon Valley College men everywhere are rejoicing with President Gossard, the faculty, and the boys."

(Signed)

WM. H. WASHINGER,
Class of '91.

Mr. H. E. Snavelly, '14, visited the school on Friday evening.

D. B. SHIFFER

GRADUATE OPTICIAN

Eyes Examined, Glasses Fitted, Broken
Lenses Replaced, anything in
the Optical line

East Main St

ANNVILLE

Lebanon Valley College

First Class Faculty.

Group System.

Special Facilities in Chemistry
and Biology

Music, Art, Oratory.

Ladies in the Hall are under the constant care of the Preceptress.

Write for catalogue

Rev. S. D. Gossard, President
Annville, Pa.

MARSHMALLOW TOAST

On last Wednesday evening the Junior girls gave a "Marshmallow Toast" to the new girls. The purpose of this toast was to make the new girls feel more at home, also to get them better acquainted with the older girls and with each other. The toast was held on the balcony of the girls' dormitory, and all around the balustrade were candles which gave a very beautiful appearance in the darkness of the night. Besides marshmallows the girls were served with cocoa and wafers, after which there were several games played. The party broke up at 9.30, all the girls announcing that they had passed an extremely delightful evening.

The Y. W. C. A. gave an informal tea in Clio Hall to the new girls last Tuesday evening.

SOCIETY PROGRAMS

KALUZETEAN

Oration . . . . . V. W. Jamison
Vocal Duet, H. M. Bender and Marcel Von Bereghy.

Debate:

Resolved, That the present European struggle is unjustifiable.

Affirmative.

Negative.

D. M. Long I. S. Ernst
Reuben Williams Earl Light

Piano Solo . . . L. Clarence Barnet

Examiner . . . . . Editor

Song . . . . . Society

CLIONIAN

Piano Solo . . . . . Edna Spessard
The Need of a Death League in the Girls' Dormitory.

. . . . . Katherine Dasher

Reading . . . . . Kathryn Kreider

Vocal Solo . . . . . Ruth Strickler

"Teaching by the Movies,"

. . . . . Blanche Black

Olive Branch . . . . . Editor

PHILOKOSMIAN.

Resume . . . . . Harry W. Katerman

Debate: Resolved, That the present European War could have been averted.

Affirmative—J. Stewart Innerst, P. J. Bowman.

Negative—C. H. Holtzinger, John O. Jones.

Piano Solo . . . . . A. H. Kleffmar

The Rights and Duties of the United States as a Neutral Nation,

Edwin H. Ziegler

The "Freshies" . . . . . Harold W. Risser

AN INTERESTING REPORT.

Next Sunday at 1.00 p. m. in the Y. M. C. A. meeting, the report of the Y. M. C. A.'s delegates to Eagles Mere Conference will be given by D. J. Evans, Reuben Williams and Edwin Zeigler. All are welcome.

TEACHER IN THE ANNVILLE H. S.

Faber E. Stengle, '15, Business Manager of the College News, has been elected teacher of Physics in the Annville High School.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.

Look at your label. It should be paid up to Sept. 9, 1915. If it does not read this way get in touch with the Business Manager.

COLLEGE NEWS

LEBANON VALLEY COLLEGE

Volume VI, no. 2 Annville, Pa., Tuesday, September 22, 1914

No. 29

Entered as second-class matter November 12, 1910, at the post office at Annville, Pa., under the act of March 3, 1879

RELIGIOUS WORK AT OUR COLLEGE

On leaving home the student bids farewell to many of the good influences that are at work there. He no longer has the example of a Christian father and mother before his eyes. One must now make use of the training one has received up to the time of one's departure for college. Now is the time to practice one's Christianity.

Although a new student is placed in a strange community at Lebanon Valley there is, at least one familiar thing here—that is the Christian religion. As this is a religious institution, one expects to find organizations for furthering the cause of Christ, and is not disappointed. We have the United Brethren church adjoining the edge of the campus. Every one is proud of that church for it is a "thing of beauty" and at the same time has on active, busy group of workers as members. In the Sunday school there are three classes open to students, two for young men and one for the young women and two of these classes, consisting of that for the young women and one of those for the young men, are under the auspices of the Christian Associations.

These are Bible Study classes taking up a course in Bible Study chosen by the Christian Associations and taught respectively by Prof. S. O. Grimm and Prof. S. H. Derickson. Prof. H. H. Shenk teaches the International Sunday school lessons to the other class. Many of the students are members of the Christian Endeavor Society also and are of great assistance in that work.

Within the college are the Christian Association in co-operation with the church at large. They hold religious meetings every Sunday afternoon. These meetings are led generally by the students, and, sometimes by the faculty. Every one is given an opportunity to take part.

On Tuesday evening there is a students' prayermeeting held in the library. This is held under the joint auspices of the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. Here again is a place

Continued on page 2

JUNIOR CLASS CORN ROAST

Last Wednesday evening at about seven o'clock thirty members of the class of 1916, with Professor Schmidt as chaperone, left the campus for a two mile hike to the home of one of their number, Miss Ruth Gingrich. It was a beautiful starlit, night, and gave ample opportunity to the class "astronomers" for a study of the celestial sphere. They made such good use of the opportunity that they were left far behind the rest of the party and nearly lost their way.

As they neared their destination, the young people were greeted by the genial light of the Japanese lanterns which Miss Gingrich had placed on the porch of her home. A bonfire had been kindled in the orchard, and the young men and women enjoyed the novelty of toasting marshmallows in the flames and of eating the corn which they roasted in the coals. A large table placed near the fire was laden with luscious peaches, apples, pears, and grapes and with milk and raspberryade all of which Mr. and Mrs. Gingrich provided in great abundance.

When the young people had more than satisfied their appetites they amused themselves for awhile by singing and giving class yells. At about 9.15, after all individually and collectively had thanked their host and hostesses for their kind hospitality, they left for home.

The only mishaps of the occasion were that Miss Beaverson got too near the bon-fire and burned a hole in her dress. Mr. Curry lost his heel and Miss Schmidt and Mr. Curry couldn't agree as to Germany's justification for entering the European war.

Everyone thoroughly enjoyed the good fellowship, the kind hospitality, the splendid exercise, the delicious refreshments and everything which helped to make the Junior Corn Roast one of the most successful social events in the history of the class. All of the members of the class appreciated the presence of Professor Schmidt and Miss Josephine Urich, who were their guests on this occasion.

FOOTBALL SQUAD MAKES PROGRESS

Since issuing of last week's edition of the "News," football at Lebanon Valley has taken on quite a typical and realistic appearance. From the rudimentary stages of falling on the ball, passing and punting, the practice has advanced to the scrimmage and signal practice stages. As a result we have been able to get a better glance at the work of the new material. The fight for positions on the first string has begun in earnest, and, judging from appearances, Coach Guyer will have to decide the most perplexing problem of this kind ever presented in Lebanon Valley football. Unfortunately, it seems that injuries are to have some effect upon the line-up for the opening of the season.

Several thus far have received hurts but it is expected that all will soon be in shape again with the exception of E. R. Snavelly, of last year's varsity, who has a badly sprained ankle.

Among the new men Keating continues to exhibit cleverness in open field running and his placement kicking shows great promise. Jaeger shows great speed and, as he is also heavy, he should prove to be a valuable back field man. Bechtel and Atticks are making a strong fight for tackle positions. Both are of splendid physique and have "prep" school reputations which, as they are proceeding to show, are well earned. Ross Swartz, who last year was a substitute largely due to the fact that he was inexperienced in the game, this season is showing real ability. He has speed, can handle the ball well, and displays fine judgment. With his last year's experience he will probably make a "game fight" for a regular position. Other new men are also showing considerable ability, and last year's varsity men will have to make strenuous efforts to hold their positions.

At present the coach is drilling the team upon the plays which will be used in the Indian game, which will take place on Wednesday of this week. Quite a versatile attack is already being prepared and the team is far in advance of our former

Continued on page 2

College News

Issued weekly during the College Year by the Students of Lebanon Valley College

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF
FRANK M. VAN SCHAAK '15
ASSOCIATE EDITORS
FLORENCE MENTZ '15
S. HUBER HEINTZELMAN '16

Social
M. BELLE ORRIS '15

Athletics
PHILO STATTON '15

Alumni
MASON LONG '16

Music
RAY P. CAMPBELL '16
BUSINESS MANAGER
FABER E. STENGLE '15

Subscription Price $1.00 per year
Single Copies 5 cts.
Clubs of ten, 75 cts.

Address all business communications to FABER E. STENGLE '15 all other matter to Room 22, Administration Building Lebanon Valley College, Annville, Pa.

EDITORIAL

As intimated in the report of Dr. Schmauk's address in last week's issue, we are passing through a period of extreme specialization. This idea has been so much emphasized of late that the youth of our land have been commencing to specialize while yet quite young, with the result that we now have many learned authorities in the numerous fields of modern scientific research.

But a new era of learning is approaching. It is observed that in many instances these specialists in their professions are practically lost when taken out of their sphere of work. They are strangers to the world in general. After leaving the High school—and some even while still there—these men began studying along those lines which would fit them for one end—be it electrical or civil engineering, higher mathematics, or any other special line of work. There is now, however, a growing belief that one should not only be able to converse on one subject but that he should possess a wider knowledge of other fields of activity.

The growing increase in college attendance is an indication that parents desire their children to have a broader education than has been the rule in the past before they begin the more intensive study which will fit them for their vocation. At Lebanon Valley a deeper interest is this year being taken in the different languages than heretofore. A large percentage of the one hundred Freshmen at our Alma Mater have enrolled in the classical course; this seems to indicate that they desire a knowledge of the Greek and Latin languages, which contain the history of those nations which have contributed so much to the culture of the world. Thus the ideal of the broader more harmonious development of the individual gives promise of attaining fuller realization in the future.

RELIGIOUS WORK AT OUR COLLEGE

Continued from page 1

for the student to go and commune with others and with God. The Christian Associations stand for the highest ideal in college life. They need the active support of every student; in return for which great and lasting benefits may be received.

Parents need have no fear in sending their sons and daughters to Lebanon Valley on the grounds that they will lose the good influences of a Christian atmosphere; for here faculty and students are actively engaged in furthering a spirit of earnestness and lofty purpose and we feel that they are succeeding abundantly.

Y. W. C. A.

A very interesting and helpful meeting was held in the Ladies' Parlor on Sunday afternoon. The leader of the meeting was Miss Larene Engle. Her topic was "Patches." Miss Miriam Oyer sang a very beautiful solo. These meetings are very helpful to the dormitory girls and we hope they will all endeavor to be present every Sunday. We urge the attendance of the town students also.

Y. M. C. A.

Sunday afternoon the Young Men's Christian Association meeting was conducted by David J. Evans, Reuben W. Williams and Edwin H. Zeigler, our representatives to the Eagles Mere Summer Conference. They spoke of the pleasure gained from the sports, the helpful associations with great, broad-minded men; and gave an enthusiastic account of the spiritual side of the conference. Our delegates have come back to our branch of the Y. M. C. A. work more determined than ever to do their utmost in getting others to catch that spirit of service which was the keynote of the addresses made at Eagles Mere.

Mr. David E. Young, who will be graduated with the 1915 class, left last Tuesday for Dayton, Ohio, where he will attend Bonebrake Theological Seminary.

FOOTBALL SQUAD MAKES PROGRESS

Continued from page 1

teams at this time of the year.

Of course we shall be in need of extraordinary strength, in order to make a successful record this season. A full schedule with first class college teams has been arranged. This year the home supporters will be able to see four of what promises to be our closest games. Western Maryland, Susquehanna, Washington, and Indian Reserves will appear on our field; this is a considerable improvement over the usual home schedule including teams in the class of the Penbrook A. C. and the Philadelphia Business College.

It is only fair, therefore, that the extraordinary efforts of the athletic authorities be rewarded by a corresponding increase in the support accorded the team, regardless of the outcome of the games in the matter of scores. Give your players something to fight for by demonstrating to them that you, as well as they are concerned in the success of their efforts. Only thus can we expect the results that should follow.

CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC.

The music department of the college has this year started out with a number on its enrollment which surpasses that of any former year. Most of the old students have returned, many new ones have come in, and these, together with the number that will still enroll, give promise of a very successful year for the Conservatory of Music.

Mr. J. Fred Arnold, Conservatory, '14, was a visitor at the college for several days at the opening of school.

Miss Mary Light, '14, is teaching in Annville and Lebanon, and continuing her work on the organ at the Conservatory.

Mrs. W. K. Pray, of Hastings-on-the-Hudson, N. Y., was the week-end guest of Professor Gertrude K. Schmidt.

Miss Mary Painter, '14, is teaching piano at her home in Hershey.

CHAFING DISH PARTY.

As the clock was slowly tolling out the hour of seven last Saturday evening, a group of Lebanon Valley girls directed their footsteps to room sixteen. Here the chafing dish and tea pot were in readiness, and, before many minutes had passed, were in full operation. Although it took the fudge a couple of hours to cook, it was all the more appreciated after the delay. The refreshments included sandwiches, cakes, crackers, and chocolate. A part of the evening was spent in singing songs and in giving the good old college yells. The playing of games also contributed to the evening's enjoyment.

COLLEGE NEWS

CLIONIAN.

Vocal Duet,
Pauline Clark and Vera Myers
"The Chautauqua of Today,"
Florence Mentz
"Advice to the Freshies," Viola Gruber
Piano Solo.....Mary Wyand
Current Events.....Margaret Myers

PHILOKOSMIAN.

Current Events....Evan C. Brunner Debate:
Resolved, That William Draper
Lewis by Withdrawing from the Gubernatorial contest has Aided the Republican Party."
Affirmative—Harry S. Dando R. W.
Stickel.
Negative—J. Paul Hummel, Clyde A.
Lynch, George A. DeHuff.
The Railroad Conquest of Africa,
Joseph Donahue
Contest in Description . Conrad K.
Curry, Lester F. Snyder, Robert E.
Hartz.
Living Thoughts .....Editor

KALOZETEAN.

Current Events—Leroy O. Umberger.
Piano Solo—Willis McNeely.
European War Summary—Joseph
K. Hollinger.
Oration—Ralph E. Crabill.
The Future of American Trade—
Ira Clyde Eby.
Chalk Talk—John Morrison.
Song—Society.
Adam R. Forney, '72, died Saturday, September 12, at the Good Samaritan Hospital, Lebanon, and was buried on Tuesday, September 15, at Annville.
Mr. W. E. Herr, '07, has returned to Norfolk, Virginia, after spending some time with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Herr. Mr. Herr is special secretary of the Navy Y. M. C.
A. at Norfolk.

STAR COURSE DATES.

The Star Course Committee announces the following attractions for the coming year:
October 24, The Cathedral Choir.
November 9, Marjory Lacey.
November 23, Lee Francis Lybarger.
January 22, Dr. John Merritte Driver.
April 13, Recital Artists.

NEW BULLETIN BOARD.

The "News" takes pleasure in expressing its appreciation of the action taken by the class of 1916 which has placed a new bulletin board in the arch of the Men's Dormitory.
This bulletin board replaces the old one which was in such a condition as no longer to be of use and was consequently removed.

Mr. W. J. Basler, Jr., a student at the Medico-Chiurgical College, Philadelphia, visited his sister, Miss Mary Basler, last Wednesday.

ORATORY STUDENTS ORGANIZE.

The senior class of the department of Oratory has organized. The following are the class officers who were elected: President, Verling W. Jamison; Secretary, Anna Dubble; Treasurer, Josephine Ulrich; Poet, Elta Weaver.

Miss Verda A. Snyder, a graduate in the department of Oratory 1911, recently spent a few days in Annville visiting old friends.

THE BLAZIER STUDIO

Photographs of Quality
839 Cumberland Street
LEBANON, PA.

WM. WALTZ

Hair Cutting and Shaving
Saloon

W. Main St. - Annville, Pa.

D. L. SAYLOR & SONS

CONTRACTORS and BUILDERS
Dealers in
LUMBER and COAL - ANNVILLE, PA.

JACOB SARGENT

READY-TO-WEAR CLOTHING
Main Street

MERCHANT TAILOR

Annville

THE COLLEGE BOOK STORE

HEADQUARTERS FOR STUDENTS' SUPPLIES
PENNANTS BANNERS
CUSHION TOPS NOVEL TIES
KODAKS, CAMERAS, SUPPLIES
DEVELOPING AND PRINTING
CIRCULATING LIBRARY PARKER FOUNTAIN PENS
DAVID B. BASEHORE
SUCCESSOR TO
HARNISH & SMITH

HARLAN P. FRENCH, President

A. B. FRENCH, Vice President

VINCENT B. FISK, Sec'y and Manager

THE ALBANY TEACHERS AGENCY, INC.

KNOWS HOW!

Twenty-four Years of successful experience in bringing together

Good Schools and Good Teachers

Our field: Public and Private schools and colleges; we have filled positions in every State in the Union

Send for Bulletin

81 Chapel Street, Albany, N. Y.

Better work and more of it. That's the policy of this Laundry. If you haven't your name on our list we'd be glad to place it there today. Fine shirt collar and cuff work a specialty here.

Hershey Laundry Co.

C. E. Brennehan Agt.

Dr. Harry Zimmerman DENTIST

W. Main St. - Annville, Pa.

THE

REDPATH BROCKWAY LYCEUM BUREAU

PITTSBURGH, PENNA.

Furnishes this Winter's Lecture Course for the
Lebanon Valley College

Season Tickets $1.00 Reserved $1.50

CAPS and GOWNS

Faculty Gowns and Hoods. Pulpit and
Choir Gowns.
Judicial Robes

Best Workmanship
Lowest Prices

COX SONS & VINING

72 Madison Ave., New York

COLLEGE NEWS

BURDAN'S ICE CREAM

Made in Pottstown and
Lebanon, Pa.

Quality and Satisfaction

combined makes clear the reason why

Spalding's

are outfitters to champions, whose implements must be invariably right.

The Spaulding Trade-Mark represents
years of leadership in the manufacture of athletic equipment. Write for free illustrated catalogue.

A. G. SPALDING & BROS.

26-128 Nassau St. 520 Fifth Ave. NEW YORK

SERVICES and CHARGES

Our services are worth more to all applicants than we charge. We earn
more than we get.

We do not share our earnings with others. We have no local agents employed to "discuss" the qualifications
of our applicants.

School authorities employing teachers through this agency are not open to the suspicion that they are sharing in
the earnings of the agency.

Every year there is an increase in the number of applications for teachers
coming direct from school authorities,
and we are constantly enlarging our
facilities.

These environments are appreciated
by strong, self-reliant teachers.

THE TEACHERS' AGENCY

R. L. MYERS & CO.

Lemoyne Trust Bldg., Harrisburg, Pa.
Co-operating agencies in Denver and Atlanta.

MORRIS GIANDONATO'S Electric Shoe Shop

Shoes repaired by machinery give better
results than hand work.

Shop Work done while you wait.

Satisfaction guaranteed Prices right
STUDENT'S WORK SOLICITED

JOS. MILLER FURNITURE and UNDERTAKING

West Main Street Annville, Pa.

Journal Publishing Co. Printers

Main Street Annville, Pa.

1914 FOOT BALL SCHEDULE

Sept. 23, L. V. vs. Indians at Carlisle.

Oct. 3, L. V., vs. Indian Reserves at Annville.

Oct. 10, L. V. vs. F. & M. at Lancaster.

Oct. 17, L. V. vs. Western Maryland at Annville.

Oct. 24, L. V. vs. Gettysburg at Gettysburg.

Oct. 31, L. V. vs. Washington College at Annville.

Nov. 7, L. V. vs. Susquehanna
University at Annville.

Nov. 14, L. V. vs. Muhlenberg at Allentown.

Nov. 26, L. V. vs. Catholic University at Washington, D. C.

NOTES OF INTEREST.

On June twenty-fourth last, in Kalo Hall, Engle Conservatory of Music, Miss Irene E. Buffington, of Harrisburg, and Frank Shearer, of the class of 1915, were united in marriage by the Reverend D. E.
Young. The wedding, a quiet affair, was followed by a dinner given in honor of bride and groom by Mrs.
Zerby, of Annville.

On June thirtieth, in the State Street United Brethren Church, Harrisburg, Miss Edith Basehore and Clyde Lynch, '17, both of Harrisburg, were united in marriage by the Rev. E. A. G. Bossler, assisted by the Rev. E. N. Seldomridge.

ALUMNI

Mr. E. K. Boughter, '13, who spent a few days at Lebanon Valley, has returned to Syracuse, N. Y. This is the second year for Mr. Boughter at this place.

Mr. G. A. Richie, '13, formerly assistant to Doctor Burrell, of the Marble Collegiate Church, New York City, who was here visiting friends after the opening of college, has gone to take up work at Bonebrake Theological Seminary, Dayton, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Clair Harnish, both graduates of the class of 1911, attended the recent students' reception.
Their home is at Mechanicsburg, Pa.

Among other alumni who have been renewing old friendships at their Alma Mater recently are Messrs. Paul Strickler, '14; Carl F.
Schmidt, '14; D. Ellis Zimmerman,
'14; J. Allen Walters, '14; Roger Saylor, '11, and John Lehman, '11.

Among recent visitors at college were Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hambricht, of the classes of 1906 and 1908, respectively. Mr. Hambricht, who was formerly supervising principal at Englestown, New Jersey, is now supervising principal at Bergenfield, N.
J. This new position brings with it an increase of salary and opportunity.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Hertzler, of Manheim, motored to Annville recently.

IT'S LIKE THIS!
GOLLAM'S
FOR YOUR
GOOD EATS

Theatrical Costumes
Academic Caps and Gowns
ON A RENTAL BASIS

WAAS & SON, Philadelphia

You are correct if you get your
LADIES' and GENTS'
FURNISHINGS
At KINPORTS', Annville, Pa.
Students' Discount. Packard & American Lady Shoes
Arrow Collars and Shirts

D. B. SHIFFER
GRADUATE OPTICIAN
Eyes Examined, Glasses Fitted, Broken
Lenses Replaced, anything in
the Optical line
East Main St ANNVILLE

Lebanon Valley
College

*First Class Faculty.
Group System.
Special Facilities in Chemistry
and Biology
Music, Art, Oratory*

Ladies in the Hall are under the constant care of the Preceptress.

*Write for catalogue
Rev. S. D. Sossard, President
Annville, Pa.*

WINDSOR HOTEL

W. T. BRUBAKER, Manager.

European, $1.00 per day and up
American, $2.50 per day and up

Midway between Broad Street
Station and Reading Terminal
on Filbert Street.

The only moderate priced hotel of
reputation and consequence in
PHILADELPHIA

COLLEGE NEWS

LEBANON VALLEY COLLEGE

Volume V.

Annville, Pa., Tuesday, September 29, 1914

No. 30

Entered as second-class matter November 12, 1910, at the post office at Annville, Pa., under the act of March 3, 1879

U. B. CONFERENCE MEETS THIS WEEK

The ministers of the East Pennsylvania Conference of the United Brethren Church will convene this week in the Second United Brethren Church, corner of Fifty-ninth and Catherine streets, West Philadelphia. The opening sermon will be preached by Bishop Weekly Tuesday evening. The business session will commence at nine o'clock, Wednesday morning.

Thursday will be College Day. Lebanon Valley will be represented by our President, Dr. George D. Gossard, and Faber E. Stengle, '15, Business Manager of the College News. Dr. Gossard will address the Conference in the interest of the College, telling of the great advance the institution has made in the last few years and urging increased support of the movement to raise our endowment fund. Mr. Stengle will represent the College News and will endeavor to secure subscriptions from the various ministers and laymen present at the conference.

Among those of our students who will be in attendance will be John O. Jones, Charles H. Holtzinger, Harry E. Schaeffer, John E. Morrison, Clyde A. Lynch, and C. R. Longenecker. Professor A. E. Shroyer, who served the Annville congregation so acceptably the past year, will also be at the conference.

Y. W. C. A.

The leaders of the meeting were Misses Florence Mentz and Helen Ziegler. They gave a very interesting account of the Eagles Mere Conference. One of the most helpful things brought back with them was an account of Dr. Hutchins' lecture on Prayer. In part he said:

"Would your dearest friend give her best gifts to you if you did not thank her for what she has already given you? Would she reveal her most precious thoughts if you only talked to her once a day and talked about three minutes mumbling the same thing over each time half asleep?"

RUTH HERSHEY BECOMES BRIDE OF MR. BEDDOE.

The marriage of Miss Ruth Mary Hershey, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. M. L. Hershey, of Hershey, to Thomas E. Beddoe, of Chicago, was the happy culmination of a college romance that had its inception when the bride and bridegroom were attending L. V. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Beddoe will reside at 224 Clinton avenue, Oak Park, Chicago.

WHAT THE CLASS OF 1914 IS DOING

The careers of our former classmates, the class of 1914, we shall follow with interest as the years roll on. The present activities of the individual members of the class are as follows:

Charles H. Arndt is assistant in the Laboratory at Perdue University. He is also working for his A. M. degree.

Catherine B. Bachman has left for Omaha, Neb., where she will spend some time with her relatives, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Bachman.

Harry H. Charlton is assistant in Biology at Yale University and is taking work there for his M. A. degree.

L. B. Harnish is dealing in Real Estate at Scranton, Pa.

V. M. Heffelfinger is at home, but expects to leave soon to take a banking position in the southern part of the state.

Edgar M. Landis is principal of school at Fredericksburg, Pa.

Thomas B. Lyter is working for the International Correspondence Schools at Reading, Pa.

John B. Lyter is head of a department at the United Brethren Publishing House, Dayton, Ohio.

C. Edward Mutch is teaching Biology at Brockwayville, Pa.

Howard L. Olewiler is taking a course in Theology at Princeton Seminary.

D. Leonard Reddick will enter the ministry. He will receive an appointment at the coming conference.

Blanche M. Risser is assistant principal and instructor in Latin and German at the high school at Susquehanna, Pa.

Lester A. Rodes is teaching at Moccetown, N. J.

Carl F. Schmidt will take a medical course at the University of Pennsylvania.

Edward H. Smith is taking a course at the Dickinson Law school, Carlisle, Pa.

H. E. Snavelly is teaching history and physics at the Myerstown high school.

Martha E. Snyder is assistant principal in a college at Pittsburgh, Pa.

Continued on page 4

DR. GOSSARD AT OBERLIN

Dr. Gossard made the principal address at the Rally Day services in the U. B. Church, Oberlin, on Sunday. His subject, "Christian Growth," was very ably discussed. Our President made a very favorable impression upon his audience.

GREAT GAME AT CARLISLE

The college football season of 1914, although scarcely opened, has nevertheless provided one of the real surprises of recent seasons. In the remarkable game which Lebanon Valley played against the Indians at Carlisle last Wednesday, all previous records of small schools upon the Indian field were shattered, and although defeated, our men can claim a great triumph for themselves and for the athletic system of the institution. The score, 7 to 0, does not tell the whole story, nor is a description of the game itself all sufficient, for many details that should add credit to our Alma Mater are found in the extraordinary rooting and encouragement accorded the team by its supporters.

The departure of the men on the morning train was marked by probably the most rousing send-off ever given a Lebanon Valley team. Perhaps even more significant was the demonstration in Carlisle. Prior to the game over a hundred followers of the "white and blue" led by cheer leader Evans, marched upon the enemy's field and opened a volley of cheers which rivalled that of the Indian supporters themselves. The air of confident expectancy on the Lebanon Valley side was plainly apparent to all, and the Dickinson men, who were present in force, seemed to be especially annoyed by the evident presumptuousness of the visitors. Indeed such a display on the Carlisle field where representatives from many schools are always to be found, was one that should do much to strengthen the position Lebanon Valley holds in college circles.

The game was opened promptly, and from the moment that Wheelock kicked off to his former "pals," to the final and long overdue concluding whistle from the time keeper, the contest was hard-fought and gruelling. We quote the statements of prominent sporting writers in Harrieburg and New York papers, when we say that our men actually outplayed their opponents. It was to be expected that the Indians having had an earlier start with their training, would be in condition to wear down our men by sheer staying power. But in only two short stages of the game did this appear to be the case. This was only after the time-keeper had prolonged the third quarter by neglecting to notify the teams at the proper time. It resulted in the Indians' being able to score their solitary touchdown.

Continued on page 2

College News

Issued weekly during the College Year by the Students of Lebanon Valley College

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF
FRANK M. VAN SCHAAK '15
ASSOCIATE EDITORS
FLORENCE MENTZ '15
S. HUBER HEINTZELMAN '16

Social
M. BELLE ORRIS '15

Athletics
PHILO STATTON '15

Alumni
MASON LONG '16

Music
RAY P. CAMPBELL '16
BUSINESS MANAGER
FABER E. STENGLE '15

Subscription Price $1.00 per year
Single Copies 5 cts.
Clubs of ten, 75 cts.

Address all business communications to FABER E. STENGLE '15 all other matter to Room 22, Administration Building Lebanon Valley College, Annville, Pa.

EDITORIAL.

Just as nations are distinguished from one another by their customs so are colleges also. Some are common to all colleges; while each school has its own peculiar traditions; and "lest we forget" we shall call to mind some of the general and some of the peculiar customs at Lebanon Valley.

It is customary at all schools to give Seniors the preference. Respect them and some day you yourself will be a Senior when your turn will come also.

The Freshmen can be readily distinguished by their green caps and their distance from the fair sex. This, too, is a custom everywhere observed, a relic of ancient times.

Underclassmen will be gently reminded that they may not walk on the grass or be seen smoking a pipe. Freshmen and "Preps" can work off their surplus energy by working on the athletic field, carrying suit cases and making themselves useful rather than ornamental. Let the girls be the ornaments. "Whatever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might." Be a Freshman first; then you will be a better upper classman, is the advice generally given.

Another custom is to speak in whispers of the Death League. Do not breathe your suspicions as to who is the High Cockalorum. Respect with due awe the Senior-Junior Council, which has authority below only that of the faculty.

The students usually sing and give yells at our games and on special occasions. Therefore it is well to learn the Lebanon Valley songs and yells by heart.

In the dining hall it is customary to serve the ladies first and to let them pass out from the tables first. Do not forget your manners.

It is also a custom for Freshmen and Sophomores to have plenty of class spirit and to show it by good, clean, inter-class sports—such as the tug-of-war, the football game, the basketball and baseball games. The Juniors give a play each year and issue a Bazaar; while the Seniors arrange for the annual banquet.

At the close of the New Students' Reception the classes give their yells; but the under classmen wait for the Seniors and Juniors to begin.

With these, a few of the customs, before us as a gentle reminder, let us endeavor to keep them, and pass them on to the next class next year.

GREAT GAME AT CARLISLE

Continued from page 1

At the very opening of the game the wonderful defense of Lebanon Valley forced the play into the enemy's territory. But in the second quarter occurred a play which should have won for us at least a tie score: Hollinger, substituting for DeHuff opened his operations by breaking through the hostile line and picking up a fumble thus giving L. V. the ball on the Indians' thirty yard line. In three rushes L. V. could advance the ball only five yards and Keating dropped back for a placement kick. The kick was blocked, but Lerew, recovering the ball, made a sensational dash up the side of the field to the one yard line. With the ball so close,—one yard to gain in four dashes—a score for Lebanon Valley seemed inevitable, but here the officials robbed us of our golden opportunity by ruling that Lerew had passed out of bounds; so the ball was returned twenty-five yards toward our goal. Another attempt at a field goal was made without results.

It may be added that three times our warriors were in position to attempt field goals while only once did the Indian eleven get within striking distance of our line. The lone exception was the one which resulted in the tally. This followed the long drawn-out third quarter in which the endurance of our men was taxed to the utmost and several substitutes had been put in the places of regulars. Even under these circumstances the score might have been different had the team not suffered the loss of Snavelly, who received an injury to his shoulder in the initial play of the game, which made it necessary for him to retire at the end of the first period.

The work of our linemen was superb on defence. Besides having weight, they showed endurance, and extraordinary speed and action. Our back-field, particularly before the loss of Snavelly, showed unusual weight and all through the game gave proof of their speed and energy. Time after time plays were smashed far behind the Indian line while at other times our backs showed their ability to carry the ball against even such a team as the Indians. Wheelock shone on the offensive. Several times he threatened to break clear of the Indian defence. Lerew also did excellent work and Jaeger was continually prominent. Of the new men Bechtel's work was especially gratifying to the coach while Atticks at tackle worked splendidly. Of course too much can not be said of each individual member of the team, for every player proved worthy. With such excellent material, lovers of Lebanon Valley may well hope for a banner season.

THE SOPHOMORE PARTY.

Last Thursday evening, about seven o'clock, the Freshmen began to realize that something unusual was taking place among their Sophomore "friends."

The Sophomore girls, however, had succeeded in getting away before this time; but the boys were not so successful. As soon as the Freshman girls knew what was happening, they notified the other half of the Freshman class. A few minutes afterwards a college yell, followed by the call, Freshmen! Freshmen! disturbed the usual tranquility of the study hour. The reason for this was that the Freshmen had caught and tied up several of the "Sophs" and thus kept them from enjoying the pleasures they had so much anticipated.

In spite of all obstacles, the greater part of the Sophomore class arrived at their destination, which was the home of Miss Margaret Miller, of Lebanon. The party was held in honor of Miss Mabel Snyder, one of their former class-mates, who leaves this week for Philadelphia to study to become a trained nurse. The features of the evening were music and many interesting games. From all reports a very enjoyable evening was spent.

But the "Sophs" were not the only ones who were enjoying themselves. The Freshmen girls thought that during the Sophomore's absence it would be well for them to "fix up" the "Soph's" rooms. This they did by piling things in general in the middle of the floor and against the doors, and putting their posters in place of those of their opponents.

All was then quiet for the rest of the evening, but, when the "Sophs" returned the next morning, they were very much exercised over the change which had taken place in their rooms during their absence. They did not seem to appreciate at all the hard work the Freshmen had done for them. A council was held and was declared on the Freshmen. After a few small skirmishes fought on Sophomore ground, in which the Freshmen were at the disadvantage, because they were in strange territory, a peace or, perhaps better, a short truce was declared, between the two classes, which at the present writing still continues.

FIRST MEETING OF THE MATH ROUND TABLE

The first meeting of that popular organization, The Mathematical Round Table, which in past years has figured so prominently in college life, will be held Wednesday, September 30, at 7.00 p. m., in Professor Lehman's recitation room. All students interested in this science so fascinating to many are cordially invited to attend.

The following program will be given:

Mathematical Clubs,
..... Edwin H. Ziegler
The Teaching of Geometry,
..... Florence Mentz
The Finite and Infinite Numbers,
..... J. W. Lerew

Katherine Harris, '18, spent the week-end at her home in Harrisburg, accompanied by Flora Case, '18.

CLIONIAN.

Owing to the postponement of the program for last Friday on account of initiation of new members, the one which was to have been given at that time will be given this week.

PHILOKOSMIAN.

Progress of the War,

..... J. Arthur Wisner
The New Pope . . . Paul Witmeyer
Debate—Resolved, That the Requirement of College Entrance Examinations is Unjust to the Prospective Student.

Affirmative.

Negative.

Carl G. Snively J. F. Shenberger
Paul S. Wagner John H. Ness
Piano Solo . . . . . Walter Deibler
The Balkans . . . . . Geo. D. DeHuff
Visitors Welcome.

KALOZETEAN

Address.....Mr. A. K. Mills
Piano Duet, by P. M. Leinbauch and L. C. Barnette.

Reading.....Verling Jamison
Quartette, H. M. Bender, Marcel VonBereghy, Paul Strickler, and John Long.

From A to G.....Earl Eichelberger
Piano Solo.....Faber Stengle
Examiner ..... Editor
Chorus ..... Society
Visitors Welcome.

MEETING OF OLD LEBANON VALLEY BOYS.

A very pleasant meeting of two L. V. C. alumni occurred last week on the plains of the Middle West at Ames, Iowa, when W. O. Ellis, '11, and George A. Williams, '13, greeted each other after a lapse of over two years, and enjoyed several talks about the good times spent together at their Alma Mater. Mr. Williams had just arrived to resume his work as instructor in the Zoology Department of Iowa State College; Mr. Ellis was engaged in experimental work for the Entomological Section at Ames this Summer. He left recently for Cornell University, where he will study for a doctor's degree in entomology.

SATURDAY'S FOOTBALL GAME.

In the game against Penbrook A. C. last Saturday, the Lebanon Valley Reserves gave a demonstration of skill and ability which, considering past Reserve Teams, was truly wonderful. Throughout the entire game they played good, consistent football, and even at times approached the spectacular.

The game began with the Reserves heavily outweighed, but determined to overcome this handicap by snap and science. The first rush demonstrated that they would be at least able to hold their own.

In the two or three downs which followed they showed up stronger and stronger, and then took up their steady march toward the opponents' goal line.

After the first touchdown L. V. seemed to have things pretty much its own way until Penbrook, by a clever double pass, managed to get the ball within striking distance of the Lebanon Valley line, and after two hard fought rushes made their only touchdown of the game and kicked the goal.

The remainder of the game, however proved that this was only a momentary spurt by Penbrook, and the Reserves again took up their rushes to the enemies lines, until the score stood 26 to 7, when F. B. Snively made a clean goal from a drop kick on the thirty yard line, leaving the final score, Lebanon Valley, 29; Penbrook, 7.

Of the old men, Evans with his fleetness and Rupp and Wenrick with their steady hard plugging deserve special mention; among the recruits, F. Snively, Race and Walters also did good work.

Ruth Heffelman, '17, spent Sunday in Campbelltown as a guest of Viola Gruber, '16.

Mr. E. H. Davis, of Ebensburg, Pa., spent Friday at the college with his daughter, Dorothy Davis, '18.

Arita Snyder, '18, has been confined to her room on account of a nervous break-down.

Better work and more of it. That's the policy of his Laundry. If you haven't your name on our list we'd be glad to place it there today. Fine shirt collar and cuff work a specialty here.

Hershey Laundry Co.

C. E. Brenneman Agt.

Dr. Harry Zimmerman

DENTIST

W. Main St. - Annville, Pa.

THE

REDPATH BROCKWAY LYCEUM BUREAU

PITTSBURGH, PENNA.

Furnishes this Winter's Lecture Course for the Lebanon Valley College

Season Tickets $1.00 Reserved $1.50

GAPS and GOWNS

Faculty Gowns and Hoods. Pulpit and Choir Gowns.

Judicial Robes

Best Workmanship
Lowest Prices

COX SONS & VINING

72 Madison Ave., New York

THE

BLAZIER STUDIO

Photographs of Quality
839 Cumberland Street
LEBANON, PA.

WM. WALTZ

Hair Cutting and Shaving
Saloon

W. Main St. Annville, Pa.

Wright & Ditson

Manufacturers and Dealers in

HIGH GRADE
ATHLETIC SUPPLIES

FOOTBALL, BASKETBALL,
ICE SKATES, HOCKEY,
GOLF, GYMNASIUM
APPARATUS

UNIFORMS for all Athletic Sports.
OFFICIAL IMPLEMENTS for all Track and Field Sports.
Wright & Ditson SWEATERS are easily the finest
Choice Worsted, well made, perfect fitting.
Catalogue free.

WRIGHT & DITSON

344 Washington St., Boston. 22 Warren St., New York. 16 So. LaSalle St., Chicago. Harvard Square, Cambridge. 82 Waybosset St., Providence. 391 Main St., Worcester. 359 Market St., San Francisco

JACOB SARGENT

MERCHANT TAILOR

READY-TO-WEAR CLOTHING
Main Street Annville

THE COLLEGE BOOK STORE

HEADQUARTERS FOR STUDENTS' SUPPLIES

PENNANTS

CUSHION TOPS

BANNERS

NOVELTIES

KODAKS, CAMERAS, SUPPLIES

DEVELOPING AND PRINTING

CIRCULATING LIBRARY

PARKER FOUNTAIN PENS

DAVID B. BASEHORE

SUCCESSOR TO

HARNISH & SMITH

HARLAN P. FRENCH, President

A. B. FRENCH, Vice President

VINCENT B. FISK, Sec'y and Manager

THE ALBANY TEACHERS AGENCY, INC.

KNOWS HOW!

Twenty-four Years of successful experience in bringing together

Good Schools and Good Teachers

Our field: Public and Private schools and colleges; we have filled positions in every State in the Union

Send for Bulletin

81 Chapel Street, Albany, N. Y.

BURDAN'S ICE CREAM

Made in Pottstown and
Lebanon, Pa.

Quality and Satisfaction

combined makes clear the
reason why

Spalding's

are outfitters to champions, whose implements must be invari-
ably right.

The Spaulding Trade-Mark represents
years of leadership in the manufacture of athletic equipment. Write for free illustrated catalogue.

A. G. SPALDING & BROS.

26-128 Nassau St. 520 Fifth Ave. NEW YORK

SERVICES and CHARGES

Our services are worth more to all applicants than we charge. We earn
more than we get.

We do not share our earnings with others. We have no local agents employed to "discuss" the qualifications
of our applicants.

School authorities employing teachers through this agency are not open to
the suspicion that they are sharing in
the earnings of the agency.

Every year there is an increase in the number of applications for teachers
coming direct from school authorities,
and we are constantly enlarging our
facilities.

These environments are appreciated
by strong, self-reliant teachers.

THE TEACHERS' AGENCY

R. L. MYERS & CO.

Lemoyne Trust Bldg., Harrisburg, Pa.
Co-operating agencies in Denver and Atlanta.

MORRIS GIANDONATO'S Electric Shoe Shop

Shoes repaired by machinery give better
results than hand work.

Shop Work done while you wait.

Satisfaction guaranteed Prices right
STUDENT'S WORK SOLICITED

JOS. MILLER FURNITURE and UNDERTAKING

West Main Street Annville, Pa

Journal Publishing Co. Printers

Main Street Annville, Pa

IT'S LIKE THIS!
GOLLAM'S
FOR YOUR
GOOD EATS

CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC

Last Tuesday evening at eight o'clock in Professor Sheldon's studio in Engle Hall the Conservatory faculty followed the plan inaugurated by them last year by tendering an informal reception to the students in music.

Upon entering, each one was tagged with some name prominent in the music world, and from the time all had arrived until it came time to bid one another "Good-night" every minute was filled with enjoyment.
Our host and hostesses had arranged an unusually interesting program of amusements with which to entertain their guests, who numbered between forty and fifty in all. At a seasonable hour delicious refreshments were served, and it is scarcely necessary to add that they formed one of the most enjoyable features of the evening.

The object of the reception was to have the old and the new students become better acquainted, and we feel confident that, if we may judge from the general good cheer and friendship which was evidenced during the entire evening, it did not fall short of its purpose.

Y. M. C. A.

The afternoon session of the Y. M.
C. A. Sunday, Sept. 27, was opened by song service at 1 p. m. After which the leader, C. E. Brenneman, spoke to the men from the 11th and 12th verses of First Corinthians. The theme was "The Foundation laid by God whereon the Christian must build." The leader brought out the facts that character, principles and the things that abide are the main stones of a sure foundation, that will stand the test when it is tried, even by fire.

The young men were much helped by the inspiring remarks and golden thoughts. Mr. C. G. Snively's solo added much to the impressiveness of the session.

ALUMNI NOTES

Lester Speersard, '11, is Principal of High Schools at White Salmon, Washington.

F. E. Shaffer, '11, a graduate of the John Hopkins University Medical department, will be interne at the German Hospital, Philadelphia, Pa. He is also taking a course in singing under the celebrated Dr.
John B. Deaver.

WHAT THE CLASS OF 1914 IS DOING

Continued from page 1

Wm. S. Stager is teaching science in Shilo High school at Shilo, N. J.

Paul L. Strickler is teaching mathematics in the Lebanon High School.
Clarence H. Uhrich is teaching sciences at the Cleona schools.

M. Josephine Ulrich is finishing her course in oratory at Lebanon Valley.

J. Allen Walters is studying law at Dickinson.

Russel M. Weidler, former editor of the College News, is assistant principal at the high school at Scotia,
New York.

D. Ellis Zimmerman is taking a course in dentistry at the University of Pennsylvania.

Theatrical Costumes Academic Caps and Gowns ON A RENTAL BASIS WAAS & SON, Philadelphia

You are correct if you get your

LADIES' and GENTS'
FURNISHINGS

At KINPORTS', Annville, Pa.

Students' Discount. Packard & American Lady Shoes.
Arrow Collars and Shirts

D. B. SHIFFER GRADUATE OPTICIAN

Eyes Examined, Glasses Fitted, Broken
Lenses Replaced, anything in
the Optical line

East Main St ANNVILLE

Lebanon Valley College

First Class Faculty.

Group System.

Special Facilities in Chemistry
and Biology

Music, Art, Oratory

Ladies in the Hall are under the constant care of the Dean of Women.

Write for catalogue

Rev. S. D. Sossard, President
Annville, Pa.

D. L. SAYLOR & SONS CONTRACTORS and BUILDERS

Dealers in
LUMBER and COAL - ANNVILLE, PA.

WINDSOR HOTEL

W. T. BRUBAKER, Manager.

European, $1.00 per day and up
American, $2.50 per day and up

Midway between Broad Street
Station and Reading Terminal
on Filbert Street.

The only moderate priced hotel of
reputation and consequence in
PHILADELPHIA

Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute
SCHOOL of ENGINEERING
ESTABLISHED 1824
CIVIL, MECHANICAL, ELECTRICAL and CHEMICAL
ENGINEERING, and GENERAL SCIENCE
Send for a Catalogue. TROY, N.Y.

COLLEGE NEWS

LEBANON VALLEY COLLEGE

Volume VI.

Annville, Pa., Tuesday, October 6, 1914

No. 4

Entered as second-class matter November 12, 1910, at the post office at Annville, Pa., under the act of March 3, 1879

MANY GUESTS AT KALO HALL

Last Friday evening the Kalezetan Literary Society entertained in its halls what was perhaps the largest number of members and friends at a regular meeting in the history of the society. The occasion was the dedication of the new piano, which the society has recently acquired. It is a Kranich and Bach baby grand of excellent tone.

The president, Faber E. Stengle, presided over the meeting. After the roll call, Ira Sankey Ernst conducted the devotional exercises. The program proper began with a piano duet by the Messrs. Linebaugh and Stengle. The appreciation of the audience was manifested by their hearty applause.

Mr. Alfred K. Mills, of Annville, an alumnus of Lebanon Valley and a former Kalo, gave a very interesting and entertaining account of his memories of college days. He concluded with a speech in which he dedicated the new piano to the society. This was followed by a quartet consisting of the Messrs. Bender, Eichelberger, Strickler and Von Bereghy. As usual, these gentlemen did not fail to please their audience.

Mr. Verling Jamison then gave a reading in which he very cleverly portrayed the woes of a young and obscure author in a large city. After a much-appreciated encore by Mr. Jamison, Mr. L. C. Barnett gave several piano solos which were greatly enjoyed. Mr. Earle Eichelberger followed with a number of vocal solos rendered in vaudeville style. This number was one of the best received of the program. The "Examiner" was then read by the editor. The singing of "America" by the society and its friends ended the program.

The critic then gave his report which was followed by a request from the president that Mr. Jackowick, one of the new students, render a selection on the piano; his playing was much appreciated. Mr. Stengle then called upon Professor Guyer to make a few remarks. Professor Guyer gave a short talk on society and college spirit which was received with enthusiastic approval.

The president then invited everyone to remain after adjournment and make use of the new instrument. Those who remained were favored with vocal solos by Professor Schmidt and Mr. Bender; Miss Adams also gave several readings to the delight of all present.

About ten o'clock the company began reluctantly to depart, heartily congratulating the Kalo boys on their new acquisition and on the delightful entertainment of the evening.

IMPORTANT ACTION OF CONFERENCE

The one hundred and fifteenth annual session of the East Pennsylvania conference was held in the Second United Brethren church, Fifty-ninth and Catharine Streets, Philadelphia, Pa., from September 29th to October 4th. The meetings of the conference were largely attended both by the ministers and lay delegates. Unusual interest was manifested in the reports and recommendations brought in by representatives of the various departments of work in the conference and denomination.

Thursday, October 1st, was devoted to the Educational interests of the Conference. The Sunday School Work was considered in the morning session. In the afternoon the interests of Lebanon Valley College, the most important educational institution of the Conference, were ably presented by President G. D. Gossard. The attitude of the strong and influential men of the Conference, both ministers and laymen, was very encouraging in their earnest support of the plans presented by Dr. Gossard for increasing the financial income of the college.

The members of the Conference expressed in enthusiastic addresses their appreciation of the work that has been accomplished by Dr. Gossard in increasing the student body and thereby enlarging the field of usefulness of the college.

The Conference decided to increase the appropriation for the college for the year from $1,500, the amount given last year, to $2,500, and in addition to this, to raise an additional $1,500 in voluntary contributions on College Day which will be observed in all the churches in the Conference. Bishop Weekley and Superintendent Lowery were very positive in their instructions to the members of the Conference that the funds pledged be secured and paid over to meet the running expenses of the college. This means that the debt of the college will begin to decrease and that the administration can devote its time during the coming year to securing the much-needed endowment and continuing the student campaign.

Another matter of great moment not only to the Conference but also to the entire denomination was the adoption by the Conference of a resolution coming from the laymen raising the educational requirements for admission to the Conference. Hereafter no one will be admitted to Conference membership who has not satisfactorily completed a four year high school course or its equivalent.

Continued on page 2

ANOTHER VICTORY FOR OUR TEAM

In the football game between the Varsity and the Carlisle Indian reserves on Saturday an opportunity was afforded the friends of L. V. to witness the best exhibition ever given by a Lebanon Valley eleven in an early season game. The score, 56-0, explains in a breath the nature of the game as far as the contest goes; but it does not describe the speed and machine-like precision with which our team demonstrated their ability to run up the score at will. The Indians, although accustomed to the style of our attack, were helpless before the powerful running of our backs and tackles and were buried beneath the sweep of our interference. When on the offence the Indian line was thrown back and their plays smashed before they were started. Only once did the visitors succeed in making a first down.

Lebanon Valley began with a rush. They received the kick-off and immediately thrilled the crowd with a display of massed interference, never before equalled by a blue and white team. This with clever running and dodging on the part of Wheelock, Jaeger, Evans, and Lerew produced score after score, until at last the tactics were changed and L. V. spent the remainder of the game in trying out more complicated plays. Forward passing showed some promise, although the receiving end was rather erratic, except in the case of Mackert, who successfully pulled down four long passes.

Several regulars were kept out of the game by injuries, but their absence did not seem to affect the efficiency of the team. Coach Guyer expects the cripples to be in first class condition again for the Franklin and Marshall game on the coming Saturday, and, after the splendid showing made thus far by the team, high hopes are entertained for the approaching battle, which promises to be probably the hardest-fought and most important of the year. It is urged that a special effort be made by Lebanon Valley friends to accompany the team to Lancaster and lend all the aid possible by their encouragement to the men on the field. To defeat Franklin and Marshall, after its recent victory over Penn. would shed great credit upon our Alma Mater; and considering the past work of our men, we feel safe in saying that there is hope of success.

Myra G. Kiracofe, '15, attended the funeral of her uncle, the Rev. J. W. Kiracofe, on Saturday at Hagerstown, Maryland.

College News

Issued weekly during the College Year by the Students of Lebanon Valley College

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

FRANK M. VAN SCHAAK '15

ASSOCIATE EDITORS

FLORENCE MENTZ '15

S. HUBER HEINTZELMAN '16

Social

MYRA G. KIRACOFE '15

Athletics

PHILO STATTON '15

Alumni

MASON LONG '16

Music

RAY P. CAMPBELL '16

BUSINESS MANAGER

FABER E. STENGLE '15

Subscription Price $1.00 per year

Single Copies 5 cts.

Clubs of ten, 75 cts.

Address all business communications to FABER E. STENGLE '15 all other matter to Room 22, Administration Building Lebanon Valley College, Annville, Pa.

THE POWER OF MUSIC.

How true is the old saying that "music hath power to sooth the savage breast." In all ages the mysterious influence of the magical something called music has been recognized. When, in those days of the long ago, King Saul became troubled with fits of passionate anger, it was the shepherd lad, David, alone, who with the lyric strains of his harp could lull to sleep the troubled spirit of the Hebrew king. What is the secret of this magic something so delicate, and yet withal so wonderful in sway of power? There comes to mind a story of frontier life in the far Northwest in the early days of the last century. The occasion is an Indian celebration called the Potlatch. The settlers in the neighborhood are fearful that the orgies incident to the affair will so arouse the latent warlike instincts of the natives as to result in a massacre. The celebration is at its height, and the worst fears of the settlers seem about to be realized; when upon the air, hideous with sounds of savage revelry, there rise the quivering strains of a violin. A hush begins to settle on the multitude of dancing figures; higher and higher rise the plaintive notes filling the evening air with melody. It is the Traumerei played by a young white girl, a favorite at the Indian encampment. As the magic cadence of this masterpiece rises and falls in a swell of harmony, the painted dancers around the fire one by one cease their movements, and when the last strains of the Traumerei have been borne away on the evening breeze, a hush falls on the dusky company—the settlement has been saved.

One may ask, what is the secret of this magic power, this mysterious element of sound, which can appeal not only to the cultured ear, but to the savage as well? Does it not lie in the harmony which fills the soul of the listener excluding everything else,—everything at variance with this great theme of harmony? To support this we can bring forward the law of the human mind, that only one thing can occupy the center of consciousness at one time. Thus passion, a disturbing element in the presence of melody is overthrown and cast out by the greater power of the higher emotion. It would seem that the spark of the divine present in every human breast when touched by the inspiration of the musician poured forth in the harmony of expression, joins with it and rises, temporarily at least, in a kindred flame of lyric exultation.

Truly music speaks "a various language" which all hearts can understand. Not that all of us can appreciate the great classical productions; it often requires special cultivation to comprehend the finer points of the great operas. But it is the heart which speaks through the medium of sound; and even the simplest lay requires a touch of feeling to bring out the best that lies within. What is marvelous technique without the soul of inspiration? Longfellow spoke truly when he said, "The heart giveth grace unto every art," and nowhere is this truer than in the realm of melody. We have heard of the old classical idea of the music of the spheres; may it not have been suggested by the conception of the unified orderly movement of the heavenly bodies, harmonized in their action by the divine spirit of the Creator of the universe?

We are made better by listening to good music; we are lifted out of our everyday life into a higher realm of thought and feeling. Who can hear such masterpieces as the "Sextette from Lucia," Victor Herbert's production of "The Rosary," or the celebrated "Cavatina," without feeling better and stronger than before? The violin in the hands of a master becomes a thing of life, vibrating in response to the touch of the artist. It is the soul of the musician which is the key that unlocks the doors of melody; and with this key, a simple song, perhaps, may touch the heart as feelingly as the majestic swell of some vast symphony.

IMPORTANT ACTION OF CONFERENCE

Continued from page 1

and beginning with 1917 the requirements for admission will be increased annually by the addition of eight and one-half hours of college work until the requirements for admission shall be a four year high school course and sixty-eight hours of college work.

In seven years from this time all young men and women entering the ministry will be equipped with a thorough secondary school and college training. It is to be hoped that conferences throughout our denomination will speedily take similar action, and thereby increase the efficiency of our church leadership and the power of our denomination for establishing the ideals of Christianity throughout the world.

ELECTION TO THE COLLEGE NEWS STAFF

Myra G. Kiracofe, '15, was elected by the college faculty on Tuesday to the position of Social Editor on the College News staff, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of M. Belle Orris, '15.

MISS BACHMAN ENTERTAINS.

Miss Catherine Bachman, who is known as a charming hostess, gave a Progressive Luncheon last Tuesday evening, September 29th, at her home on Maple street. Everyone invited had looked forward with pleasure to the affair, for all knew it would be a success; and they were not disappointed.

Upon the arrival of the guests they separated into groups of fours. Each group was given four words that rhyme; the persons in the groups were asked to compose poetry rhyming with these words. In the parlor the lunch tables were arranged. There were six tables, each decorated with a runner of blue and white crepe paper and with honeysuckle vines crossing diagonally; while in the centre burned a candle. The luncheon was attractively planned and everything most delicious. The artistic decorations contributed much toward the enjoyment of the dainties. When the last group had passed from the last table, the poetry was read. Such charming ballads as "The Adventures of Nell, the Sewing-Machine Girl" and other flights of fancy were extremely interesting and funny.

Miss Bachman left Annville on Sunday for the West. She will make her home for some time with her uncle in Omaha, Nebraska. She will be missed very much by her friends, whose name is "legion." The large circle of acquaintances that she leaves behind regret her departure; but trust that she will not remain away too long. The "News" wishes her a pleasant visit.

DEATH OF A FORMER TRUSTEE.

The Reverend J. W. Kiracofe, who died last week, was engaged in the ministry for over fifty years. He was a member of the Pennsylvania Conference of the United Brethren Church. An able pastor, Mr. Kiracofe was beloved by his people and highly respected by all with whom he came in contact. As one friend said of him, "he exemplified his preaching by his life." Upon retirement from active service while pastor at Windsor, Pa., he removed to Hagerstown, Md., where he resided until his death.

During the years from 1877-1889 Mr. Kiracofe was a trustee of Lebanon Valley College. Ever a staunch supporter of Christian education, and a strong friend of Lebanon Valley, he gave liberally toward the financial support of this institution. He also presented our library with a number of books. The Rev. Mr. Kiracofe was an uncle of Miss Myra G. Kiracofe, '15, a member of the present "College News" staff. The "News," on behalf of the student body, extends its sympathy to the relatives of the former trustee.

DEATH OF MRS. J. F. SNYDER.

Lester Snyder, '16, was suddenly called home Saturday by the death of his mother. His father, the Reverend J. F. Snyder, is a member of the Board of Trustees of Lebanon Valley College. The "College News" wishes to extend sincerest sympathy on behalf of the student body to our friends in this hour of their bereavement.

COLLEGE NEWS

CLIONIAN.

"Story of the War"... Ruth V. Engle Vocal Solo..... Louise Henry
"Theodore Roosevelt's Travels in Brazil"..... Belle Orris
Reading..... Josephine Ulrich
Olive Branch..... Editor

KALOZETEAN

National Comment... Chas. H. Loomis
Roll Call..... Society
Piano Solo..... H. E. Schaeffer
Selection..... C. R. Longenecker
Ben. Franklin... George W. Hallman
"1918"..... Harry Kottler
Extempore.
Song . . . . . Society

PHILOKOSMIAN.

Resume..... Harry Baker
Tolstoi's Prophecy... Lester F. Snyder
Debate—Resolved, That the Trade Acquired from South America by the United States as a Result of the Present European War will be Beneficial to our Nation.

Affirmative Negative
Paul J. Bowman, Geo. Haverstock,
Henry Kleffman, A. L. Weaver.
Vocal Solo..... Conrad K. Curry
The Horrors of Peace,
W. W. McConnel
Living Thoughts..... Editor

READING TIES LEBANON

VALLEY RESERVES

In a hard-fought contest the Reading High School held the Lebanon Valley College Reserves to a tie score, 6-6, last Saturday. The game started well for the Reserves. Reading kicked off to them and the ball went over the goal line for a touch back. After a few seconds of play, Snively kicked out of the danger zone, and the Reserves held Reading for downs. But after making one first down, they, themselves, were held and the ball went back to Reading High, only to have the former program repeated. And in fact, this practically tells the tale of the entire game, so far as the teams were concerned. As for individuals, Inman blocked three kicks, and it was Loomis' snatching up one of these and rolling over the goal line with it that gave Lebanon Valley her touchdown. Walters did good work carrying the ball, and "Kid" Snively starred on the defence and also did excellent work kicking, missing a drop kick from 40 yards back by less than eight inches. In good, steady, dependable work, Loomis gave such an exhibition as to make him a dangerous candidate for varsity honors, always having a hole open for L. V. and closed for Reading.

Reading herself played different ball from last year. Not only her back field, but her line also got in the interference and her open field blocking showed careful and continuous practice. Her use of the forward pass was excellent, and it was through the superb handling of three of these, two over centre and one to left end, that she got her touchdown.

CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATIONS IN JOINT SESSION

On Sunday the Young Men's and Young Women's Christian Associations met in joint session for the first time this year. J. Maurice Leister was the leader and the subject was "Mission Work among the Lepers." He told of the awful condition of the lepers as it is in countries where superstition makes life a burden. Then he depicted the comfort and satisfaction in the sanatoriums built by the mission workers for these poor outcasts. After Mr. Leister had spoken, a quartet composed of Ella Mutch, Louise Henry, Mason Long and Ira S. Earnst sang a selection. Ruth Huber gave a reading which brought forcefully to us the realization that "A Million a Month in China are Dying without God." Then, in closing, Ruth Taylor read an article about a leper boy in America and the treatment he received. She showed how much better it is to be living in America where the sick are cared for and tended than to live in the darkness of superstition and fear.

THE COLLEGE BOOK STORE

HEADQUARTERS FOR STUDENTS' SUPPLIES

PENNANTS

CUSHION TOPS

BANNERS

NOVELTIES

KODAKS, CAMERAS, SUPPLIES

DEVELOPING AND PRINTING

CIRCULATING LIBRARY

PARKER FOUNTAIN PENS

DAVID B. BASEHORE

SUCCESSOR TO

HARNISH & SMITH

HARLAN P. FRENCH, President

A. B. FRENCH, Vice President

VINCENT B. FISK, Sec'y and Manager

THE ALBANY TEACHERS AGENCY, INC.

KNOWS HOW!

Twenty-four Years of successful experience in bringing together

Good Schools and Good Teachers

Our field: Public and Private schools and colleges; we have filled positions in every State in the Union

Send for Bulletin

81 Chapel Street, Albany, N. Y.

Better work and more of it. That's the policy of this Laundry. If you haven't your name on our list we'd be glad to place it there today. Fine shirt collar and cuff work a specialty here.

Hershey Laundry Co.

C. E. Brenneeman Agt.

Dr. Harry Zimmerman

DENTIST

W. Main St. - Annville, Pa.

THE

REDPATH BROCKWAY LYCEUM BUREAU

PITTSBURGH, PENNA.

Furnishes this Winter's Lecture Course for the Lebanon Valley College

Season Tickets $1.00 Reserved $1.50

CAPS and GOWNS

Faculty Gowns and
Hoods. Pulpit and
Choir Gowns.

Judicial Robes

Best Workmanship
Lowest Prices

COX SONS & VINING

72 Madison Ave., New York

THE

BLAZIER STUDIO

Photographs of Quality

839 Cumberland Street
LEBANON, PA.

WM. WALTZ

Hair Cutting and Shaving
Saloon

W. Main St.

Annville, Pa.

Wright & Ditson

Manufacturers and Dealers in

HIGH GRADE
ATHLETIC SUPPLIES

FOOT BALL, BASKET BALL,
ICE SKATES, HOCKEY,
GOLF, GYMNASIUM
APPARATUS

UNIFORMS for all Athletic Sports.
OFFICIAL IMPLEMENTS for all Track and Field Sports.
Wright & Ditson SWEATERS are easily the finest
Choice Worsted, well made, perfect fitting.
Catalogue free.

WRIGHT & DITSON

344 Washington St., Boston. 22 Warren St., New
York. 16 So. LaSalle St., Chicago. Harvard
Square, Cambridge. 82 Waybosset St., Providence.
391 Main St., Worcester. 359 Market
St., San Francisco

JACOB SARGENT

MERCHANT TAILOR

READY-TO-WEAR CLOTHING
Main Street Annville

BURDAN'S ICE CREAM

Made in Pottstown and
Lebanon, Pa.

Quality and Satisfaction

combined makes clear the
reason why

Spalding's

are outfitters to champions, whose implements must be invari-
ably right.

The Spaulding Trade-Mark represents
years of leadership in the manufacture of athletic equipment. Write for free illustrated catalogue.

A. G. SPALDING & BROS.

26-128 Nassau St. 520 Fifth Ave. NEW YORK

SERVICES and CHARGES

Our services are worth more to all applicants than we charge. We earn
more than we get.

We do not share our earnings with others. We have no local agents employed to "discuss" the qualifications
of our applicants.

School authorities employing teachers through this agency are not open to
the suspicion that they are sharing in
the earnings of the agency.

Every year there is an increase in the
number of applications for teachers
coming direct from school authorities,
and we are constantly enlarging our
facilities.

These environments are appreciated
by strong, self-reliant teachers.

THE TEACHERS' AGENCY

R. L. MYERS & CO.

Lemoyne Trust Bldg., Harrisburg, Pa.
Co-operating agencies in Denver and Atlanta.

MORRIS CIANDONATO'S Electric Shoe Shop

Shoes repaired by machinery give better
results than hand work.

Shop Work done while you wait.

Satisfaction guaranteed Prices right
STUDENT'S WORK SOLICITED

JOS. MILLER FURNITURE and UNDERTAKING

West Main Street Annville, Pa.

Journal Publishing Co. Printers

Main Street Annville, Pa.

IT'S LIKE THIS!
COLLAM'S
FOR YOUR
GOOD EATS

CONSERVATORY SENIORS AT MOUNT GRETNA

On Wednesday afternoon of last week the Seniors in Oratory and Music enjoyed an outing at Mount Gretna. The party left the Conservatory at one o'clock in a motor-vehicle and, arriving at Mount Gretna, went to a cottage which had been prepared for them. The afternoon was spent in hunting chestnuts and viewing the grounds, which, being in their Autumn attire, are at this time of the year especially attractive. Although the party consisted of the unlucky thirteen, the only misfortune which occurred was that several of the male members were caught up in the trees knocking down burrs by an officer and severely reprimanded.

At six o'clock we made our way back to the cottage where the ladies prepared a most appetizing luncheon. A very enjoyable evening was then spent in toasting marsh mal-lows before the fire-place and singing college songs. After the moon had risen, we started for home, each one feeling that we had had a most delightful time.

The party consisted of: Professor and Mrs. Sheldon, Misses Adams, Schmidt, Bachman, Nissley, Mabel
Shanahan, Josephine Ulrich, Anna
Dubble, Mabel Bensing, and Messrs.
Campbell, Barnet and Jamison.

HOUSE PARTY AT MT. GRETNA.

A delightful house party was held at Mount Gretna over Saturday and Sunday. Those present passed the time enjoyably in gathering chestnuts, in boating, and in visiting the Pennsylvania State Rifle Range and the Indian Spring. The party consisted of the following persons, Mrs.
Nissley, the Misses Bertha Barnet,
Ida Uhler, Mary Nissley, Bertha
Wise, Margaret Longenecker and Clara
Rupp; and Messrs. L. C. Barnet, Paul
Hummel, Harry M. Bender, and Paul Bowman.

MATHEMATICAL ROUND TABLE.

The Mathematical Round Table held its first meeting of the year Wednesday evening in Doctor Lehman's room.

The following program, which proved to be very interesting was rendered, and each number was fully discussed:
"Mathematical Clubs,"

Mr. Edward Zeigler

"The Teaching of Geometry,"

Miss Florence Mentz

"Finite and Infinite Numbers,"

Mr. J. W. Lerew

NOTES OF INTEREST.

William E. Lewis, '18, of Harrisburg, entertained his mother and sister at the college last Wednesday.

Katie Ruth, '18, who has been confined to her room on account of sickness, has gone to her home, in Sinking Springs, to recuperate.

The following persons attended the recent session of the last Pennsylvania Conference of the United Brethren church at Philadelphia:
Dr. Gossard, Prof. Shroyer, Prof.
Derickson, Messrs. P. M. Gible, J.
O. Jones, F. E. Stengle, C. H. Holzinger,
J. E. Morrison, C. A. Lynch, Harry Boeshore, C. R. Longenecker, G.
W. Hallman and J. W. Oakes.

Theatrical Costumes Academic Caps and Gowns

ON A RENTAL BASIS

WAAS & SON, Philadelphia

You are correct if you get your

LADIES' and GENTS'
FURNISHINGS

At KINPORTS', Annville, Pa.

Students' Discount. Packard & American Lady Shoes.
Arrow Collars and Shirts

D. B. SHIFFER

GRADUATE OPTICIAN

Eyes Examined, Glasses Fitted, Broken
Lenses Replaced, anything in
the Optical line

East Main St

ANNVILLE

Lebanon Valley College

First Class Faculty.

Group System.

Special Facilities in Chemistry
and Biology

Music, Art, Oratory

Ladies in the Hall are under the constant care of the Dean of Women.

Write for catalogue

Rev. S. D. Sossard, President
Annville, Pa.

D. L. SAYLOR & SONS CONTRACTORS and BUILDERS

Dealers in

LUMBER and COAL - ANNVILLE, PA.

WINDSOR HOTEL

W. T. BRUBAKER, Manager.

European, $1.00 per day and up
American, $2.50 per day and up

Midway between Broad Street
Station and Reading Terminal
on Filbert Street.

The only moderate priced hotel of
reputation and consequence in
PHILADELPHIA

Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute SCHOOL of ENGINEERING

CIVIL, MECHANICAL, ELECTRICAL and CHEMICAL ENGINEERING, and GENERAL SCIENCE

Send for a Catalogue.

TROY, N.Y.

COLLEGE NEWS

LEBANON VALLEY COLLEGE

Volume VI.

Annville, Pa., Tuesday, October 13, 1914

No. 5

Entered as second-class matter November 12, 1910, at the post office at Annville, Pa., under the act of March 3, 1879

ARTHUR BECKLEY CALLED HOME

Reverend Arthur S. Beckley, '12, the well-beloved pastor of the First United Brethren church of Shamokin, Pa., passed from this life on Monday, October 5. His death was due to typhoid fever, against which he had waged a brave, but futile fight for four weeks. During this time, the regular services were continued in the church, through the singular kindness of the ministerial association of Shamokin—an instance which is only one token of the great esteem in which Rev. Mr. Beckley was held by his co-laborers.

News of the youthful pastor's death came as a shock to the community, for it was not generally known that he could not recover. Earnest solicitation and hopes were expressed during the illness in all sections of the city, for not only had Mr. Beckley endeared himself to the congregation he ministered unto, but to those of other denominations, and to many of no church affiliation as well. Seldom has a death occasioned such general regret and widespread sorrow in the city of Shamokin.

Services were held on Wednesday evening, October 6, in the church where the pastor had so faithfully labored for the past two years. The body rested in the vestibule, completely surrounded by beautiful floral designs and cut flowers. Their fragrance, however, was unnoticed to those who, in constant file for two hours, tearfully remembered or felt the fragrance of the departed life. The services were in charge of the ministerial association of Shamokin, and consisted of beautiful eulogies and most touching prayers and music.

On Thursday morning, the body was taken to Reading, Pa., where the last services were held, at 2 p. m., in Zion United Brethren church. Dr. Lowery, Rev. D. D. Buddinger and Rev. D. Brandt presided. About thirty members from the Shamokin church accompanied the body to Reading, where interment was made in Perkiomen cemetery.

Continued on page 2

TWO VISITORS IN CHAPEL

Miss E. W. Conklin, a representative of the Student Volunteer Movement of North America, addressed the Student body in Chapel Monday.

The methods used by an artist and by a camera were compared. In the case of the camera a fly may flit into the field of vision just as the picture is being taken. But the camera does its duty, in that it records what it saw whither it was to the purpose or not.

On the other hand, the artist reproduces on canvass only those elements which are necessary and one desires in the finished work. The students were urged, therefore, if they would desire a good and beautiful old age, to weave into their life and character only those qualities which would tend to beautifying of their life. She closed her helpful talk by saying: "We, if purposeful, will use Christ's drawing power, exerted through us, to bring all to the great purpose where all are needed."

Following the address by Miss Conklin another treat awaited the students. The Editor of "The Watchword," Mr. H. F. Shup, gave an excellent talk on the value derived by the College student who attends the Sunday School and Christian Endeavor Society in the College town. "He will," he said, "in this way get new ideas which he can take home with him and work out later in his home church." His final message was, "Be on intimate terms with the varieties of life."

SOCIETIES

Owing to the mass meeting last Friday evening in preparation for the Franklin and Marshall game, business sessions only were held in the literary societies; the programs scheduled for last week will be given this week.

Professor Doris Long, the Dean of Women, entertained the members of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet at a Fudge Party, Saturday evening in honor of Miss Conklin, who represents the Student Volunteer Movement.

FUMBLING GIVES GAME TO F. & M.

On Saturday the Lebanon Valley varsity football team suffered a sad and unfortunate defeat at the hands of Franklin and Marshall, with a score of 3 to 0 in favor of the latter. In past years such a score against a team which a week before had humbled Penn. would have been considered unusually creditable but under the present circumstances we have reason to feel blue. We have a team which deserved no less than victory had it been able to work with the efficiency of which it is capable. But when on the offence, it seemed absolutely impossible to carry through a system of attack without losing the ball by fumbling at the critical moment. Time after time when in a position to attempt a field goal, our chance was thrown away by a fumble. When a touchdown seemed possible, we would invariably repeat the offence and finally by a fumble we gave F. and M. the ball in position to kick the field goal which won the game for them when only a minute of play remained.

Throughout the game our defence was impregnable. Franklin and Marshall end runs were smashed behind their line with steady consistency and their line plays were repulsed with little damage to us. The kicking honors belonged entirely to Lebanon Valley but the fatal fumbling more than offset the superior strength which our team displayed in the most important departments of the game.

The contest was hot and grueling, and it may be added to our credit that the Lebanon Valley men showed the highest class of sportsmanship and clean play throughout. In spite of the fierceness of the battle and the frequent provocation offered by opposing players, with the exception of Jaeger, no one was in any way incapacitated and we expect the team will be in splendid condition for the coming contests.

Although a defeat, the game further intensified the fact that Lebanon Valley has reached her own, at least in the athletic world. On for-

Continued on page 2

College News

Issued weekly during the College Year by the Students of Lebanon Valley College

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF
FRANK M. VAN SCHAAK '15
ASSOCIATE EDITORS
FLORENCE MENTZ '15
S. HUBER HEINTZELMAN '16

Social
MYRA G. KIRACOFE '15

Athletics
CARL G. SNAVELY '15

Alumni
MASON LONG '16

Music
RAY P. CAMPBELL '16
BUSINESS MANAGER
FABER E. STENGLE '15

Subscription Price $1.00 per year
Single Copies 5 cts.
Clubs of ten, 75 cts.

Address all business communications to FABER E. STENGLE '15 all other matter to Room 22, Administration Building Lebanon Valley College, Annville, Pa.

EDITORIAL

The East Pennsylvania Conference held at Philadelphia took a great step forward in advancing the United Brethren church when it passed a resolution that after this year no one could be admitted to the conference who does not have a High School education or its equivalent. This step coming as it did from the laymen shows that the members of the church are appreciating the value of an education and that the preacher is more efficient and can do more effective preaching if he possesses good intellectual training, than he can if he does not.

For many years consecrated, earnest young men have been admitted to the conference who had very little education, but who, nevertheless, desired to become one of God's ministers. This is the kind of young men the church needs—earnest, serious-minded, yet in order to obtain the best results they must have at least a High School education. Without sufficient knowledge of the questions of the day on the part of ministers, their sermons are handicapped by lack of breadth. Can an uneducated preacher see a subject from all sides?

This action may mean disappointment for some who had expected to enter the conference but who now can not meet the requirements. But if they are really sincere in their desire, it is but a difference of a few years with greater efficiency at the end; and "where there is a will, there's a way."

Association with students in getting the required High School course develops not only the intellectual side of the man, but it also develops all sides of his character. It makes him broader and more unselfishly interested, not only in himself but in things that are going on around him. If he attends some Preparatory School such as our Lebanon Valley Academy, there is a chance for him to make a start. He is given an opportunity to lead prayer-meeting or to speak in the Y. M. C. A. These things help to bring the best in him.

But the conference did not stop in its requirements of a High School education. It is gradually falling into line with the other churches, which require seven years' preparation in addition to a High School education for its ministers. The East Pennsylvania Conference also added the requirement that after 1916, eight hours of college credit would be required in addition every year until the candidate has sixty-eight hours credit, or the regular college course. This promises much for the future United Brethren church. So with God's help and better prepared ministers there is no doubt that greater results will follow than have heretofore been possible.

FUMBLING GIVES GAME TO F. AND M.

Continued from page 1

eign soil we showed our ability to cope successfully with one of the strongest teams of the State. The enthusiastic delegation of rooters which accompanied the team was a further indication of the advancing power of Lebanon Valley which the whole college world can not fail to recognize. Let us not be dismayed by a plucky defeat, but work all the harder for the contests that are coming.

VICTORY FOR THE RESERVES

In the third game of this season the Lebanon Valley Scrubs defeated Harrisburg Central High by the score of 28 to 6. It was evident after the first few plays that the Scrubs had the High school boys at their mercy. Only once did Harrisburg display its usual strength. This was in the third quarter when after obtaining the ball by a fumble on the 30 yard line the visitors rushed over the goal by a succession of line plays.

Spectacular runs by Swartz, Walter and Race for touchdowns thrilled the crowd; while the work of Rupp, Wenrick and Loomis on the line was commendable. Walter and Swartz especially seemed to show class that will make them strong contenders for positions on the Varsity.

Coach Guyer may be congratulated on having reserve material of the quality shown by the Scrubs against several of the strongest scholastic elevens.

ARTHUR BECKLEY CALLED HOME

Continued from page 1

With the death of Rev. Mr. Beckley, Lebanon Valley has lost an alumnus of whom she may well feel proud. As a student, the deceased is doubtless remembered by many as a thoroughly upright and conscientious young man. After his graduation, he took up the active work of the ministry, and, like the blessed Christ in whose work he was engaged, he filled up the few years allotted him with sacrificing service and good deeds. His life, "tho' short and all-too-quickly run, was full and glorious as the orb'd sun."

When stricken with fever, the ambitious young pastor was busy with a Temple University course, and it is without doubt that his zeal for efficient service in behalf of mankind had something to do with his early demise. As a reward for the effective work done in the past two years, he had been re-appointed to the Shamokin charge by the late conference, news of which was received at the bedside just as the beautiful young soul was ready to take its flight.

Many very beautiful floral tributes expressed the sympathy of devoted friends. Mr. Beckley is survived by his parents, his wife, a daughter and a son. A number of students and alumni were present at the funeral services. In the unavoidable absence of President George D. Gossard, Professor S. H. Derickson and Professor A. E. Shroyer represented the faculty of Lebanon Valley College. Professor Shroyer spoke of the high esteem in which Mr. Beckley was held while a student here, and of the loss sustained by the church.

ALUMNUS MARRIED

At nine A. M., Saturday, October 3, 1914, Miss Nomie Nye, of Annville, Pa., and Henry Elias Snavely, of Lebanon, Pa., were united in marriage by the Rev. Paul Witman. The ceremony, a quiet affair, was performed at the home of the bride.

Mr. Snavely, a graduate of Lebanon Valley in the class of 1914, is assistant principal of the Myerstown High school. While a student here he was ever prominent in college activities, and last year was a member of the debating team which won the debate with Juniata College. The "News" extends hearty congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Snavely with best wishes for their happiness and prosperity.

Ethel Houser, '15, attended the Pennsylvania Conference in Mechanicsburg on Sunday.

Glenn Mower, '18, visited his parents in Mechanicsburg, over Sunday.

Y. W. C. A.

The meeting of the Y. W. C. A. Sunday, October 11, was in charge of the President, M. Belle Orris, who introduced the speaker of the afternoon. Miss Conklin, who represents the Student Volunteer Movement of America, addressed the meeting. After explaining the meaning of the work in which she is engaged, she directed the thoughts of her hearers to the means of finding in their own lives, God's plan for them.

She used as an illustration, the story of a man who went to a beautiful garden to see how a sun-dial worked and carried an umbrella over him, thus hiding the shadow which he should have seen. So it is in the lives of many people. They carry the three umbrellas of fearfulness, wilfulness and self-fulness besides many others, and, therefore, are unable to see what God would have them do. She suggested as a means of overcoming these umbrellas of doubts, consecration, communication with God and vision as well as the joyfulness which comes from having Christ live in us and through us.

The girls enjoyed the Cello solo by Miss Davis very much and everyone left the meeting with the feeling that it was good for them to be there.

APPOINTMENT TO THE COLLEGE NEWS STAFF

Carl G. Snavely, '15 has been appointed by the faculty as head of the department of athletics on the College News Staff to succeed Philo. A. Statton who is attending Columbia University this year.

THE COLLEGE BOOK STORE

HEADQUARTERS FOR STUDENTS' SUPPLIES
PENNANTS BANNERS
CUSHION TOPS NOVELTIES
KODAKS, CAMERAS, SUPPLIES
DEVELOPING AND PRINTING
CIRCULATING LIBRARY PARKER FOUNTAIN PENS
DAVID B. BASEHORE
SUCCESSOR TO
HARNISH & SMITH

HARLAN P. FRENCH, President

A. B. FRENCH, Vice President

VINCENT B. FISK, Sec'y and Manager

THE ALBANY TEACHERS AGENCY, INC.
KNOWS HOW!

Twenty-four Years of successful experience in bringing together

Good Schools and Good Teachers

Our field: Public and Private schools and colleges; we have filled positions in every State in the Union

Send for Bulletin

81 Chapel Street, Albany, N. Y.

Y. M. C. A.

Although the Sunday afternoon meeting was poorly attended, owing to the absence of many students from college, the interest manifested in the service was not affected. The leader, S. Huber Heintzelman, gave an earnest talk on the subject: "The Value of One's Life." The "live-wire" life was pointed out as the most desirable one to live. The difference between a person that merely exists was well brought out. The meeting was made exceedingly helpful by the interesting discussions participated in by practically all who were present.

P. M. Linebaugh, Conservatory of Music, spent the week-end at his home in North York.

You are correct if you get your
LADIES' and GENTS'
FURNISHINGS

At KINPORTS', Annville, Pa.

Students' Discount. Packard & American Lady Shoes
Arrow Collars and Shirts

IT'S LIKE THIS!
COLLAM'S
FOR YOUR
GOOD EATS

Theatrical Costumes
Academic Caps and Gowns
ON A RENTAL BASIS
WAAS & SON, Philadelphia

WM. WALTZ

Hair Cutting and Shaving
Saloon

W. Main St.

Annville, Pa.

THE BLAZIER STUDIO

Photographs of Quality
839 Cumberland Street
LEBANON, PA.

CAPS and GOWNS

Faculty Gowns and
Hoods. Pulpit and
Choir Gowns.

Judicial Robes

Best Workmanship
Lowest Prices

COX SONS & VINING

72 Madison Ave., New York

Wright & Ditson

Manufacturers and Dealers in

HIGH GRADE
ATHLETIC SUPPLIES

FOOT BALL, BASKET BALL,
ICE SKATES, HOCKEY,
GOLF, GYMNASIUM
APPARATUS

UNIFORMS for all Athletic Sports.
OFFICIAL IMPLEMENTS for all Track and
Field Sports.
Wright & Ditson SWEATERS are easily the finest
Choice Worsted, well made, perfect fitting.
Catalogue free.

WRIGHT & DITSON

344 Washington St., Boston. 22 Warren St., New
York. 18 So. LaSalle St., Chicago. Harvard
Square, Cambridge. 82 Waybosset St., Providence.
391 Main St., Worcester. 359 Market
St., San Francisco

THE

REDPATH BROCKWAY LYCEUM BUREAU

PITTSBURGH, PENNA.

Furnishes this Winter's Lecture Course for the
Lebanon Valley College

Season Tickets $1.00 Reserved $1.50

Better work and more of it. That's the policy of this Laundry. If you haven't your name on our list we'd be glad to place it there today. Fine shirt collar and cuff work is specialty here.

Hershey Laundry Co.

C. E. Brenneman Agt.

BURDAN'S ICE CREAM

Made in Pottstown and
Lebanon, Pa.

Quality and Satisfaction

combined makes clear the
reason why

Spalding's

are outfitters to champions, whose implements must be invari-
ably right.

The Spaulding Trade-Mark represents years of leadership in the manufacture o
athletic equipment. Write for free illus rated catalogue.

A. G. SPALDING & BROS.

26-128 Nassau St. 520 Fifth Ave. NEW YORK

SERVICES and CHARGES

Our services are worth more to all applicants than we charge. We earn
more than we get.

We do not share our earnings with others. We have no local agents employed to "discuss" the qualifications
of our applicants.

School authorities employing teachers through this agency are not open to
the suspicion that they are sharing in
the earnings of the agency.

Every year there is an increase in the
number of applications for teachers
coming direct from school authorities,
and we are constantly enlarging our
facilities.

These environments are appreciated
by strong, self-reliant teachers.

THE TEACHERS' AGENCY

R. L. MYERS & CO.

Lemoyne Trust Bldg., Harrisburg, Pa.
Co-operating agencies in Denver and Atlanta.

MORRIS GIANDONATO'S Electric Shoe Shop

Shoes repaired by machinery give better
results than hand work.

Shop Work done while you wait.

Satisfaction guaranteed Prices right
STUDENT'S WORK SOLICITED

JOS. MILLER FURNITURE and UNDERTAKING

West Main Street Annville, Pa

JACOB SARGENT

READY-TO-WEAR CLOTHING
Main Street

MERCHANT TAILOR

Annville

NEW PASTOR AT THE ANNVILLE CHURCH

The Rev. S. F. Daugherty, a graduate of Lebanon Valley in the class of 1901, was appointed pastor of the Annville United Brethren church at the recent session of the East Pennsylvania Conference at Philadelphia.
During the past eight years Rev. Mr.
Daugherty has held the pastorate of Otterbein University. The "News" wishes to welcome our alumnus as he takes up the work in our community. Since the resignation of the Rev. Mr. Spayd, the position of college pastor has been ably filled by Prof. Alvin E. Shroyer, of the faculty. All students are invited to attend the reception to be given to the new minister and his family next Wednesday evening, October 14.

NOTES OF INTEREST

John H. Herring, '17, spent several days of last week at his home in Pine Grove. On Thursday, he accompanied the Pine Grove Band to Harrisburg where they took part in the firemen's demonstration in that city.

Stewart Innerst, '16, attended the Pennsylvania Annual Conference at Mechanicsburg on Thursday at which time he was granted annual license to preach. He spent the remainder of the week at his home, in Dallastown.

Miss Adams, Professor of Oratory, delightfully entertained the sewing circle at a tea, Thursday evening, in Senior Hall. Those present were:
Mrs. Sheldon, Miss Seltzer, Miss
Schmidt, and Miss Long.

Mrs. Myers and Mrs. Cummings, of Altoona, visited the former's daughter, Margaret Myers, '16, at the college, last week.

Helen Ziegler, '17, has returned to school after a short visit to her home in York.

David Evans, '16, entertained his mother at the college, last Friday.

Ruth Bender, '18, was a guest of Miss Ruth Loser, '18, at the latter's home in Progress, over Sunday.

Esther Heintzelman, '16, accompanied Mary Daugherty, '16, to her home in Columbia, where they spent the week-end.

Walter Deibler, of the Academy, was honored by a visit from his father and grandfather one day last week.

Miss Gertrude K. Schmidt, Professor of Voice, entertained her mother, at the college, over the week-end.

Miss Ruth Taylor, '16, spent Sunday in Myerstown at the home of Miss Shanaman, of the Conservatory of Music.

Mr. Oyer and Rev. Mr. Sherrick, both of Shippensburg, spent Saturday with the former's daughter, Miss Miriam Oyer, at the college.

Josephine Mathias, '16, enjoyed the week-end at her home in Highspire.

Dr. Harry Zimmerman DENTIST

W. Main St. - Annville, Pa.

D. B. SHIFFER GRADUATE OPTICIAN

Eyes Examined, Glasses Fitted, Broken
Lenses Replaced, anything in
the Optical line

East Main St ANNVILLE

Lebanon Valley College

First Class Faculty.

Group System.

Special Facilities in Chemistry
and Biology

Music, Art, Oratory

Ladies in the Hall are under the constant care of the Dean of Women.

Write for catalogue

Rev. S. D. Sossard, President
Annville, Pa.

D. L. SAYLOR & SONS CONTRACTORS and BUILDERS

Dealers in

LUMBER and COAL - ANNVILLE, PA.

WINDSOR HOTEL

W. T. BRUBAKER, Manager.

European, $1.00 per day and up
American, $2.50 per day and up

Midway between Broad Street
Station and Reading Terminal
on Filbert Street.

The only moderate priced hotel of
reputation and consequence in

PHILADELPHIA

Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute ESTABLISHED 1824 SCHOOL of ENGINEERING

CIVIL, MECHANICAL, ELECTRICAL and CHEMICAL
ENGINEERING, and GENERAL SCIENCE
Send for a Catalogue. TROY, N.Y.

COLLEGE NEWS

LEBANON VALLEY COLLEGE

Volume VI.

Annville, Pa., Tuesday, October 20, 1914

No. 6

Entered as second-class matter November 12, 1910, at the post office at Annville, Pa., under the act of March 3, 1879

RECEPTION TO NEW PASTOR

The reception given last Wednesday evening in the United Brethren church, for the new pastor, Dr. S. F. Daugherty, was a marked success. The social room which was filled with people, was attractively decorated with flowers, ferns, palms, rubber plants and dwarf pine trees.

The following program lent materially to the success of the reception. Dr. Daugherty offered the opening prayer which was followed by a blackboard talk by Professor Lehman, who urged those present to support the new pastor in his work here to the best of their ability. Mrs. C. M. Coover then spoke in behalf of the women's organizations of the church. In the absence of Pres. G. D. Gossard, Prof. S. H. Derickson welcomed Dr. Daugherty in behalf of the college, and spoke of the privilege and responsibility which fall to the lot of a college pastor in imparting to the students the necessary teachings which are needed at this period of their life. Miss May Belle Adams, Professor of Oratory at the college, elicited much favorable comment by her interpretation of "Haunted By a Song," and Kipling's poem, entitled "If." The solos by Miss Gertrude K. Schmidt, Professor of Voice Culture, were highly appreciated, and added much to the evening's enjoyment.

After this regular program, which was varied by selections by the church choir, a male quartette and a ladies' quartette, the ministers of the Annville churches made a few remarks welcoming the new pastor. Professor A. E. Shroyer and Dr. S. F. Daugherty also gave short talks. Judging from the manner in which the new pastor has already entered into the different activities, we may prophesy for him a most successful pastorate at Annville.

CALENDAR.

Tuesday, October 20, 6.15 P. M.—Prayer Meeting.

Friday, October 23, 7.15 P. M.—Literary Societies.

Saturday, October 24—Football: Lebanon Valley Varsity vs. Gettysburg, at Gettysburg; Lebanon Valley Reserves vs. Palmyra A. C., 3.00 P. M. at Palmyra. 8.00 P. M., First Star Course Entertainment, the Cathedral Choir, Engle Hall.

Sunday, October 25, 1.00 P. M.—Christian Associations.

Mr. George Zeigler, of York, visited his sister, Helen, '17, at the college, over Sunday.

TUG-OF-WAR WON BY FRESHMEN

At the decision of the Senior-Junior Council the Freshman-Sophomore tug-of-war was held Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock on the athletic field. This first clash of arms between the underclassmen had been anxiously awaited ever since the challenge was issued several weeks ago. The tug consisted of two halves of five minutes each. Only ten men could participate on each side with five men for substitutes.

The classes were pretty evenly matched in the first pull. First one side gave and then the other until, after four minutes and thirty seconds, the Sophomores pulled the Freshmen across the line. The Sophs had gained one point; the remaining thirty seconds of the first half decided nothing, for both sides held firm. Thus at the end of the first five minutes, the score stood 1 to 0 in favor of the Sophomores.

The second quarter, however, turned the tables. The Freshmen pulled the Sophomores over three times during the next five minutes. Although the Sophomores tugged with all their might and for a time held their own, they could not gain, and were finally pulled over the line. The final score was 3 to 1 in favor of the Freshmen.

As a result of the victory, the class of 1918 were permitted to display their pennants with their colors which are orange and black. According to custom each class held a "feed" in the evening.

LEBANON VALLEY STUDENTS ENJOY WEEK-END AT MOUNT GRETN

The call of the out-of-doors is exceedingly strong at this time of the year when the autumn season is fantastically tinting the leaves on the trees. In response to this call many week-end house parties have been held at Mt. Gretna the last few weeks.

At the house parties at Mt. Gretna over the last week-end Lebanon Valley was well represented. Those from Lebanon Valley who were present at these parties were the Misses Pauline Clark, Esther Bachman,

EASY VICTORY FOR OUR TEAM

Our foot-ball team easily walked away with the game on Saturday with Western Maryland—indeed much more easily than the score of 21-3 seems to indicate. This game was played on the Lebanon Fair Grounds. There were several reasons for playing the game in Lebanon and they are these: First, because a number of "fans" and our Alumni from Lebanon believed it would advertise the college there; and, second, because the athletic board hoped to realize enough from gate receipts to pay the guarantee. It was only an experiment, and one that will not be repeated; for the results did not warrant it.

The field was very muddy, due to the recent rains, and good foot ball was impossible. It took only a few minutes to demonstrate that Western Maryland was no match for our team. Western Maryland received the kick off and could do nothing with our line, so they kicked to Keating and after about five minutes of play Captain Snively went across for the first touchdown. He then kicked the goal. In the second quarter Lerew took the ball on an end run, and by some clever dodging made a spirited dash of about sixty yards, but was finally overtaken by Peiffer on the five yard line. Lerew took the ball over on the next play and Snively again kicked the goal. The half ended with the score 14-0.

The second half was marked by several fine forward passes, one of which was skilfully handled by Keating and netted about forty yards resulting in our last touchdown. The regulars were almost all removed during the early part of the second half and nine substitutes took their places. Western Maryland scored near the end of the game when they recovered a Lebanon Valley fumble, and, after getting the ball in front of the goal posts, Garrett dropped back and made a fine goal kick from the field. Fumbling on the part of our team has become chronic, and if this is not remedied before next Saturday we cannot hope to win from Gettysburg. Coach Guyer says that the score might have been 40 or 50 had he so desired, and the men had not fumbled as they did. The scores of Saturday still further advance our standing this year among the other colleges. F. & M. defeated Swarthmore 1 to 0. Swarthmore defeated Bucknell the previous Saturday, 9-0. Penn defeated the navy. Our score against F. & M. was better than

Continued on page 2

College News

Issued weekly during the College Year by the Students of Lebanon Valley College

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

FRANK M. VAN SCHAAK '15

ASSOCIATE EDITORS

FLORENCE MENTZ '15

S. HUBER HEINTZELMAN '16

Social

MYRA G. KIRACOFE '15

Athletics

CARL G. SNAVELY '15

Alumni

MASON LONG '16

Music

RAY P. CAMPBELL '16

BUSINESS MANAGER

FABER E. STENGLE '15

Subscription Price $1.00 per year

Single Copies 5 cts.

Clubs of ten, 75 cts.

Address all business communications to FABER E. STENGLE '15 all other matter to Room 22, Administration Building Lebanon Valley College, Annville, Pa.

PERSISTENCY.

Of all the positive qualities of success, persistency ranks among the highest, for no success has ever been attained without it. The quality of persistency is to the man possessing it as the anchor is to a sea craft. When the storms of life surround him and he is in danger of being cast upon the rocky coast of disappointment and possibly failure, it is then that persistency plays its part and anchors him safely till the disturbing clouds which threatened him have passed.

Speaking of persistency suggests the advice which Josh Billings gave to his son, "Konsider the postage stamp, my son. Its usefulness konsists in its ability to stick to one thing until its gets there." When we see a person of a changeable mind, one who tries everything and accomplishes nothing worth while, do we point to such an one and say: "There is a person I admire?" No, a thousand times, no! The person who is wavering, now in this way, now in that, never gets anywhere. To accomplish anything there is first necessary a definite purpose, but this is not sufficient. There must be added perseverance, a determination to succeed.

After playing before Queen Victoria, Paderewski was called a genius by the Queen. He replied that he had not always been a genius, but at one time he was merely an ordinary piano player. "I practised hours at a time," said Paderewski, "I practised days, I practised months, I practised years and now the world calls me a genius." A keen observer and practical thinker when asked, "What road leads to success," replied: "Any road that is macadamized with grit and sand." The railroad engines and trolley cars carry a supply of sand so that when the rails become slippery, or an extra heavy load is to be pulled, they may get a better grip. Thus, when trials confront us and threaten to overwhelm our purpose, we have need to call into play every ounce of determination and grit that we may be equal to the task.

Persistency demands thoroughness; and more than that, it demands that when we attempt anything we should not cease till we have done it better than anyone else could have done it. Begin now to be thorough; for in this way only can one expect great results.

EASY VICTORY FOR OUR TEAM

(Continued from page 1)

Penn's.

Next week we shall play Gettysburg. We are even more anxious to defeat them than we were F. & M. They have a good team and have made some splendid scores. We can win if the men do their best to get into shape, and the students do their best to cheer them on.

MEMORIES.

In garden and on moor the flower will fade;

The feathered songsters south will wing their way.

The harvest time has golden made the fields.

The summer days have passed; first, autumn's tints,

Then, winter's sombre hues will clothe the hills.

But in our memory their slopes will e'er

Be green, and in our ears the songs of birds,

That bring into our hearts the joys of spring

Will mingle with the music of the rills,

That sing the glory of the woodland flowers,

While every breeze will gently to us bring

That sweetest perfume of the summer groves:

As on we go along the stream of time,

That rushes through the everlasting hills

And by the meadows green of memory.

F. M. V. S.

Y. W. C. A.

The Y. W. C. A. was especially fortunate last Sunday in having Miss Adams lead the meeting. She chose as her subject "Growth," and gave us a splendid idea of how to grow in Christian womanhood. Miss Hand sang a solo which was also much appreciated. The meetings have been well attended. This shows that the girls are interested in the work, in which everyone who can do so, should take an active part.

Y. M. C. A.

The Y. M. C. A. meeting on Sunday was led by Clayton H. Zuse. He took as a basis of his remarks the words found in Revelation 3:20: "Behold, I stand at the door." The nearness of Christ to our heart and his reason for being there were the two main points brought out. The meeting was intensely interesting throughout and of great benefit to all present. We were glad to see the increase in attendance.

THE SOPHOMORE HIKE

In the evening after the Sophomore-Freshman tug-of-war last week, the Class of Nineteen-seventeen proceeded to celebrate the events of the day. The celebration took the form of a hike and feed in honor of the boys, who had so nobly represented the class in the afternoon. About forty merry young people took part in the affair. They were most agreeably chaperoned by Miss Ora Bachman, Professor of Piano in the Conservatory. The guest of honor on this occasion was Mr. Joel Wheelock, Lebanon Valley's foot-ball star, and a loyal friend of "Nineteen Seventeen."

Promptly at seven o'clock the hikers started on their way. Their destination was Millarden, the residence of Mr. Henry Millard, a few miles from town. They found the large open field beside the home artistically decorated with beautiful Japanese lanterns. A huge, crackling bonfire stood in the center, bidding a warm welcome to the arrivals.

Before long marshmallows were being toasted over the scorching flames, and so the fun began. Time and again during the evening their classmates congratulated the heroes of the afternoon on their splendid work in the tug-of-war. After the marshmallows had all disappeared, various out-door games were played such as "Bingo," "Tag the third," and "Skip to Malou."

At about half-past nine every one gathered once more around the fire to sing songs, give yells, and tell stories while the ice cream and wafers were being served. After all had their fill, they returned again to their games, jokes and songs. Shortly before leaving each person was given some lolly-pops for use on the way home. Then with a hearty yell for Mr. Henry Millard, the hikers started on their way back to Annville.

The night was perfect for such an affair and every participant was enthusiastic over the splendid time which he or she had enjoyed. After the whole party had collected before the girls' dormitory, the class yell was given and then everyone departed, tired but happy, for their respective homes.

ALUMNI NOTES

Mr. Lester Appenzeller, '08, formerly principal of the Chambersburg High School, has been elected principal of the Lebanon High School.

Miss Clara Horn, '13, will attend Columbia University the coming year. She is specializing in the department of mathematics.

Mr. Andrew Bender, '06, has accepted the position of professor of Chemistry at Richmond College, Richmond, Va., one of the best small colleges of the South.

D. Leonard Reddick, '14, visited Lebanon Valley friends a few days last week. Mr. Reddick received his annual license from conference this year and will enter the active work at once.

Mr. Merle Hoover has been elected head of the department of English at Otterbein University.

SOCIETY PROGRAMS

CLIONIAN.

Violin Solo.....Ruth E. Engle Debate—Resolved, That the Aero-plane as a Weapon of War has Proved a Failure in the Late Struggle:
 Affirmative—Ruth Huber, Esther Heintzelman.
 Negative—Ethel Houser, Helen Oyler.
 Piano Duet....Blanch Black, Ruth Whiskeyman.
 Book Review.....Mary Bergdoll
 Chorus ..... Society

PHILOKOSMIAN.

Doings at L. V. C.—Joseph Rutherford
 Who Are the "Thinking People"
 .....John H. Herring
 Debate: Resolved, That the great European War will make the United States the Leading Commercial Nation of the World:
 Affirmative—J. Arthur Wisner, Clayton H. Zuse.
 Negative—Albert G. Shaud, Ralph
 W. Stickell.
 Music..... Philo Quartette
 The Rise of Poland.. Joseph Donahue

KALOZETEAN

Mr. Brumbaugh in Public Life
 .....Alvin Shonk
 Piano Solo.....P. M. Linebaugh
 Debate: Resolved, That Senator Penrose Should Be Re-elected:
 Affirmative—Abram Long, Reuben
 Williams.
 Negative—Ammon Boltz, Harry Kottler.
 Reading.....E. F. Eichelberger
 The Political Career of Mr. McCormick.....Jos. K. Hollinger
 Extempore—
 Song ..... Society

NOTES OF INTEREST.

Reverend N. A. Horn, of Red Lion,
 Pa., was a visitor at the college last Monday.
 Rev. Mr. Crabill, of Hanover, Pa., spent Monday at the college with his son, Ralph Crabill, '16.
 Ruth Huber, '17, spent several days of last week at her home in Lancaster, Pa.

Mrs. Lorenz, of Roaring Springs, spent the week-end at the college with her daughter, Dorothy, of the class of 1918.

Mr. Hayden Myers and Miss Marguerite Barton, of Altoona, Pa., were guests of the former's sister, Miss Margaret Myers, '16, at the college last Saturday.

Rev. S. F. Daugherty, the new college pastor, addressed the students for the first time, in chapel, Friday morning. He invited every student to attend his classes, which meet every Sunday. He guaranteed that there would be no tuition and no conflicts.

The Misses Engle spent the weekend at their new home in Harrisburg.

William E. Lewis, '18, has returned to college after a visit of a few days at his home in Harrisburg.

Mary Basler, of the Academy, who has been ill at her home in Myers-town for the past week, has returned to school, much improved.

Professor Grimm and family spent several days recently in Red Lion and vicinity, visiting relatives and friends.

Mr. Horace Moul, who was enrolled as a student here last year, was seen at the recent East Pennsylvania Conference at Philadelphia.
 He contemplates going to California, where he will engage in Chautauqua work.

You are correct if you get your

LADIES' and GENTS'
 FURNISHINGS

At KINPORTS', Annaville, Pa.

Students' Discount. Packard & American Lady Shoes
 Arrow Collars and Shirts

IT'S LIKE THIS!
COLLAM'S
 FOR YOUR
GOOD EATS

THE COLLEGE BOOK STORE

HEADQUARTERS FOR STUDENTS' SUPPLIES

PENNANTS

CUSHION TOPS

BANNERS

NOVELTIES

KODAKS, CAMERAS, SUPPLIES

DEVELOPING AND PRINTING

CIRCULATING LIBRARY

PARKER FOUNTAIN PENS

DAVID B. BASEHORE

SUCCESSOR TO

HARNISH & SMITH

HARLAN P. FRENCH, President

A. B. FRENCH, Vice President

VINCENT B. FISK, Sec'y and Manager

THE ALBANY TEACHERS AGENCY, INC.

KNOWS HOW!

Twenty-four Years of successful experience in bringing together

Good Schools and Good Teachers

Our field: Public and Private schools and colleges; we have filled positions in every State in the Union

Send for Bulletin

81 Chapel Street, Albany, N. Y.

BURDAN'S
 ICE CREAM

Made in Pottstown and
 Lebanon, Pa.

Quality and Satisfaction

combined makes clear the
 reason why

Spalding's

are outfitters to champions, whose implements must be invariably right.

The Spaulding Trade-Mark represents
 years of leadership in the manufacture of athletic equipment. Write for free illustrated catalogue.

A. G. SPALDING & BROS.

26-128 Nassau St. 520 Fifth Ave. NEW YORK

SERVICES and CHARGES

Our services are worth more to all applicants than we charge. We earn
 more than we get.

We do not share our earnings with others. We have no local agents employed to "discuss" the qualifications
 of our applicants.

School authorities employing teachers through this agency are not open to
 the suspicion that they are sharing in
 the earnings of the agency.

Every year there is an increase in the
 number of applications for teachers
 coming direct from school authorities,
 and we are constantly enlarging our
 facilities.

These environments are appreciated
 by strong, self-reliant teachers.

THE TEACHERS' AGENCY

R. L. MYERS & CO.

Lemoyne Trust Bldg., Harrisburg, Pa.
 Co-operating agencies in Denver and Atlanta.

MORRIS GIANDONATO'S
 Electric Shoe Shop

Shoes repaired by machinery give better
 results than hand work.

Shop Work done while you wait.

Satisfaction guaranteed Prices right
STUDENT'S WORK SOLICITED

JOS. MILLER

FURNITURE
 and UNDERTAKING

West Main Street Annville, Pa

JACOB SARGENT

MERCHANT TAILOR

READY-TO-WEAR CLOTHING

Main Street Annville.

Theatrical Costumes

Academic Caps and Gowns.

ON A RENTAL BASIS

WAAS & SON, Philadelphia

WM. WALTZ
Hair Cutting and Shaving
Saloon
W. Main St. Annville, Pa.

THE
BLAZIER STUDIO
Photographs of Quality
839 Cumberland Street
LEBANON, PA.

CAPS and GOWNS
 Faculty Gowns and
Hoods. Pulpit and
Choir Gowns.
Judicial Robes
Best Workmanship
Lowest Prices

COX SONS & VINING
72 Madison Ave., New York

Wright & Ditson
Manufacturers and Dealers in

HIGH GRADE
ATHLETIC SUPPLIES
FOOT BALL, BASKET BALL,
ICE SKATES, HOCKEY,
GOLF, GYMNASIUM
APPARATUS

UNIFORMS for all Athletic Sports.
OFFICIAL IMPLEMENTS for all Track and
Field Sports.
Wright & Ditson SWEATERS are easily the finest
Choice Worsted, well made, perfect fitting.
Catalogue free.

WRIGHT & DITSON
344 Washington St., Boston. 22 Warren St., New
York. 16 So. LaSalle St., Chicago. Harvard
Square, Cambridge. 82 Waybosset St., Providence. 391 Main St., Worcester. 359 Market
St., San Francisco

THE REDPATH BROCKWAY LYCEUM
BUREAU

PITTSBURGH, PENNA.
Furnishes this Winter's Lecture Course for the
Lebanon Valley College

Season Tickets $1.00 Reserved $1.50

Better work and more of it. That's the policy of this Laundry. If you haven't your name on our list we'd be glad to place it there today. Fine shirt collar and cuff work a specialty here.

Hershey Laundry Co.
C. E. Brenneman Agt.

Dieges & Clust
"If we made it, it's right."
Official Jewelers of the Leading
Colleges, Schools and Associations
Class Pins, Fraternity Pins,
Medals, Cups, Jewelry,
Watches, Diamonds
1011 Chestnut St., Philadelphia, Pa.

THE FRESHMAN PARTY

On Monday evening of last week, after winning the tug-of-war contest from the Sophomores, the Freshmen, with their colors of black and gold flying everywhere, marched to the boys' dormitory with their well-earned trophy, the rope. Here they met the Freshman football men and then started on a hike to Mr. Kleinfelter's farm about three miles east of town. The one hundred Freshmen with Professors Long and Reed, made up one of the happiest hiking parties that ever left Lebanon Valley College.

The evening was an ideal one and, soon after the party had arrived at the Kleinfelter farm, a large bonfire was built to celebrate the tug-of-war victory. The early part of the evening was spent in singing college songs, playing games, toasting marsh-mallows and other forms of amusement. Later the happy party was invited to the house, where a lunch of sandwiches, cake, ice cream, candy, and lemonade was served. Soon after this the happy Freshmen started in couples on their return hike to the dormitories. The party was a great success in every way and aided in forming a closer relationship between the members of the large class. Those on the committee in charge of the party were the Misses Boltz, Hoover and Hershey.

CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC

The advanced students of the Conservatory of Music and School of Oratory will give a benefit recital on the evening of October 27, in Engle Hall. The small sum of fifteen cents will be charged for admission, the proceeds to be used for the purchase of new chapel hymnals. Everyone is urged to be present and, by so doing, show their appreciation of the efforts of the students in so worthy a cause.

The Men's Glee Club of the college has organized, and is practicing two nights a week.

The personnel of this year's club follows: First tenor, Messrs. Bender, Stengle, Eichelberger, and John Long; second tenor, Messrs. Earl Light, Earl Snively, Ernst, Barnet, and Deibler; first bass, Messrs. Mason Long, Bachman, Race, Berry, and Hummel; second bass, Messrs. Reber, Kleffman, Machen, Shonk, and Keim. Mr. Jamison will again be the reader.

Among recent additions to the Conservatory enrollment are Rachael Shenk, Elizabeth Oakes, and Harvey Kreider, all of Annville.

STAR COURSE

The Cathedral Choir will open the Star Course season Saturday evening, October 24, at 8 o'clock. This organization has a wide reputation in this section of the country and undoubtedly will afford a pleasant and profitable evening's entertainment. Tickets can be secured from any member of the committee for $1.00 for the season. The reserved seat chart will be open at the college book store Wednesday morning when tickets can be reserved for an additional 50 cents for the season.

Dr. Harry Zimmerman
DENTIST

W. Main St. - Annville, Pa.

D. B. SHIFFER
GRADUATE OPTICIAN
Eyes Examined, Glasses Fitted, Broken
Lenses Replaced, anything in
the Optical line
East Main St ANNVILLE

Lebanon Valley
College

First Class Faculty.
Group System.
Special Facilities in Chemistry
and Biology
Music, Art, Oratory

Ladies in the Hall are under the constant care of the Dean of Women.

Write for catalogue

Rev. S. D. Sossard, President
Annville, Pa.

D. L. SAYLOR & SONS
CONTRACTORS and BUILDERS
Dealers in
LUMBER and COAL - ANNVILLE, PA.

WINDSOR HOTEL

W. T. BRUBAKER, Manager.
European, $1.00 per day and up
American, $2.50 per day and up

Midway between Broad Street
Station and Reading Terminal
on Filbert Street.

The only moderate priced hotel of
reputation and consequence in
PHILADELPHIA

Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute
ESTABLISHED 1824 SCHOOL of ENGINEERING
CIVIL, MECHANICAL, ELECTRICAL and CHEMICAL
ENGINEERING, and GENERAL SCIENCE
Send for a Catalogue. TROY, N.Y.

Journal Publishing Co.

Printers

Main Street Annville, Pa.

COLLEGE NEWS

LEBANON VALLEY COLLEGE

Rufus H. Lefever

Volume VI.

Annville, Pa., Tuesday, October 27, 1914

No. 7

Entered as second-class matter November 12, 1910, at the post office at Annville, Pa., under the act of March 3, 1879

REPORT OF PENN. U. B. CONFERENCE

The one hundred and twenty-fifth session of the Pennsylvania Annual Conference was held recently in the beautiful new United Brethren church at Mechanicsburg, Pa. This conference has always been interested in every form of church work and the past year was no exception to the general rule as is shown by the record made. It stands for evangelism, education, foreign missions, home missions, church erection and all forms of church activity. The reports of the pastors showed splendid progress with a net increase of twelve hundred in membership, all assessments full and splendid progress along every line.

Lebanon Valley College has been, and is now, exerting a constructive influence in the conference, for all its officials and most of its pastors are graduates or have been students here. Dr. W. H. Washinger, class of 1889, was elected superintendent for the thirteenth time. Under his wise leadership, and aided by an intelligent corps of pastors and laymen, the conference stands in the front rank and is most aggressive.

Believing that the college and the conference must co-operate together in their work, and that neither can succeed without the other, the latter has always assisted the college in every way possible. At that session it unanimously adopted the recommendations of the Board of Trustees of Lebanon Valley College to raise for current expense for the college $2,500 additional to what had been contributed for that purpose. The college authorities greatly appreciate this and the similar action of the East Pennsylvania Conference. This will now give the opportunity for a strong effort to be made to raise the $250,000 for an endowment fund as recommended by the Board of Trustees.

Dr. Gossard gave his report of Lebanon Valley College, read a paper on "The What, Why, and How of Pennsylvania Conference," and presided at the "Lebanon Valley College hour," at which time most interesting five and ten minute addresses, on various phases of the college, were made by Doctors A. A. Long and A. B. Statton, and Reverends L. Walter Lutz, Gordon I. Ridger, M. R. Fleming, and F. Berry Plummer.

CATHEDRAL CHOIR WELL RECEIVED

The first number of this year's Star Course, The Cathedral Choir, presented a program Saturday evening which was appreciated in the extreme. The choir consisted of a ladies' quartette, a male quartette and a pianist.

During the rendition of the first part of the program, it being sacred in character, the choir wore the regular vestal robes, and as each number led into the succeeding one, the audience was asked to refrain from applause. That the solos and chorus work were greatly enjoyed was shown by the generous applause which they received at the conclusion of this part of the program.

Part two began with three quartettes for male voices which were followed by a violin solo, played in a very pleasing manner by Miss Daniel. Three selections by the Ladies' Quartette made up the next number. The pianist then showed by his rendition of Liszt's "Fifteenth Phantasy" that he possessed remarkable finger dexterity as well as an abundance of arm strength.

The Soldier's Chorus from Gounod's "Faust" was the first number of the third part of the program. This beautiful chorus pleased everybody. The remaining numbers of the program, coming in order, were: Songs for Contralto, by Miss Hager; Offenbach's "Barcarolle" sung as duet and chorus; Songs for Bass, selected, by Mr. Thomas. The Sextette from "Lucia" proved to be a most fitting closing number and the chorus was obliged to respond to several encores before the people left the hall.

The number was well patronized, both by the students and town people, and, judging from the splendid audience of Saturday evening, we feel safe in predicting large houses for the four remaining numbers of the course.

DAVID BASEHORE PRESENTS MEGAPHONE TO ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION.

The College Athletic Association is the proud possessor of a new Megaphone, the gift of David B. Basehore, the popular proprietor of the College Book Store. The instrument is of the famous Spalding make and of the most approved type, being very light and having fine carrying power. Cheer Leader Evans was proudly displaying its qualities on the campus the other day, and is sure that it ought to help us win more games. The Association appreciates Mr. Basehore's kindness.

THE VICTORY AT GETTYSBURG

After 20 years of rivalry at times so keen as to make the arranging of games impossible, the object of many a hot battle was achieved by our football men for the first time, on Saturday, when they decisively defeated Gettysburg, with a score of 24-9. As the score indicates, our men did much to wipe out the memories of many past indignities suffered upon that same field—the recollection of which now, however, gives rise to proud and happy thoughts. Not only did our warriors win the game, but they mauled the enemy from start to finish and showed complete and unmistakable superiority over our rivals to the intense and conspicuously increasing satisfaction of our loyal little band of rooters, whose glad cheers finally threatened to eclipse the despairing efforts of the home team's backers.

Our men entered the contest with the spirit that led Pickett's men to fame a half century ago on this same ground. They threw themselves desperately at the Gettysburg defense with such energy that the losers were forced to make many substitutions due to the incapacitation of their players. Our forwards plowed through their line followed by our backs who frequently dodged by the secondary defense for long gains. On our end runs our interference mowed down would-be tacklers in order enabling our men to gain consistently.

Gettysburg was hopelessly unable to advance the ball by straight tactics and resorted to the forward pass game. They were successful in three attempts and one of these caused a mix-up which resulted in Gettysburg's touchdown. Another allowed them to get within striking distance of the goal, and Hoar, quarterback, kicked a beautiful field goal. In the meantime, however, Lebanon Valley did not cease to show her scoring ability, and the Gettysburgers found little in their momentary success, to give them any hope.

Gettysburg started the game by kicking to Lebanon Valley. Immediately the team demonstrated its offensive strength by advancing the ball rapidly to the 30 yard line. At this point a forward pass of Snavelly to Wheelock was successfully executed, and Chief dashed over for Lebanon Valley's first touchdown. Snavelly kicked the goal.

Gettysburg again kicked, and L. V. again marched to the 30-yard line. Snavelly dropped back and

Continued on page 2

College News

Issued weekly during the College Year by the Students of Lebanon Valley College

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

FRANK M. VAN SCHAAK '15

ASSOCIATE EDITORS

FLORENCE MENTZ '15

S. HUBER HEINTZELMAN '16

Social

MYRA G. KIRACOFE '15

Athletics

CARL G. SNAVELY '15

Alumni

MASON LONG '16

Music

RAY P. CAMPBELL '15

BUSINESS MANAGER

FABER E. STENGLE '15

Subscription Price $1.00 per year

Single Copies 5 cts.

Clubs of ten, 75 cts.

Address all business communication to FABER E. STENGLE '15 all other matter to Room 22, Administration Building Lebanon Valley College, Annville, Pa.

THE INTERCOLLEGIATE DEBATES

The work of the participants in our inter-collegiate debates does not seem to be receiving the consideration commensurate with the efforts involved in the preparation required. From very early times the art of disputation has been accorded a high position in the field of intellectual activity. In a debate all the powers of the individual need to be brought into action. To begin with the diction of the speech must be above criticism. Although the marshalling of facts along a definite line of argument is the pre-eminent factor in such events, there are others only second in importance, such as self-control, bodily gesture, and the psychological intuition on the part of the speaker respecting the audience. Any one of these factors may be sufficient to throw the balance of decision to one side or the other. Thus the intense concentration of all one's faculties in formal disputation is readily apparent.

The official recognition of this expenditure of effort on the part of the debater, however, appears insufficient. It would seem proper that the students who represent Lebanon Valley College in the inter-collegiate debates, should receive some mark of distinction, either in the form of an hour of college credit, or a letter, or other insignia. The participants in athletics receive letters; why should not the participants in inter-collegiate debates also? Surely the debater is as worthy of recognition as the athlete. Some may object on the ground that the participant in a debate receives sufficient compensation in the training, experience, and honor acquired in such a contest; and that, since it is only a single event, a letter would be too easily earned. Such a conclusion, however, is unwarranted, and anyone upholding it must be ignorant of the preliminary work required. One who has kept in close touch with the work of the debating teams in the past will know that the debaters were preparing for the contest over a period of from three to four months in advance of it. This preparation involves, among other hindrances to one's college work, absence from classes, loss of adequate rest at night, and a constant drain upon the store of nervous energy of the individual engaged in it.

By way of comparison with one of the principal sports in which our students are engaged let us take, for instance, football. While this game is dangerous, yet the player is constantly developing his body, and is building up his vitality. The diet, even, of the football player is carefully looked after with regard to its strength producing qualities. The debater, on the other hand, receives no such attention, his nervous and physical systems, through loss of sleep and lack of exercise, are subject to a constant drain for weeks before the final trial, which in itself requires the expenditure of all the nervous energy at his command. The result is that at the conclusion of the contest he is in a somewhat dilapidated condition, to recover from which considerable time is required. We must also remember in this connection that a mental strain is harder on one's organism than a physical strain.

In conclusion: both debater and athlete receive some benefits from their efforts; the risks to health and the duration of preparation are about equal. Why, then, should the debater not receive some form of a letter? Moreover, debating represents literary ability—the attainment of which comes first in college life, and athletics second.

We are by no means trying to establish a new custom. At some institutions, such as Ames University, a gold letter is given in the form of a pin, watch fob, watch charm, or other insignia. We could cite many other instances of colleges and universities where letters are given in such contests.

Y. W. C. A.

The Y. W. C. A. meeting on Sunday was led by Miss Ethel Houser, who chose for her subject, "True Friendship." It was a subject of vital importance and the excellent talk of the leader was a benefit to every girl who was present. She said that we should look to Christ as our truest friend and form friendships according to our friendship with our Heavenly Father.

Miss Gantz sang a solo which was much appreciated. Miss Heffleman, chairman of the Association News Committee, gave a splendid review of this month's number of "The North American Student," and of "The Association Monthly." One very interesting review was that of an address of Dr. Glover, of Cambridge University, England, entitled "With Him." As many of the girls do not have time to read these magazines, a review of this kind is beneficial to all. The Misses Lorenz and Ziegler sang a duet which was greatly enjoyed.

At the close of the devotional meeting, a short business session was held, at which time Miss Oyler and Miss Bender were elected delegates to the Annual Student Missionary Convention to meet at Lancaster.

THE VICTORY AT GETTYSBURG

Continued from page 1

booted a placement kick over the bar for three more points, just as the period ended.

Gettysburg decided to receive the ball, and the blue and white showed the crowd that its defence equalled its offence, by forcing the weakening enemy back of its own goal line for a safety, increasing our lead to 12-0. This half ended with L. V. making rapid progress toward another touchdown.

When the second half opened, Gettysburg received the kick off and after two attempts at the line, they made the forward pass that brought their lone touchdown. Fresh determination seized the L. V. team and after a few rushes, Wheelock broke through the line and tore down the field for another score. A punt out was attempted and failed. Gettysburg made a final rally in this period and after a successful forward pass Hoar kicked their field goal.

With this effort the enemy seemed to lose all its strength and Mackert, Wheelock, and Snavely began a series of attacks upon its line that threatened to run the score into the forties, but due to a costly fumble and penalty two chances to score were lost, and the period produced only one more touchdown to the credit of L. V. Snavely plowed through the line for this and the attempted punt out again failed. The game ended with the ball in our possession in mid field.

At the sound of the final whistle the small delegation of Lebanon Valley students rushed madly on the field, yelling and scrambling for possession of the captured pigskin.

Lerew and Swartz were conspicuous in every play and too much cannot be said for the linemen who were the complete masters of their opponents.

Not a man was permanently injured in any way and Coach Guyer did not find it necessary to use any of his previously injured men who were ready to do duty if called upon. No game this season has left the team in better shape, and much may be expected from them in the few remaining weeks of the season.

THE RESERVES VICTORIOUS.

Saturday was surely a great day for Lebanon Valley College. Not only the Varsity but also the scrub team was victorious, defeating the Palmyra Athletic Club by the score of 19 to 0.

From the standpoint of good football, the Reserves gave a demonstration which considerably surprised the Palmyra players. But Palmyra showed remarkable strength on the defence, especially within her own twenty yard line. Time and time again she held for downs, when it looked as if the Reserves must score.

For Lebanon Valley Eichelberger gained the most ground, Kreider played hard and steady, and Inman showed up strong in both the line and the backfield. The Scrubs deserve much credit for their playing, so far this season, having won three out of four games played, and tied the fourth.

BURDAN'S ICE CREAM

Made in Pottstown and
Lebanon, Pa.

Quality and Satisfaction

combined makes clear the
reason why

Spalding's

are outfitters to champions, whose implements must be invari-
ably right.

The Spaulding Trade-Mark represents
years of leadership in the manufacture of athletic equipment. Write for free illustrated catalogue.

A. G. SPALDING & BROS.

26-128 Nassau St. 520 Fifth Ave. NEW YORK

SERVICES and CHARGES

Our services are worth more to all applicants than we charge. We earn
more than we get.

We do not share our earnings with others. We have no local agents employed to "discuss" the qualifications
of our applicants.

School authorities employing teachers through this agency are not open to
the suspicion that they are sharing in
the earnings of the agency.

Every year there is an increase in the
number of applications for teachers
coming direct from school authorities,
and we are constantly enlarging our
facilities.

These environments are appreciated
by strong, self-reliant teachers.

THE TEACHERS' AGENCY

R. L. MYERS & CO.

Lemoyne Trust Bldg., Harrisburg, Pa.
Co-operating agencies in Denver and Atlanta.

MORRIS GIANDONATO'S Electric Shoe Shop

Shoes repaired by machinery give better
results than hand work.

Shop Work done while you wait.

Satisfaction guaranteed Prices right
STUDENT'S WORK SOLICITED

JOS. MILLER

FURNITURE
and UNDERTAKING

West Main Street Annville, Pa

JACOB SARGENT

MERCHANT
TAILOR

READY-TO-WEAR CLOTHING
Main Street Annville

Theatrical Costumes
Academic Caps and Gowns
ON A RENTAL BASIS

WAAS & SON, Philadelphia

The faculty, the students and their friends are cordially invited to be present at the Annual Hallowe'en Party to be given by the Philokosmian Literary Society Saturday evening, October Thirty-first
Nineteen hundred and Fourteen.
The guests are requested to meet in Engle Hall at 7 p. m.

CLIONIAN.

Piano Solo.....Lillian Gantz
Original Story Contest...Catharine Harris, Merab Gamble, Helen Hoover, Dorothy Lorenz.
Vocal Duet..Ruth Strickler, Ethel Strickler.
"The Church and Social Crime,"
Ruth Heffleman
Current Events.....Violet Wolfe
Chorus ..... Society

PHILOKOSMIAN.

Has the Gentlewoman Passed?
Harold Wine
Sketch—R. E. Hartz, R. W. Stickell,
D. J. Evans.
Debate: Resolved, That the Internal Revenue should be increased for the Protection of the United States from any emergency.
Affirmative—Ray Campbell, Norman
Buhrman.
Negative—Guy R. Yarrison, Frank Attinger.
Violin Solo....Roy O. McLaughlin
What's the Use?...David B. Basehore
Impromptu.....J. Maurice Leister
Living Thoughts .....Editor

KALOZETEAN.

Current Events .....R. M. Keim

The Effect on Education and Morals of Moving Pictures...Russel Rupp Debate: Resolved, That Political Legislation will finally bring about Universal Peace.
Affirmative—I. C. Eby, Ralph Crabill.
Negative—D. Mason Long, G. W.
Hallman.
Piano Solo.....F. R. Walters
The Rise of Dramatic Music,
P. M. Linebaugh
Chorus ..... Society

Mrs. L. M. Beidler, Lehigh, Pa., visited her daughter, Ada, '18, at the college last week.

You are correct if you get your
LADIES' and GENTS'
FURNISHINGS
At KINPORTS', Annville, Pa.

Students' Discount. Packard & American Lady Shoe<sup>s</sup>
Arrow Collars and Shirts

IT'S LIKE THIS!
COLLAM'S
FOR YOUR
GOOD EATS

THE COLLEGE BOOK STORE

HEADQUARTERS FOR STUDENTS' SUPPLIES
PENNANTS BANNERS
CUSHION TOPS NOVELTIES
KODAKS, CAMERAS, SUPPLIES
DEVELOPING AND PRINTING
CIRCULATING LIBRARY PARKER FOUNTAIN PENS
DAVID B. BASEHORE
SUCCESSOR TO
HARNISH & SMITH

HARLAN P. FRENCH, President

A. B. FRENCH, Vice President

VINCENT B. FISK, Sec'y and Manager

THE ALBANY TEACHERS AGENCY, INC. KNOWS HOW!

Twenty-four Years of successful experience in bringing together

Good Schools and Good Teachers

Our field: Public and Private schools and colleges; we have filled positions in every State in the Union

Send for Bulletin

81 Chapel Street, Albany, N. Y.

WM. WALTZ
Hair Cutting and Shaving
Saloon
W. Main St. Annville, Pa.

THE BLAZIER STUDIO
Photographs of Quality
839 Cumberland Street
LEBANON, PA.

CAPS and GOWNS
 Faculty Gowns and
Hoods. Pulpit and
Choir Gowns.
Judicial Robes
Best Workmanship
Lowest Prices

COX SONS & VINING
72 Madison Ave., New York

Wright & Ditson
Manufacturers and Dealers in

HIGH GRADE
ATHLETIC SUPPLIES
FOOT BALL, BASKET BALL,
ICE SKATES, HOCKEY,
GOLF, GYMNASIUM
APPARATUS

UNIFORMS for all Athletic Sports.
OFFICIAL IMPLEMENTS for all Track and
Field Sports.
Wright & Ditson SWFATERS are easily the finest
Choice Worsted, well made, perfect fitting.
Catalogue free.

WRIGHT & DITSON
344 Washington St., Boston. 22 Warren St., New
York. 16 So. LaSalle St., Chicago. Harvard
Square, Cambridge. 82 Waybosset St., Providence.
391 Main St., Worcester. 359 Market
St., San Francisco

THE REDPATH BROCKWAY LYCEUM
BUREAU

PITTSBURGH, PENNA.
Furnishes this Winter's Lecture Course for the
Lebanon Valley College
Season Tickets $1.00 Reserved $1.50

Better work and more of it. That's the policy of this Laundry. If you haven't your name on our list we'd be glad to place it there today. Fine shirt collar and cuff work a specialty here.

Hershey Laundry Co.
C. E. Brenneman Agt.

Dieges & Clust
"If we made it, it's right."
Official Jewelers of the Leading
Colleges, Schools and Associations
Class Pins, Fraternity Pins,
Medals, Cups, Jewelry,
Watches, Diamonds
1011 Chestnut St., Philadelphia, Pa.

NOTES OF INTEREST.

Mr. F. L. Adams, Magnetic Observer in the coast and Geodetic Survey, who has been stationed at Sitka, Alaska, for the past five years, spent a few days at the college with his sister, Miss May Belle Adams, Professor of Oratory, en route to his home in Ashburnham, Massachusetts.

Rachael Dare, of the Conservatory of Music, who was ill for several days at her home in Harrisburg, returned to school last week.

Mary Wyand, of the Conservatory of Music, was called to her home in Hagerstown, Md., to attend the funeral of her grandmother, Mrs.
Bovey.

Margaret Myers, '16, spent the week-end at her home in Altoona,
Pa.

Clayton Zuse, '16, preached in the Zion's United Evangelical Church,
Annville, Sunday evening. A number of students were present to hear him.

Verling W. Jamison addressed a mass meeting on Local Option at Jonestown, Monday evening.

Don't forget the annual Halowe'en party to be given by the Philokos-mian Literary Society, Saturday evening, October 31. The guests are requested to meet in Engle Hall at 7.30. Come prepared for a good time, the Society will do the rest.

PAUL J. BOWMAN GIVES AD-DRESS AT PENBROOK.

On Sunday last the Otterbein Guild of the Penbrook United Brethren church observed Woman's Day.
Paul J. Bowman, President of the dent Volunteer Movement of our college, made the principal address of the evening. His subject was "An Unconditional Surrender."

BENEFIT RECITAL

Do not forget the benefit recital to be given by the advanced students of the Conservatory of Music and School of Oratory Tuesday evening,
October twenty-seventh. The admission will be fifteen cents; the proceeds will be devoted to the Chapel
Hymnal Fund.

MR. ADAMS GIVES TALK ON ALASKA

Mr. F. L. Adams, the brother of Professor Mae Belle Adams, gave a very interesting talk on Alaska before the Kalozetean Literary Society last Friday evening. After a general account of the many interesting features of this northern land, which is still only in the infancy of its development, in a very entertaining and graphic way he described the wonderful scenery which surrounds the quaint old town of Sitka, the capital of the territory. The talk was greatly appreciated.

Y. M. C. A.

Ira S. Ernst, who led the Y. M. C.
A. meeting on Sunday spoke on the subject, "Growth." The need of growth in the physical, mental, and moral sides of our nature, and the environment necessary for the best growth were discussed. The session was well attended, and much interest was shown.

Dr. Harry Zimmerman
DENTIST

W. Main St. - Annville, Pa.

D. B. SHIFFER
GRADUATE OPTICIAN

Eyes Examined, Glasses Fitted, Broken.
Lenses Replaced, anything in
the Optical line

East Main St ANNVILLE

Lebanon Valley
College

*First Class Faculty.
Group System.
Special Facilities in Chemistry
and Biology
Music, Art, Oratory*

Ladies in the Hall are under the constant care of the Dean of Women.

Write for catalogue

Rev. S. D. Sossard, President
Annville, Pa.

D. L. SAYLOR & SONS
CONTRACTORS and BUILDERS

Dealers in
LUMBER and COAL - ANNVILLE, PA.

WINDSOR HOTEL

W. T. BRUBAKER, Manager.
European, $1.00 per day and up
American, $2.50 per day and up

Midway between Broad Street
Station and Reading Terminal
on Filbert Street.

The only moderate priced hotel of
reputation and consequence in
PHILADELPHIA

Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute
SCHOOL of ENGINEERING
ESTABLISHED 1824

CIVIL, MECHANICAL, ELECTRICAL and CHEMICAL
ENGINEERING, and GENERAL SCIENCE
Send for a Catalogue. TROY, N.Y.

Journal Publishing Co.
Printers

Main Street Annville, Pa.

COLLEGE NEWS

LEBANON VALLEY COLLEGE

Volume VI. Annville, Pa., Tuesday, November 3, 1914

No. 8

Entered as second-class matter November 12, 1910, at the post office at Annville, Pa., under the act of March 3, 1879

HALLOWE'EN PARTY A GREAT SUCCESS

Surely the Philokosmian Literary Society must be in high favor with the good spirits who preside over the festive occasions at the Hallowmas season, judging by the success of the annual Hallowe'en party given by that society last Saturday evening. The weather was all that could be desired, clear, with bright moonlight; while the air was not cold, but just crisp enough to make pleasant the promenade which preceded the party.

At half past seven the guests assembled in Engle Hall preparatory to the march to the place of entertainment. For some minutes before the start the noise was almost deafening, and it would be difficult to imagine how any evil-minded witch or other undesirable spirit could exist in the midst of that din produced by the heterogeneous array of instruments in the hands, or rather the mouths, of the assembled company. When it was certain that the bad witches had all been driven away, the master of ceremonies, S. Huber Heintzelman, under the protection of four friendly spirits in fantastic garb, led the grand march out of the chapel along Sheridan Avenue. As an additional precaution against untoward interference from the realms of magic, the horns and other noise makers continued to be sounded now and then. The company were in the best of spirits, and many a merry laugh and gleeful shout gave evidence of the presence of "Jest and youthful jollity" in all the exuberance of their playful moods.

With this accompaniment of joyous mirth so characteristic of the season, the long line slowly wound its way out Sheridan Avenue, through some cross streets, and out Main street to the Quittapahilla which was crossed. After this there was no more fear of witches; for as it is averred, they cannot cross water. Indeed, while the procession was passing over the stream, one of the company exclaimed, that there was a black cat on the rocks below the bridge—a sure sign of the proximity of an evil spirit. The line then turned back toward the town by another route. Now and then on some unsuspecting head would fall a shower of confetti, coming down like snowflakes from the clear moonlit sky.

When the company arrived at the Kramer Building the place of entertainment, they were ushered into the large hall on the second floor, which

Continued on page 2

STUDENTS REJOICE OVER VICTORIES

At the beginning of the foot ball season it was decided that there would be no celebration by means of a bonfire till several games had been won. The close scores with the Carlisle Indians and Franklin and Marshall, and the victory at Gettysburg were ample cause for a big celebration which found expression in a triumphal procession and bonfire Wednesday evening. All college classes, on Wednesday afternoon were excused so as to give the fellows plenty of time to collect material for a bonfire. It may be of interest to note that all material used was either given to the students or was bought by them.

The students met in Engle Hall at 7.00 p. m., when "Sousa" and his band gave a rousing concert. When the remains of Gettysburg were brought down the aisle there were many tears shed, and "Sousa's" band played a dead march. After a few remarks by the cheer leader, D. J. Evans, a procession was formed in the following order: "Sousa's" band, the Varsity team in the 'bus pulled by Freshmen, the Scrubs, the Faculty, Seniors, Juniors and Sophomores. In this order of parade they marched around the Annville streets singing college songs and giving college yells till about 8.30, when they arrived at the athletic field. Here the procession was greeted by about two hundred of the citizens of Annville, who had come to rejoice with us over our victories. The centre of attraction, of course, was the huge pile of boxes and barrels topped off with corn fodder. Suspended above this pile were the scores 56-0 and 24-9, which were made by our team against the Indian Reserves and Gettysburg respectively. These numbers were constructed of white lath which stood out prominently against the darker background.

Professor H. H. Shenk was called upon to give a short speech before the lighting of the fire. While speaking he stood on a large box, which was part of the huge heap of fire wood. Before the lighting of the fire, the moon furnished ample illumination. The crowd received the speaker with great applause.

Professor Shenk spoke in his characteristic manner, introducing wit and humor, in addressing the large company of students and others who had gathered to witness the celebration. He said that last year and this year mark the dividing line between ancient and modern history in athletics at Lebanon Valley, and also

Continued on page 2

ANOTHER GAME FOR LEBANON VALLEY

On Saturday while the scrubs were continuing their winning streak at the expense of the Hershey A. C. the varsity was further demonstrating its right to a position among the leading football teams of the country by driving all over the Washington College team and rallying up a score of 42-0 according to the most approved methods of modern football.

As a game, the contest was far too one-sided to be interesting; but as an exhibition of good football it was a decided success from the Lebanon Valley standpoint. The interference on the wide end runs was irresistible and with the clever running of Donohue produced one of the features of the games.

Mackert, Loomis, and Lerew rounded tackle for long gains. The open field running of Mackert and Lerew was spectacular. Several trick plays were worked with great success and Snively plunged through the line for consistent gains. On the defense Lebanon Valley was impregnable; the work of Rupp, Donohue, and Loomis particularly standing out. The tackling of the whole team was deadly and with the vicious blocking seemed to tell quickly upon the spirit of the visitors.

Lebanon Valley started the game with a rush. After receiving the ball they dashed down the field and crossed the goal in four spectacular plays. The Washington attack was very slow and the Chestertown boys apparently used all the tactics possible to keep the ball out of the possession of their strong opponents. Consequently Lebanon Valley succeeded in scoring only two more touchdowns during the first half. In the second half Washington confined their efforts to the use of the forward pass, but with little avail. In the closing minutes of play Lebanon Valley gained the ball in midfield and produced the final touchdown by a series of line plunges. The game ended with the ball in Lebanon Valley's possession in the visitors' territory.

Lebanon Valley made many substitutions and several regulars were in the game only a few minutes. The substitutions were thoroughly capable and the absence of the regulars did not leave any ill effects upon the work of the team.

Miss Annie Phillips, Springfield, Mass., spent the week-end at the college as a guest of Prof. Roy Guyer, Physical Director.

College News

Issued weekly during the College Year by the Students of Lebanon Valley College

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF
FRANK M. VAN SCHAACK '15
ASSOCIATE EDITORS
FLORENCE MENTZ '15
S. HUBER HEINTZELMAN '16

Social
MYRA G. KIRACOFE '15

Athletics
CARL G. SNAVELY '15

Alumni
MASON LONG '16

Music
RAY P. CAMPBELL '15

BUSINESS MANAGER
FABER E. STENGLE '15

Subscription Price $1.00 per year
Single Copies 5 cts.
Clubs of ten, 75 cts.

Address all business communications to FABER E. STENGLE '15 all other matter to Room 22, Administration Building Lebanon Valley College, Annville, Pa.

A GIFT.

For years it has been the custom for the graduating class to give something to their Alma Mater as a remembrance and a token of appreciation. Some years the gift has consisted of books, presented to the library. At other times their appreciation has taken the form of a scholarship to some worthy student. The class of 1913 left as their gift the clock that now tolls out the hours and by whose hands the college classes move. The clock is a very valuable asset to the administration building and a gift much appreciated.

Last week the foundations were laid for nineteen fourteens' gift. It is a beautiful limestone entrance to be placed before the administration building. This was a thing that Lebanon Valley needed and the class is to be commended for their wise choice. The entrance which is now in the process of construction promises to add much to the attractiveness of our grounds. It is to be placed directly in front of the administration building, and will be in keeping with the dignified appearance of that edifice.

We can not thank the class of nineteen fourteen too much, and have taken this way to express part of our appreciation. We hope that the classes that follow from Lebanon Valley's halls will do as much for her, as the one that was graduated last June.

JOINT SESSION OF Y. W. C. A. AND Y. M. C. A.

The joint session of the Young Men's and Young Women's Christian Associations, on Sunday afternoon, was very well attended. The meeting was in charge of Miss Mary Daugherty, who chose for her subject "Methods." As a scripture lesson, she read, Matt. 14:27-32 and Acts 10:13-18. Mr. Zuse gave a very interesting talk on the subject of "Doubt." The vocal solo by Miss Hilda Colt was enjoyed by all. The music throughout the service was exceptionally good.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY A GREAT SUCCESS

Continued from page 1

was appropriately decorated with shocks of tasseled corn and other suggestions of the harvest time. From their shelter among the corn stalks banked along the sides of the room and in the corners, grinned the golden pumpkins, as if in great glee at beholding the array of happy lads and lasses, who to the music of the piano passed and repassed in long lines up and down the spacious hall.

After all had marched in, the evening was given up to care-free merriment. Some paid a visit to the far corner where several old crones in witch-like garb bent over their smouldering fires stirring their gruesome concoctions, the precise efficacy of which was known only to these delvers into the black arts. Here the guests heard the telling of their fortunes, and who knows but that many a heart went "pitty-pat" at the prophecy of the fulfillment of some precious hope?

Then there were the games, in which the guests participated with great zest. Again and again the great circling rings of lightly tripping figures swung round and round to the tune of "Bingo," "The Happy Miller" or some other favorite song. In the midst of this merriment the lights went out,—all except the Jack-o-lanterns which proved friends indeed on this occasion. This incident occasioned little inconvenience, however, as the glowing pumpkins provided sufficient illumination until other lights could be provided, and the temporary dimness only added to the air of mystery and magic peculiar to Hallowe'en.

Then, there were the refreshments to which the company were treated; the doughnuts, the sweet cider, the shining golden apples and the delicious pumpkin pie, were they appreciated? well, you should have seen the empty plates! After more games and some college songs the company departed at a seasonable hour, with grateful feelings toward old Philo who had entertained them so delightfully.

STUDENTS REJOICE OVER VICTORIES

Continued from page 1

that these same years also might be said to mark the period between the ancient and modern history of the influence exerted throughout the country by our college. Then, too, he spoke of the pleasure felt by the school at seeing the interest and good feeling which the people in the vicinity of the college have respecting this institution. When he had finished speaking, long and spirited were the cheers for this esteemed professor, who so well expressed the sentiments of the faculty and student body.

The captain of the foot ball team, Carl G. Snavely then put the match to the pile, which was soon burning in good earnest. When the flames began to shoot high into the air, the boys, led by "Sousa's" band, commenced a snake dance around the fire; the heat of which, however, soon became so intense that they were compelled to retreat farther and farther away from it. The light of the flames was visible for miles around. The spirits of the students ran high and the greatest enthusiasm prevailed. The snake dances were interspersed with college songs and dead marches, while the students paraded up and down the field.

It was not until the flames began to die down that those who had participated in the triumph left the grounds where the team had spent many an hour in perfecting its skill so that it might win these games which had just been celebrated.

STUDENTS GIVE BENEFIT RECITAL

The benefit recital given last Tuesday evening in Engle Hall by the advanced students of the Conservatory of Music and School of Oratory was a success in every particular. Each number on the program was rendered in a capable, artistic manner, and showed careful preparation on the part of the students. Not only was the recital a success from a musical standpoint, but from a financial standpoint, but well. The total receipts amounted to thirty-one dollars; the expense incurred was four dollars and sixty-five cents, leaving twenty-six dollars and thirty-five cents to be contributed to the Chapel Hymnal Fund. The attendance was unusually large and the audience very appreciative. The program was as follows:

1. Chopin, Impromptu, Op. 29...
.....Pianoforte
Miss Lillian Gantz
2. MacDowell, Shadow Dance...
.....Pianoforte
Mr. P. M. Linebaugh
3. Holloway, Allegretto Grazioso
.....Organ
Miss Mary L. Light
4. MacDowell, Witches' Dance ..
.....Pianoforte
Miss Luella Hertzler
5. Arensky, Bigarrure...Pianoforte
Miss Ruth E. Engle
6. A. H. Donnell, "The One Hundred and Oneth"...Reading
Miss Elta Weaver
7. Chopin, Nocturne, Op. 15 No. 2
.....Pianoforte
Miss Mabel Shanaman
8. Moszkowski, Air de Ballet in G Minor .....Pianoforte
Mr. L. C. Barnet
9. Schumann—(a) Widmung
(b) The Nut-tree
.....Songs
Miss Ruth Strickler
10. Huss, Impromptu....Pianoforte
Miss Mabel Bensing
11. Paderewski, Cracovienne fantastique .....Pianoforte
Mr. R. P. Campbell
12. Sketch, The Cab Waits
(Scene—Mrs. Murray's Sitting Room)
CAST
Mrs. Murray (widow)—Miss Josephine Ulrich.
Mr. Charles Graham—Mr. Verling Jamison.
Susan (maid)—Miss Anna Dubble.

Mrs. Von Bereghy was at the Conservatory Tuesday giving instruction in violin and 'cello.

Misses Katie and Jennie Light, of Annville, are receiving instruction on the piano at the Conservatory.

LITERARY SOCIETIES

CLIO-KALO JOINT SESSION

Piano Duet.....Luella Hertzler
Making Good Citizens of Left-Overs,
.....P. B. Gible
Readings.....Josephine Ulrich
.....V. W. Jamison
Quartette.....Ruth Strickler
.....Helen Ziegler
.....Earl Eichelberger
.....Mason Long
Sketch.....Mary Bergdoll
.....Esther Heintzleman
.....John Morrison
.....Frank Van Schaack
Parody.....R. Williams
Olive Branch and Examiner...Editors

PHILOKOSMIAN.

Current Events—C. C. Kratzer.
Essay Contest—John L. Berger, Joel
Wheelock, Rufus Ness.
Debate: Resolved, That the United States should declare her purpose as to the future political status of the people of the Philippine Islands; and to provide a more autonomous government for the islands.
Affirmative—Earl R. Snively, S. Huber Heintzleman.
Negative—Evan C. Brunner, John W.
Lerew.
Vocal Solo—John O. Jones.
'The Decay of the Art of Lying—Rufus Lefever.
A Drawing—C. Guy Stambach.
Visitors welcome.

You are correct If you get your

LADIES' and GENTS'
FURNISHINGS

At KINPORTS', Annville, Pa.

Students' Discount. Packard & American Lady Shoes
Arrow Collars and Shirts

IT'S LIKE THIS!

COLLAM'S
FOR YOUR
GOOD EATS

THE COLLEGE BOOK STORE

HEADQUARTERS FOR STUDENTS' SUPPLIES

PENNANTS
CUSHION TOPS

BANNERS
NOVELTIES

KODAKS, CAMERAS, SUPPLIES
DEVELOPING AND PRINTING

CIRCULATING LIBRARY PARKER FOUNTAIN PENS

DAVID B. BASEHORE
SUCCESSOR TO
HARNISH & SMITH

HARLAN P. FRENCH, President

A. B. FRENCH, Vice President

VINCENT B. FISK, Sec'y and Manager

THE ALBANY TEACHERS AGENCY, INC.
KNOWS HOW!

Twenty-four Years of successful experience in bringing together

Good Schools and Good Teachers

Our field: Public and Private schools and colleges; we have filled positions in every State in the Union

Send for Bulletin

81 Chapel Street, Albany, N. Y.

"THE NEW UNIVERSITY"

Extract from "The New University" an article by Anon Raymond, which appeared in the "Educational Review" for September, 1914.

"Today, all phases of American life are rapidly passing into the control of college-bred men. Even more than ever they fill the 'learned professions.' They have gone into industry; they are behind the desk and in the shops and laboratories of every industrial concern, large or small, in the country. True, many of our 'captains of industry' are self-made;
but their successors, and those successors' lieutenants thruout the field of industry, will be university products. Of college graduates in the business world, it has been said that ninety per cent. 'made good' as against not more than twenty-five per cent. of their non-college competitors.
To satisfy ourselves that college and university men are in the forefront of political warfare we need only remember the most recent presidential campaign, in which Yale, Princeton and Harvard sponsored the three leading candidates. In the sixty-second congress sixty-one of our ninety-two senators were college graduates; so were two hundred and fifty-four of our three hundred and ninety-one members of the House of Representatives."

CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC.

The first regular monthly student recital of the year was held Monday, October 19, in the Conservatory.
Officers for the semester were first elected and then a program consisting of vocal, piano and organ numbers was rendered by the following students: Misses Kathryn Kreider, Elizabeth Jenkins, Mabel Bensing,
Fleeda Kettering, Sara Thomas, Mary
L. Light, Dora Silberman, Ada Bos-sard and Myrle Saylor.

C. H. Fisher, '04, was recently appointed head of the History Department of the Trenton, New Jersey,
High School. Mr. Fisher received the degree of A. M. from the University of Pennsylvania in June.

Dr. Harry Zimmerman
DENTIST

W. Main St. - Annville, Pa.

D. B. SHIFFER
GRADUATE OPTICIAN

Eyes Examined, Glasses Fitted, Broken
Lenses Replaced, anything in
the Optical line

East Main St ANNVILLE

Lebanon Valley
College

First Class Faculty.

Group System.

Special Facilities in Chemistry
and Biology

Music, Art, Oratory

Ladies in the Hall are under the constant care of the Dean of Women.

Write for catalogue

Rev. S. D. Sossard, President
Annville, Pa.

D. L. SAYLOR & SONS
CONTRACTORS and BUILDERS

Dealers in

LUMBER and COAL - ANNVILLE, PA.

WINDSOR HOTEL

W. T. BRUBAKER, Manager.

European, $1.00 per day and up
American, $2.50 per day and up

Midway between Broad Street
Station and Reading Terminal
on Filbert Street.

The only moderate priced hotel of
reputation and consequence in

PHILADELPHIA

Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute
ESTABLISHED 1824 SCHOOL of ENGINEERING

CIVIL, MECHANICAL, ELECTRICAL and CHEMICAL ENGINEERING, and GENERAL SCIENCE

Send for a Catalogue.

TROY, N.Y.

Journal Publishing Co.

Printers

Main Street

Annville, Pa.

BURDAN'S ICE CREAM

Made in Pottstown and
Lebanon, Pa.

Quality and Satisfaction

combined makes clear the
reason why

Spalding's

are outfitters to champions, whose implements must be invari-
ably right.

The Spalding Trade-Mark represents
years of leadership in the manufacture of athletic equipment. Write for free illustrated catalogue.

A. G. SPALDING & BROS.
126-128 Nassau St. 520 Fifth Ave. NEW YORK

SERVICES and CHARGES

Our services are worth more to all applicants than we charge. We earn
more than we get.

We do not share our earnings with others. We have no local agents employed to "discuss" the qualifications
of our applicants.

School authorities employing teachers through this agency are not open to
the suspicion that they are sharing in
the earnings of the agency.

Every year there is an increase in the
number of applications for teachers
coming direct from school authorities,
and we are constantly enlarging our
facilities.

These environments are appreciated
by strong, self-reliant teachers.

THE TEACHERS' AGENCY

R. L. MYERS & CO.
Lemoyne Trust Bldg., Harrisburg, Pa.
Co-operating agencies in Denver and Atlanta.

MORRIS GIANDONATO'S Electric Shoe Shop

Shoes repaired by machinery give better
results than hand work.

Shop Work done while you wait.
Satisfaction guaranteed Prices right
STUDENT'S WORK SOLICITED

JOS. MILLER

FURNITURE
and UNDERTAKING

West Main Street Annville, Pa

JACOB SARGENT MERCHANT
TAILOR

READY-TO-WEAR CLOTHING
Main Street Annville

Theatrical Costumes
Academic Caps and Gowns
ON A RENTAL BASIS

WAAS & SON, Philadelphia

RESERVES WIN AT HERSHEY

The Lebanon Valley Reserves on Saturday won their fifth victory in a listless game against Hershey A. C., in which incompetent, officiating and ceaseless wrangling were prominent factors throughout. The score, 6-0, does not express the contrast of the teams, as it was only the frequent interventions by the officials that prevented the Scrubs running up a considerable score. The one touchdown was scored by Race when he made a sensational return of one of Dearolf's long punts, from the middle of the field in the goal line. The L.
V. boys gained ground consistently and held their opponents when on the defense, but owing to the extremely original interpretations of the rules and various technicalities introduced by the referee the well-deserved scores were not forthcoming. The reserves showed versatile football ability and their clever tackling and blocking were a puzzle to the chocolate makers.

Having defeated Harrisburg Central High, tied Reading High, and made a clean sweep of the independent teams in this section, the Scrubs have aided considerably in establishing prestige for Lebanon Valley football and deserve no small announcement of praise.

NOTES OF INTEREST

Miss Ethel Aldinger, York, Pa., visited Mary Bergdoll, '17, at the college, for a few days.

Miss Anna Fisher, Palmyra, Pa., attended the Hallowe'en Party and visited Myra Kiracofe, '15.

Mr. J. E. Irwin, Harrisburg, Pa., spent Saturday at the college with his daughter, Mary Irwin, '15.

A number of the five-day students remained at the college over Sunday, in order to attend the Hallowe'en Party.

Miss Esther Shannon, Quincy, Pa., visited her brothers Paul and Carl, over Sunday and attended the Hallowe'en Party.

Miss Edith Freed, '10, who is teaching in the High School at Berwyn, Pa., spent the week-end at the college with her mother, Mrs. Violette Freed.

CALENDAR.

Tuesday, November 3, 6.15 P. M.—
Prayer meeting.

Wednesday, November 4—Mathematical Round Table Meeting.

Friday, November 6, 7.15—Literary Society, including Clio-Kalo joint session.

Sunday, November 8, 1.00 P. M.—
Christian Associations.

Monday, November 9, 7.45 p. m.—
Second Star Course of season. Miss Marjory Lacey will appear in her portrayal of "Everywoman."

CLAYTON H. ZUSE PREACHES

AT WEST LEBANON

Clayton H. Zuse, '16, preached in the Saint Paul's United Brethren church, West Lebanon, Sunday evening. The remarks of the speaker were well chosen and the attendance was unusually large.

WM. WALTZ

Hair Cutting and Shaving
Saloon

W. Main St.

Annville, Pa.

THE BLAZIER STUDIO

Photographs of Quality
839 Cumberland Street
LEBANON, PA.

CAPS and GOWNS

Faculty Gowns and
Hoods. Pulpit and
Choir Gowns.

Judicial Robes

Best Workmanship
Lowest Prices

COX SONS & VINING

72 Madison Ave., New York

Wright & Ditson

Manufacturers and Dealers in

HIGH GRADE
ATHLETIC SUPPLIES

FOOTBALL, BASKETBALL,
ICE SKATES, HOCKEY,
GOLF, GYMNASIUM
APPARATUS

UNIFORMS for all Athletic Sports.
OFFICIAL IMPLEMENTS for all Track and
Field Sports.
Wright & Ditson SWEATERS are easily the finest
Choice Worsted, well made, perfect fitting.
Catalogue free.

WRIGHT & DITSON

344 Washington St., Boston. 22 Warren St., New
York. 16 So. LaSalle St., Chicago. Harvard
Square, Cambridge. 82 Waybosset St., Providence.
391 Main St., Worcester. 359 Market
St., San Francisco

THE

REDPATH BROCKWAY LYCEUM
BUREAU

PITTSBURGH, PENNA.

Furnishes this Winter's Lecture Course for the
Lebanon Valley College

Season Tickets $1.00 Reserved $1.50

Better work and more of it. That's the policy of this Laundry. If you haven't your name on our list we'd be glad to place it there today. Fine shirt collar and cuff work a specialty here.

Hershey Laundry Co.

C. E. Brenneman Agt.

Dieges & Clust

"If we made it, it's right."

Official Jewelers of the Leading Colleges, Schools and Associations

Class Pins, Fraternity Pins,
Medals, Cups, Jewelry,
Watches, Diamonds

1011 Chestnut St., Philadelphia, Pa.

COLLEGE NEWS

LEBANON VALLEY COLLEGE

Volume VI.

Annville, Pa., Tuesday, November 10, 1914

No. 9

Entered as second-class matter November 12, 1910, at the post office at Annville, Pa., under the act of March 3, 1879

CLIO-KALO JOINT SESSION

Last Friday evening the Clonian Literary Society met in a joint session with the Kalozetean Literary Society. In Kalo hall was assembled the largest number of members and friends at a joint session in the history of the societies. The Kalozetean officers presided over the meeting. After the devotional exercises had been conducted by the chaplain, the program proper began with a piano duett by Miss Luella Hertzler and Mr. Paul Linebaugh. Mr. Gible gave a splendid discussion on "Making Good Citizens of Left-Overs," showing that prisons should exist not alone to penalize unfortunates who have broken the laws, but should be educative in their nature, teaching them what society is, how it is held together, and how every man can find his best happiness as a law-abiding member of it. A humorous sketch was given by Miss Josephine Ulrich and Mr. V. W. Jamison which evidenced their well-known ability in acting. A quartette composed of Misses Ruth Strickler and Helen Ziegler, and Messrs. Earl Eichelberger and Mason Long, rendered "Crossing the Bar" which was much appreciated. That the sketch given by Misses Bergdoll and Heintzleman, and Messrs. Morrison, Van Schaak, Hollinger, Shannon, Graybill and Bechtel was greatly appreciated, was shown by the continuous outbursts of laughter and applause by the audience. The sketch was original and extremely humorous and thrilling, and each character took his part especially well. Mr. Williams gave a very humorous and exciting parody called "A Race of the Vegetable." It was well read and showed very careful preparation. The Olive Branch and Examiner by the editors were very interesting and appropriate. In response to the president's request, we were favored with several selections by the Metropolitan quartette. At the close of the regular program refreshments were served, and a period general sociability followed. The guests departed at a reasonable hour declaring that they had all spent a very enjoyable evening.

Y. M. C. A.

The spirit of rally was evidenced in the Y. M. C. A. meeting, which was led by Jacob Shenberger. Mr. Shenberger gave an interesting talk on the thought contained in the words "What is man that Thou art mindful of him."

MARJORY LACEY IN PORTRAYAL OF "EVERYWOMAN"

The second Star Course number of the year occurred on Monday night when Miss Marjory Lacey, a reader of considerable fame, read "Everywoman." Miss Lacey is an attractive, competent, and worthy young artist and she presented the play of the hour. "Everywoman" is a modern morality play and contains many clean and wholesome moral lessons.

"Since the days of chivalry when knights clashed steel for their lady-loves and went on crusades to prove their prowess, while they remained secluded in cloisters or in moated castles, womankind, of which the title role of this play is intended to be a type, has grown more self assertive and more bold—to every woman who nowadays listens to flattery, goes in quest of love, and openly lays siege to the hearts of men, this play may provide a kindly warning—to every man it may suggest an admonition, the text of which is contained in the epilogue to the play.

Be merciful, be just, be fair
To Everywoman, everywhere,
Her faults are many, Nobody's the blame."

The large audience and the applause which greeted the reader amply testified to her popularity and her skill in character portrayal which was greatly appreciated.

STUDENTS ENTERTAIN.

The following guests were entertained last Thursday evening by Ruth and Walter Loser at the home of their grandparents on Lancaster street, Annville: The Misses Marguerete Engle, Merab Gamble, Helen Hoover, Kathryn Ruth and Ruth Bender; Messrs. Kleinfelter, Katerman, Isaacs, Haverstock and Gemmill, all of the class of '18.

The home was beautifully decorated with autumn leaves and pennants. The colors of 1918, black and gold, occupied places of prominence. A long hike was enjoyed during the early part of the evening. Upon their return, the guests were especially favored with a reading by Miss Ruth Loser and with several piano selections by Miss Ruth Bender, in whose honor the party was held. Games were then played after which a most delightful repast was served.

PENNSYLVANIA WOMEN WILL VOTE

Great was the enthusiasm last Tuesday in chapel, when Mrs. Clara Laddy of the National Woman Suffrage Association of America, addressed the student body in the interest of the Woman Suffrage Movement. Mrs. Laddy was accompanied by Miss Hall, of the Pennsylvania Woman Suffrage Association, who addressed classes in the English Department after chapel. Mrs. Laddy's talk was greatly appreciated and elicited much discussion among the students. In essence her talk was as follows:

Seventy-five years ago education was thought necessary for men only; the woman was not considered as having any particular use for a higher education. Woman Suffrage stands for the education of everybody. This educational advantage should be far-reaching; it should fit everyone for self-government. The girls in our schools and colleges are as bright and apt to learn as are the young men. "Every man—good, bad, wise, or otherwise—may go to the polls and there cast his vote for the men who are to rule their wives and children as well as themselves,"—is this fair? is it right?

The affairs of state need the point of view of the women as well as that of the men. Woman is physically and psychologically different. Women are willing to entertain the viewpoint of men; but men as a rule will not give a place to the judgment of women. We have a government which is intended to be of, by, and for the people. Women are filling the requirements of citizens. They pay taxes and have educational qualifications equal to those of men. Their moral influence is greater than that of men; for which sex is it that in most cases has broken the law and become a drain on the community? Is it not the men who are in the majority in our jails and penitentiaries?

In ten states women already vote; but in twenty years at the most women will wield the ballot universally in their fight for national liberty from the evils threatening our land. The war among the European countries is testing the managing ability of their women who carry on the fight with sorrow and famine at home. While husbands, brothers, and sons battle for the life of their nation on the field with shot and shell the women keep the home alive and protect the social organization

Continued on page 2

College News

Issued weekly during the College Year by the Students of Lebanon Valley College

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF
FRANK M. VAN SCHAAK '15

ASSOCIATE EDITORS
FLORENCE MENTZ '15
S. HUBER HEINTZELMAN '16

Social
MYRA G. KIRACOFFE '15

Athletics
CARL G. SNAVELY '15

Alumni
MASON LONG '16

Music
RAY P. CAMPBELL '15

BUSINESS MANAGER
FABER E. STENGLE '15

Subscription Price $1.00 per year
Single Copies 5 cts.
Clubs of ten, 75 cts.

Address all business communications to FABER E. STENGLE '15 all other matter to Room 22, Administration Building Lebanon Valley College, Annville, Pa.

DEPTH OF LIFE.

It is the shallow pool that makes the biggest splash, the empty barrel that makes the loudest noise, and the dead tree that cracks the loudest when felled. In applying this principle to human beings we see that there are many who are greatly in evidence. Those who, if self-assertiveness and talk brought success, would be extremely successful. Of some of us it might be said, "What you say speaks so loudly as to detract one's attention from what you do." Unless one is able to back up with appropriate action what one lets others know in words, it were better for him had he remained quiet.

Temperaments vary widely. There are those who upon slight occasion are moved to a spontaneous outburst; while on the other hand, we meet persons who are, we think, almost incapable of having their feelings moved. Let us ask ourselves the cause of this. If we cast a stone into a shallow pool, there is a big splash since there is but a small quantity of water to withstand the shock. A man of slight experience and limited knowledge is like a shallow pool. The person with a larger experience and with many interests engaging his attention is not so much affected by a mere happening. He receives the same information and has possibly as deep an interest in some question up for consideration, as his more excitable neighbor, but he acts with quiet and thoughtful deliberation.

We need not be near a person of the former description in order to know of his presence; this is self-evident. But we may rub elbows with the calm, thoughtful, and great men of the latter class without being compelled to know of their presence. They are not boastful, but are humble, kind, and unassuming in their manner. Gladstone belonged to this type. The story is told of his going to see a sick man whose one desire had always been that he might see Gladstone before he died. Mr. Gladstone did not, previous to his visiting the sick man, know of this wish. In the conversation which took place the sick man made known the desire of his life, and it was then that Gladstone, in that friendly way of his, revealed his identity. This faculty of subjugating self and respecting another's opinion is one deserving of cultivation.

"It is always a sign of poverty of mind, where men are ever aiming to appear great; for they who are really great never seem to know it."

PENNSYLVANIA WOMEN WILL VOTE

Continued from page 1

of their community. It is the women this time who must also bear the brunt of carrying on the business and agriculture given up by the men fighting at the front.

If women are a good class of citizens,—and we believe they are,—and fulfill the requirements which male inhabitants must fulfill for citizenship, are they not deserving of the ballot? The men of our land must for once lay aside their male egotism, and answer "yes."

Y. W. C. A.

Josephine Mathias led the association meeting; her subject was "Women of Mohammedan Countries." Miss Davis read a part of the Koran in which the place of woman was described. Miss Suckling also gave an idea of the treatment women receive in Mohammedan countries. It is said that "The condition of its women is the truest test of a people's civilization. Her status is her country's barometer." According to this test, India, Turkey, and Persia are in a very low stage of civilization.

Misses Oyer and Ziegler sang a duet which was much appreciated. Miss Beidler gave a report on the Association Monthly, and the American Student for November.

This week is the World's Young Women's Christian Association's Week of Prayer. Special prayer will be offered for the Y. W. C. A. work in foreign lands where the war has wrecked so many homes and lives and where the association is bearing the woman's share of the strife, anxiety, hunger, bereavement, and terrified waiting.

The meetings are to be held every day at 12.45 in the ladies' parlor. They will not last long. Come and pray with us.

PRESIDENT OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES RE-ELECTED TO CONGRESS.

We are pleased to note that the Honorable Aaron S. Kreider, President of the Board of Trustees of Lebanon Valley College, has been re-elected a member of the National House of Representatives. The "News" wishes to offer hearty congratulations to Mr. Kreider, who has ever been a true friend of the college, and a loyal supporter of the movement to increase the efficiency of our institution.

THE SEASON'S HIGHEST SCORE

Lebanon Valley's scoring machine on Saturday again demonstrated their football ability by literally walking over the Middletown aggregation in a practice game on the Annville field. The score at the end of thirty-six minutes of play was 85-0.

The spirit shown by the individual members of the team was perhaps the best shown this season. The plays were run off with precision and lightening rapidity. A continuation of this style of play during the coming week means victory over Muhlenberg on Saturday.

Only once did Middletown show the least sign of making a touchdown. Brandt picked up a fumble and started down the field. Jaeger soon downed him, and Middletown's chance for a score ended.

Lebanon Valley opened the game by receiving the kick-off; and in a very few plays crossed line. After this it was only a question as to the size of the score. Every play used by Lerew was productive of good gains. Spectacular end runs followed close upon his ground-gaining line plunges.

For Lebanon Valley, Lerew, Wheelock and Mackert played the best game. The line-up:

Rupp	.....L. E.	Titus
Hollinger	....L. T.	Gingrich
Bachman	....L. G.	Arnold
Wenrich	.....C.	Snyder
R. Snavely	...R. G.	Lutz
Loomis	....R. T.	Kutz
Keating	....R. E.	Snavely
Lerew	.....R. E.	Brandt
Donohue	....L. H. B.	Bryons
Wheelock	...L. H. B.	Russel
Jaeger	.....F. B.	Gaup

Substitutions: For Lebanon Valley—Morrison for Keating, Walters for Wheelock, Race for Lerew, Mackert for Hollinger, Fulty for Donohue, Mackowitz for Loomis, Crabill for Wenrich, Bechtel for Bachman. Referee—Appenzeller. Umpire—Swartz. Headlinesman—Stickell. Timekeeper—White. Touchdowns—Wheelock, 1; Jaeger, 3; Donohue, 3; Lerew, 2; Loomis, 1; Race, 1. Goals from touchdowns—Keating, 7; Mackert, 2; Walter 1. Goal from placement—Keating, 1.

MATHEMATICAL ROUND TABLE

The monthly meeting of the Mathematical Round Table was held last Wednesday evening, November 4. Several new members were admitted, namely, Misses Davis, Dunkel, Harris and Heffelman. Messrs. Abraham Long, Atticks, Shenberger, Isaacs, and Jackowick.

The programme was a good one and enjoyed by all.

Prof. J. Lester Appenzeller, principal of Lebanon High School, visited friends at the college on Saturday.

Miss Myra Kiracoffe, '15, was called home on Friday owing to the death of her grandmother.

LITERARY SOCIETIES

CLIONIAN

Musical Programme.

"Cello Solo . . . . . Dorothy Davis Paper, "Opera Singing and the Public" . . . . . Sara Bachman
Quartette—Miriam Oyer, Kathryn
Boltz, Naomi Hand, Clara Suckling.
Sketch—Hilda Colt, Edna Spessard,
Mary Wyand, Elizabeth Jenkins.
Whistling Solo . . . . . Katie Ruth
Wagner, "Tannheuser," Arita Snyder
Vocal Solo . . . . . Fleeda Kettering

KALOZETEAN.

First South American Program
Discovery and General Features
. . . . . A. M. Long
Mountains . . . . . H. M. Bender
Piano Solo . . . . . L. C. Barnet Debate: Resolved, That South American Republics should have a central unit of Government.
Affirmative—H. E. Shaeffer, Norman Bucher.
Negative—George Kutz, C. R. Longenecker.
The Great River Systems. . Ray Light
Extempore Musical Number
Climate and Products . . . . .
. . . . . F. M. Van Schaack
Zoology . . . . . Alvin Shonk
Examiner . . . . . Editor

PHILOKOSMIAN.

Why Britain is at War . . . . .
. . . . . Joseph Donahue
Do Our Representatives Represent . . . . . Harold Wrightstone Debate—Resolved, That Pennsylvania should adopt an amendment to her constitution, requiring an Educational qualification for Suffrage.
Affirmative—Chas. W. Gemmill, Lester F. Snyder.
Negative—John H. Herring, Lester
B. Zug.
Piano Duet . . . . .
. . . . . A. H. Kleffman, Walter E. Deibler
Oration . . . . . J. Stuart Innerst
My Kingdom Come . . Paul S. Wagner
Living Thoughts . . . . . Editor

THE "WHITES" GIVE OYSTER SUPPER

Last Monday evening the members of the White Division of those who sold tickets for the Benefit Recital fulfilled their part of the condition, previously agreed upon as losers, by treating the members of the Blue Division to an oyster supper in Prof. Sheldon's rooms in the Conservatory. Places were set for thirty at prettily decorated tables, with a very unique but quite appropriate place-card, an oyster shell at each place. A repast in courses was served consisting of oysters in three different styles and their customary accompaniments, coffee ice cream, cake, bonbons, and wafers; after which several members of the party were called upon to give toasts, each one responding in a hearty manner. A social half-hour followed and then the guests bade their losing opponents good-night, after having expressed their appreciation of the "Whites" ability to act as hosts.

CALENDAR.

Tuesday, November 10, 6.15—
Prayer Meeting.
Friday, November 13, 7.15—Literary Societies.
Saturday, November 14—Football
—Varsity vs. Muhlenberg at Allentown; Reserves vs. Harrisburg Academy at Harrisburg.
Sunday, November 15, 1.00 P. M.
—Christian Associations.

You are correct if you get your
LADIES' and GENTS'
FURNISHINGS
At KINPORTS', Annville, Pa.
Students' Discount. Packard & American Lady Shoe
Arrow Collars and Shirts

IT'S LIKE THIS!
COLLAM'S
FOR YOUR
GOOD EATS

THE COLLEGE BOOK STORE

HEADQUARTERS FOR STUDENTS' SUPPLIES
PENNANTS BANNERS
CUSHION TOPS NOVELTIES
KODAKS, CAMERAS, SUPPLIES
DEVELOPING AND PRINTING
CIRCULATING LIBRARY PARKER FOUNTAIN PENS
DAVID B. BASEHORE
SUCCESSOR TO
HARNISH & SMITH

HARLAN P. FRENCH, President

A. B. FRENCH, Vice President

VINCENT B. FISK, Sec'y and Manager

THE ALBANY TEACHERS AGENCY, INC.
KNOWS HOW!

Twenty-four Years of successful experience in bringing together
Good Schools and Good Teachers
Our field: Public and Private schools and colleges; we have
filled positions in every State in the Union
Send for Bulletin 81 Chapel Street, Albany, N. Y.

Dr. Harry Zimmerman
DENTIST

W. Main St. - Annville, Pa.

D. B. SHIFFER
GRADUATE OPTICIAN

Eyes Examined, Glasses Fitted, Broken
Lenses Replaced, anything in
the Optical line

East Main St ANNVILLE

Lebanon Valley
College

First Class Faculty.
Group System.
Special Facilities in Chemistry
and Biology
Music, Art, Oratory

Ladies in the Hall are under the constant care of the Dean of Women.

Write for catalogue

Rev. J. D. Sossard, President
Annville, Pa.

D. L. SAYLOR & SONS
CONTRACTORS and BUILDERS

Dealers in
LUMBER and COAL - ANNVILLE, PA.

Journal Publishing Co.

Printers

Main Street Annville, Pa.

WINDSOR HOTEL

W. T. BRUBAKER, Manager.
European, $1.00 per day and up
American, $2.50 per day and up

Midway between Broad Street
Station and Reading Terminal
on Filbert Street.

The only moderate priced hotel of
reputation and consequence in
PHILADELPHIA

Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute
ESTABLISHED 1824 SCHOOL of ENGINEERING

CIVIL, MECHANICAL, ELECTRICAL and CHEMICAL
ENGINEERING, and GENERAL SCIENCE
Send for a Catalogue. TROY, N.Y.

BURDAN'S ICE CREAM

Made in Pottstown and Lebanon, Pa.

Quality and Satisfaction

combined makes clear the reason why

Spalding's

are outfitters to champions, whose implements must be invariably right.

The Spalding Trade-Mark represents years of leadership in the manufacture of athletic equipment. Write for free illustrated catalogue.

A. G. SPALDING & BROS.

126-128 Nassau St. 520 Fifth Ave. NEW YORK

SERVICES and CHARGES

Our services are worth more to all applicants than we charge. We earn more than we get.

We do not share our earnings with others. We have no local agents employed to "discuss" the qualifications of our applicants.

School authorities employing teachers through this agency are not open to the suspicion that they are sharing in the earnings of the agency.

Every year there is an increase in the number of applications for teachers coming direct from school authorities, and we are constantly enlarging our facilities.

These environments are appreciated by strong, self-reliant teachers.

THE TEACHERS' AGENCY

R. L. MYERS & CO.

Lemoyne Trust Bldg., Harrisburg, Pa.
Co-operating agencies in Denver and Atlanta.

MORRIS GIANDONATO'S Electric Shoe Shop

Shoes repaired by machinery give better results than hand work.

Shop Work done while you wait.

Satisfaction guaranteed Prices right
STUDENT'S WORK SOLICITED

JOS. MILLER

FURNITURE and UNDERTAKING

West Main Street Annville, Pa

JACOB SARGENT

MERCHANT TAILOR

READY-TO-WEAR CLOTHING
Main Street Annville

Theatrical Costumes
Academic Caps and Gowns
ON A RENTAL BASIS

WAAS & SON, Philadelphia

VICTORY FOR MINISTERS' SONS.

The Ministerial Association's foot ball eleven was raked from stem to stem by the swift "Preachers' Sons" at the Annville field on Monday afternoon. Coach Evans' team appeared to be much the stronger team, especially on offence. It is a known fact that foot ball teams, like the individual, have distinct on and off days. Much was expected of the weighty "Ministers," but the line was battered time and again by Capt. McNelly and his followers. Stambach could be counted on for consistent gains through the victors' line and he showed good head work in picking the open places. The "Heathens," as the Ministers' Sons were called, rolled up 19 points on the preachers' opposition. As soon as the "Heathens" received the ball, Williams tucked the ball under his arm and ran 60 yards for a touchdown. Capt. McNelly kicked the goal. Later Snyder, the plucky left end ran for a touchdown after receiving a fine forward pass. To even things a bit the other plucky end, Mason Long, received a forward pass and ran for the final touchdown. Coach Murphy deserves much credit, however, for instilling as much foot ball as he did into the minds and hearts of the ministers. Line-up:

MINISTERS	PREACHERS' SONS
Jamison . . . . .	L. E. . . . . Snyder
Shettel . . . . .	L. T. . . . . Madiera
Ernst . . . . .	L. G. . . . . C. Shannon
Kottler . . . . .	C. . . . . P. Shannon
Zuse . . . . .	R. . . . . Kleffman
Hummel . . . . .	R. T. . . . . Rhoades
Morrison . . . . .	R. E. . . . . M. Long
Jones . . . . .	Q. B. . . . . McNelly
Stambach . . . . .	L. H. B. . . . . J. Long
Ness . . . . .	R. H. B. . . . . Williams
Brenneman . . . . .	F. B. . . . . Mauer

Substitutions—Zug for Ernst; Walters for Kleffman. Touchdowns, Williams, Snyder and M. Long. Goals from touchdown—McNelly. Referee—Carl Snively. Umpire, Ralph Strickel. Head linesman—Robert Hartz. Time-keeper—Harold White. Time of quarters—eight minutes.

NOTES OF INTEREST.

Ruth Heffelman, '17, was entertained over the week-end at the home of her roommate, Ellen Moyer. Naomi Beaverson, '16, spent the week-end at her home in York county.

Mrs. McLaughlin, accompanied by her daughter, Mary, visited her son, Roy, on Friday.

Miss Marion E. Richard, of Dalls-town, visited friends at the college over the week-end.

Hilda Colt, '18, spent Saturday and Sunday in Harrisburg.

J. A. Walters, '14, a law student at Dickinson, visited the Kalozetean Literary Society on Friday evening.

DR. GOSSARD MAKES

ADDRESS AT PALMYRA

Last Sunday President George D. Gossard, of the college, made two addresses at the Palmyra United Brethren church, in the interest of Lebanon Valley. His setting forth of the many advantages offered by our institution and the great advance it has made in the last few years elicited much favorable comment and interested many new friends in our work here.

WM. WALTZ

Hair Cutting and Shaving Saloon

W. Main St.

Annville, Pa.

THE BLAZIER STUDIO

Photographs of Quality
839 Cumberland Street
LEBANON, PA.

CAPS and GOWNS

Faculty Gowns and Hoods. Pulpit and Choir Gowns.

Judicial Robes

Best Workmanship
Lowest Prices

COX SONS & VINING

72 Madison Ave., New York

Wright & Ditson

Manufacturers and Dealers in

HIGH GRADE
ATHLETIC SUPPLIES

FOOT BALL, BASKET BALL,
ICE SKATES, HOCKEY,
GOLF, GYMNASIUM
APPARATUS

UNIFORMS for all Athletic Sports.
OFFICIAL IMPLEMENTS for all Track and Field Sports.
Wright & Ditson SWEATERS are easily the finest Choice Worsted, well made, perfect fitting. Catalogue free.

WRIGHT & DITSON

344 Washington St., Boston. 22 Warren St., New York. 16 So. LaSalle St., Chicago. Harvard Square, Cambridge. 82 Waybosset St., Providence. 391 Main St., Worcester. 359 Market St., San Francisco

THE

REDPATH BROCKWAY LYCEUM
BUREAU

PITTSBURGH, PENNA.

Furnishes this Winter's Lecture Course for the
Lebanon Valley College

Season Tickets $1.00 Reserved $1.50

Better work and more of it. That's the policy of this Laundry. If you haven't your name on our list we'd be glad to place it there today. Fine shirt collar and cuff work a specialty here.

Hershey Laundry Co.

C. E. Brenneman Agt.

Dieges & Clust

"If we made it, it's right."

Official Jewelers of the Leading Colleges, Schools and Associations

Class Pins, Fraternity Pins,
Medals, Cups, Jewelry,
Watches, Diamonds

1011 Chestnut St., Philadelphia, Pa

COLLEGE NEWS

Rufus H. Lefever

9 15

LEBANON VALLEY COLLEGE

Volume VI. Annville, Pa., Tuesday, November 17, 1914

No. 10

Entered as second-class matter November 12, 1910, at the post office at Annville, Pa., under the act of March 3, 1879

A VITAL ISSUE ABLY DISCUSSED

Mr. Neil Dow Cranmer, traveling secretary of the Intercollegiate Prohibition Association, spoke to the student body in chapel on Friday morning on the liquor question. In his opening remarks, he clearly defined the Intercollegiate Prohibition Association as not a branch of the Prohibition party nor a Total-Abstinence League, but an organization formed among the students of two hundred and sixty colleges for the purpose of studying the liquor question in all its phases. He brought out the fact that as far back as the early history of the Chinese Empire the evil effects of alcohol were known, and laws were enacted prohibiting the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors. He showed that the sentiment has grown in favor of a saloonless nation gradually from the year 1800 up to the present time, until now we have almost one-third of the Union dry.

He told us that the temperance question is not alone an economic, or political, or moral question, but is all three combined. He then advanced methods by which this great curse could be wiped out of our fair land without any labor panics, or the tying up of finances, or any hardship to the farmers who produce the cereal products now used in the manufacture of liquors. In proportion to the total crop of cereal products, the percentage consumed in making intoxicants is very small.

Mr. Cranmer's presentation of the subject was clear, forceful, and convincing, and brought home to his audience the great progress made in fighting this menace to our civilization, and the importance of everyone's taking a stand against it.

PROF. SHELDON ENTERTAINS MEN'S GLEE CLUB

Last Wednesday night after the usual Glee Club rehearsal, Professor Sheldon requested all the members to come to his studio for a few minutes. On entering the room, all were surprised to see tables scattered around in banquet style. However, it was soon quite evident what it was all about. Mrs. Sheldon and Professor Seltzer soon brought in cream, chocolate cake, and some rich chocolate syrup.

Needless to say, the members of the club enjoyed it exceedingly and all the more because it was so unexpected. After expressing their thanks and giving yells for the hosts the company departed well pleased with the delightful treat given them.

WHAT OTHERS THINK OF US

(From "The Daily Item," Allentown, Pa., Nov. 12, 1914.)

THE LEBANON VALLEY GAME

The game with Lebanon Valley next Saturday at 2.30 p. m. will be one of the hardest on Muhlenberg's schedule. Lebanon Valley this year has a team that ranks with the strongest in Pennsylvania, as is proven by their record:

	L. V.	Opp.
Indians .....	0	7
*Penn Brook .....	30	7
Indian Reserve .....	56	0
Franklin & Marshall ..	0	3
W. Maryland .....	21	3
Gettysburg .....	24	9
Washington .....	41	0
Middletown .....	85	0
*Totals .....	257	29

In the opening game with Carlisle they held Glen Warner's Redskins scoreless for the first three periods, Carlisle scoring their single touchdown in the fourth only by the most desperate play.

In their game with the Indian reserves they gave their dusky opponents only two first downs, outplaying them at every stage of the game.

Franklin and Marshall, the team that this year triumphed over Penn, met their surprise of the season, when they barely succeeded in nosing out a victory over the Lebanon boys by a field goal kicked in the last two minutes of play.

Western Maryland was another easy victim falling to the tune of 21 to 3. Maryland's lone score was also a field goal, the result of a desperate fourth quarter attack.

Gettysburg was outclassed in every stage of the game. Time and again the Annville warriors tore great holes in their line for gains of eight and ten yards.

Washington College was swamped by the 41 to 0 score, representing six touchdowns, two of them being in the first minutes of play.

Coach Guyer is fortunate in not only having a heavy eleven and one that works in machine-like precision, but has among his charges stars of the first magnitude. Wheelock, the Indian from Carlisle, is one of the greatest right halfbacks in the country. Captain Snavelly, who plays fullback, is a power of the offensive.

That the student body of Lebanon Valley College is determined that its football team shall win on Saturday from the Muhlenberg eleven is

Continued on page 3

OUR TRIUMPH AT ALLENTOWN

Some people, generally the disappointed members of the defeated teams and a few of our would-be friends, say that our team has been playing in luck this year; but on Biddler Field at Allentown Saturday such a climax was made to this successful season, that even to the most inexperienced football enthusiast the above-mentioned statement must appear unwarranted. For in one respect only did the Muhlenberg team have any advantage over ours, and that was in weight; we must admit that they were slightly heavier. In every other respect, in line plunges, in end runs, in punts, in spirit, "pep," and, in fact, in all the terms used to describe a football game, Lebanon Valley won.

Of course to our opponents the score seems incomprehensible, when they know as we do that three of our regulars did not play. But to us it proves what a really good team is, when, handicapped as it was by the absence of three men, they could still play such sterling football. It is a credit to any team to be able to send in substitutes who can so fill the positions that no weakness in the team ensues, but it rarely happens that back-field stars can be replaced with constellations of the same brilliancy, and this is what happened in our latest game.

When before the game Capt. Snavelly was asked about the length of the quarters, he voiced the spirit of the team when he answered, "Make it the limit." So when Snavelly kicked the pigskin for the opening of the game each player rejoiced in the fact that he had sixty minutes of heart-rending struggle before him.

The first quarter was really the one that won the day for us, for from the beginning to the end the ball was in the maroon and white's territory, and it was during this quarter that the only score of the game was made. Back and forth went the ball until Muhlenberg fumbled one of Snavelly's hard punts and Keating recovered it out of bounds on their ten-yard line. In the first play following this, the ball passed to Snavelly, hit him in the face and bounded through the line; with a pretty dive he recovered it and gained about two yards on what might have meant disaster. Then Lerew called our husky "Mack" back, gave him the ball, and he carried it across. Then Snavelly kicked a pretty goal from a very difficult angle and

Continued on page 3

College News

Issued weekly during the College Year by the Students of Lebanon Valley College

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF
FRANK M. VAN SCHAAK '15

ASSOCIATE EDITORS
FLORENCE MENTZ '15
S. HUBER HEINTZELMAN '16

Social
MYRA G. KIRACOFFE '15

Athletics
CARL G. SNAVELY '15

Alumni
MASON LONG '16

Music
RAY P. CAMPBELL '15
BUSINESS MANAGER
FABER E. STENGLE '15

Subscription Price $1.00 per year
Single Copies 5 cts.
Clubs of ten, 75 cts.

Address all business communications to FABER E. STENGLE '15 all other matter to Room 22, Administration Building Lebanon Valley College, Annville, Pa.

"A SCRAP OF PAPER"

The great European War, the greatest of all history, which is devastating the fair lands across the sea deserves our earnest thought, affecting as it does, directly or indirectly, the whole civilized world. We are fortunate during the present crisis in having at our nation's head a far-seeing statesman and, withal, a lover of peace. We are neutral and must remain so; we must be true to his oft-repeated adjurations to the American people to refrain from taking sides in the titanic contest. Still, this does not prevent us from considering the question from the standpoint of justice, so dear to the hearts of a free people. The spirit of fair play is a dominant one in American life. The doctrine that "might makes right" finds little sympathy in this land where the principle of equality of opportunity has reached its highest development. Our life, our literature, our institutions—the very atmosphere which we breathe is pregnant with that sweet something called liberty. We are very jealous of this priceless treasure, and well may we be; for when lost, it is hard indeed to regain. Thus it is that when the principle of justice is violated, our inner self rises in protest. When truth is wronged, the best that is in us decries the sacrilege.

The question before us should not be considered from the standpoint of racial prejudice, but from that of justice—that eternal test by which in the last day we shall fall or stand. Considered from this standpoint, then, the course of Great Britain in the present conflict has been consistently on the side of right. She held aloof from the melee, and even used her utmost efforts for a peaceful settlement between the other nations, until her own honor was menaced; then, and then only, with reluctance did she enter the conflict. The events which drew her into the seething vortex came with startling rapidity. The news of the violation of the neutrality of Luxemburg by Germany was followed by that of the invasion of Belgium. This constituted not only an infringement upon the rights of a neutral country, but also a breaking of international pledges on the part of Germany admitted by the Imperial Chancellor himself. Moreover, it was a direct insult to England, which according to international agreement was pledged to uphold the neutrality of Belgium; so, when the Belgians appealed to Great Britain for aid in preserving this neutrality, only two alternatives were open to the latter—either to violate her sacred obligations, or resort to arms to enforce them. Upon the rejection of her demands upon Germany that the neutrality of Belgium be respected, there was only one thing for her to do, namely to declare war; and even this was not resorted to until four hours after Germany had done so. Had England not resorted to arms when she did, she would have been open to a charge of cowardice, and would have invited further encroachments on her honor.

Not only was it a question of honor with Great Britain but, as events have proved, of life itself. Suppose, she had refrained from participation in the struggle until, as might otherwise have been the case, France had been overrun by the "War Lord's" cohorts, and until his engines of destruction had presented a barrier of steel along the coasts of Belgium and France, a menace to her commerce and her life—would it have availed Great Britain then to rely on the peaceful expressions or fair promises of a nation which has proved unfaithful to a solemn compact? Can the word of a state be trusted the prime minister of which contemptuously refers to an international treaty as "a scrap of paper," and expresses surprise that any other nation should feel in duty bound to respect its solemn promise contained therein?

These remarks attributed on good authority to the German Imperial Chancellor seem to constitute not only a breach of the principles of morality, but even strike at the very root of civilization itself. Our laws, our governments, our institutions, our economic and social well being are dependent on the principle of good faith. Take this away; nullify the binding force of moral obligation; and civilization is thrown into chaos. This is what would happen if pledges in general were considered of no more value than merely "a scrap of paper."

Assuming that the sentiments of the Imperial Chancellor represent the sentiment of the German government—and events have proved this to be the case—, how can Germany expect to be trusted in the future? She aspires to assume the commercial supremacy now held by England; how can Germany, if this principle is carried to its logical conclusion, expect to take advantage of the credit indispensable to a commercial nation? Will other nations trust her in the future as they have done heretofore? There cannot be one law for the nation and another for the individual; for it is individuals that make up the nation.

We are a neutral nation and must remain so. None can be more devoted to peace than we, yet one cannot help considering with alarm this blow at the principles of religion, of truth, of common righteousness. Recent events have indicated that the ethical principles of the German government are at least a hundred years behind the time. The transgressors of the law of truth must suffer, nations as well as individuals. England, as a champion of moral obligation and international honor in this crisis, is fighting the battle of democracy and progressive civilization at large against autocratic imperialism. The greatest menace to civilization in this war is not the slaughter of countless thousands—though this is unspeakably terrible—; it is this striking at one of the fundamental principles on which civilization is based; this violation of moral obligation on the part of one of the great powers and the insinuation that a treaty is of no more value than "a scrap of paper."

Misses Flora Deibler and Anna Matter, of Elizabethtown, Pa., visited the former's brother at the college, over Sunday.

Mr. Van Campen, Forty Fort, Pa., is spending the week at the college with Mr. Markowitz, '18.

C. H. Fisher, '04, was recently appointed head of the History Department of the Trenton, New Jersey High School. Mr. Fisher received the degree of A.M. from the University of Pennsylvania in June.

The Clionian Literary Society of
Lebanon Valley College
requests the honor of your presence at its
Forty-fourth Anniversary
Friday Evening, November twentieth nineteen hundred and fourteen at eight o'clock
Engle Conservatory

Reception in Gymnasium

WHAT OTHERS THINK OF US

Continued from page 1

shown by the numerous placards placed on the walls of the different buildings at Annville. Coach Guyer held another long practice yesterday afternoon. That Lebanon Valley is not having the best of luck was shown the coach, almost at the end of scrimmage yesterday afternoon when Wheelock, the Indian, was carried off the field with a sprained ankle. Directly following this, DeHuff, left guard, left the field with a badly cut hand.

* The Penbrook game was played by L. V.'s second team and its record should not appear in the above item. This changes the totals to 227 points won and 29 points lost.

OUR TRIUMPH AT ALLENTOWN

(Continued from page 1)

the broad grin over the faces of our dirty heroes was enough to gladden the hearts of all their friends.

From this time on, the game was neutral and neither side could score. Despite the common saying to the contrary the Muhlenberg men certainly had a strong "come-back," for they fought desperately for a score, and were only kept from it by the most stubborn stone-wall resistance. Especially in the last quarter when the ball was continually in our territory and it did not seem possible to move it down the field, because of the frequent penalties imposed upon us by the hard-working officials, then did our men work as only such men can work, and time after time were we saved by the strength of our line, the deadly tackling of the backs and the pretty punts from "Rah Rah's" hoof.

That the "breaks" were not with us is evident from the mere fact that while our team was penalized about 85 yards, the maroon and white did not lose a single inch in this way.

Besides there was the fact that such men as Wheelock, Swartz, and DeHuff must needs sit on the bench. So that the game was won simply upon the merits of the men.

Too much credit cannot be given to the members of the team for the honor and prestige they have brought to Lebanon Valley College.

RESERVES WIN AT HARRISBURG

Of course, the Lebanon Valley Reserves won on Saturday against Harrisburg Academy at Harrisburg. The Scrubs were somewhat handicapped by the fact that Coach Guyer took an extra number of men to Muhlenberg, including such men as Walter, who had been playing a wonderful game all the season for the second team, but on the other hand, they were strengthened by the addition of Dave Evans and "Gus" Ziegler, who practiced faithfully almost all the week in order to go to the city and see the sights.

The Academy team, outweighed, played hard and gamely but the Reserves were true to their name, they had too much "reserve" force in the opinion of their opponents. Both teams gained without trouble; but the score shows which side gained more consistently.

Nobody mentions who was the star of the game; but everyone is congratulating "Tom" Foltz. Yes, our boy Tom did nobly. The final score was 25 to 0.

You are correct if you get your

LADIES' and GENTS' FURNISHINGS

At KINPORTS', Annville, Pa.

Students' Discount. Packard & American Lady Shoe Arrow Collars and Shirts

IT'S LIKE THIS!

GOLLAM'S

FOR YOUR

GOOD EATS

THE COLLEGE BOOK STORE

HEADQUARTERS FOR STUDENTS' SUPPLIES

PENNANTS

CUSHION TOPS

BANNERS

NOVELTIES

KODAKS, CAMERAS, SUPPLIES

DEVELOPING AND PRINTING

CIRCULATING LIBRARY

PARKER FOUNTAIN PENS

DAVID B. BASEHORE

SUCCESSOR TO

HARNISH & SMITH

HARLAN P. FRENCH, President

A. B. FRENCH, Vice President

VINCENT B. FISK, Sec'y and Manager

THE ALBANY TEACHERS AGENCY, INC.

KNOWS HOW!

Twenty-four Years of successful experience in bringing together

Good Schools and Good Teachers

Our field: Public and Private schools and colleges; we have filled positions in every State in the Union

Send for Bulletin

81 Chapel Street, Albany, N. Y.

WM. WALTZ

Hair Cutting and Shaving
Saloon

W. Main St.

Annville, Pa.

THE BLAZIER STUDIO

Photographs of Quality

839 Cumberland Street

LEBANON,

PA.

CAPS and GOWNS

Faculty Gowns and Hoods. Pulpit and
Choir Gowns.

Judicial Robes

Best Workmanship
Lowest Prices

COX SONS & VINING

72 Madison Ave., New York

Wright & Ditson

Manufacturers and Dealers in

HIGH GRADE

ATHLETIC SUPPLIES

FOOT BALL, BASKET BALL,
ICE SKATES, HOCKEY,
GOLF, GYMNASIUM
APPARATUS

UNIFORMS for all Athletic Sports.
OFFICIAL IMPLEMENTS for all Track and
Field Sports.

Wright & Ditson SWFATERS are easily the finest
Choice Worsted, well made, perfect fitting.
Catalogue free.

WRIGHT & DITSON

344 Washington St., Boston. 22 Warren St., New
York. 16 So. LaSalle St., Chicago. Harvard
Square, Cambridge. 82 Waybosset St., Providence.
391 Main St., Worcester. 359 Market
St., San Francisco

THE

REDPATH BROCKWAY LYCEUM BUREAU

PITTSBURGH, PENNA.

Furnishes this Winter's Lecture Course for the
Lebanon Valley College

Season Tickets $1.00 Reserved $1.50

Better work and more of it. That's the policy of this Laundry. If you haven't your name on our list we'd be glad to place it there today. Fine shirt collar and cuff work a specialty here.

Hershey Laundry Co.

C. E. Brenneman Agt.

Dieges & Clust

"If we made it, it's right."

Official Jewelers of the Leading Colleges, Schools and Associations

Class Pins, Fraternity Pins,
Medals, Cups, Jewelry,
Watches, Diamonds

1011 Chestnut St., Philadelphia, Pa

BURDAN'S ICE CREAM

Made in Pottstown and
Lebanon, Pa.

Quality and Satisfaction

combined makes clear the
reason why

Spalding's

are outfitters to champions, whose implements must be invari-
ably right.

The Spalding Trade-Mark represents
years of leadership in the manufacture of athletic equipment. Write for free illustrated catalogue.

A. G. SPALDING & BROS.

126-128 Nassau St. 520 Fifth Ave. NEW YORK

SERVICES and CHARGES

Our services are worth more to all applicants than we charge. We earn
more than we get.

We do not share our earnings with others. We have no local agents employed to "discuss" the qualifications
of our applicants.

School authorities employing teachers through this agency are not open to
the suspicion that they are sharing in
the earnings of the agency.

Every year there is an increase in the
number of applications for teachers
coming direct from school authorities,
and we are constantly enlarging our
facilities.

These environments are appreciated
by strong, self-reliant teachers.

THE TEACHERS' AGENCY

R. I. MYERS & CO.

Lemoyne Trust Bldg., Harrisburg, Pa.
Co-operating agencies in Denver and Atlanta.

MORRIS GIANDONATO'S Electric Shoe Shop

Shoes repaired by machinery give better
results than hand work.

Shop Work done while you wait.

Satisfaction guaranteed Prices right
STUDENTS' WORK SOLICITED

JOS. MILLER

FURNITURE
and UNDERTAKING

West Main Street Annville, Pa.

JACOB SARGENT

MERCHANT
TAILOR

READY-TO WEAR CLOTHING
Main Street Annville

Theatrical Costumes
Academic Caps and Gowns
ON A RENTAL BASIS

WAAS & SON, Philadelphia

Y. W. C. A.

The Young Women's Christian Association meeting was led by Esther Heintzelman whose subject was "Choose Ye." She said: "Nowadays people try to reconcile two irreconcilable things, evil pleasures and a good conscience. As this is impossible, we must choose which we will serve, God or mammon. "The meeting was a good one and the topic, which was a very practical one, suggested a line of thought that it would be well for us to follow out in our own minds.

We were especially pleased with the musical number, a sextette composed of Miriam Oyer, Ruth Heffelman, Mary Wyand, Helen Zeigler, Ella Mutch, and Edna Spessard.

The attendance at the daily prayer meeting held at 12.45 last week was very gratifying. The week had been set aside for prayer for the Young Women's Christian Associations all over the world. The spirit manifested in the meetings indicates an interest among the girls in the work of the Association and the principles for which it stands that speaks well for the efficiency of our organization.

Y. M. C. A.

"The Conscience" was the theme of last Sunday's session. Mr. Edwin H. Zeigler, who was the leader, made many well-chosen remarks in his discussion of the subject. The consideration of the conscience as a sentinel, judge, and an accuser was well brought out. Mr. Carl G.
Snavey sang a solo which was much appreciated. Interest ran high, which was evidenced by practically every one present taking part.

Due to the rainy weather only the stout-hearted, those who had the work of the Young Men's Christian Association most strongly at heart ventured to this meeting. They came with the purpose of putting something into the meeting, and they reaped a bountiful return in the help they derived from it.

HELD A DELIGHTFUL PARTY

In honor of the Muhlenberg and Harrisburg victories, the Messrs.
Risser and Snavey held a most delightful Chafing Dish party on Saturday evening. The guests assembled in Mr. Snavey's rooms in the Men's Dormitory, and after spending several hours in fun and games, adjourned to Mr. Risser's apartments, where a delectable repast met the admiring gaze of the epicures. Finally, about one-thirty in the morning, the guests departed, tired, but happy, feeling that they had done ample justice to the viands of their hosts.

The students of Lebanon Valley and the residents of Annville are to have a rare treat on December 7. The director of the music department has been extremely fortunate in securing the American String Quartette of New York City to appear at the college on the above date. This quartette has obtained recognition from such distinguished New York and Boston critics as Wm. J. Henderson,
E. H. Krehbiel, Philip Hale, and E.
R. Parkhurst, and it is to be hoped that as many as can will take advantage of the opportunity of hearing these artists.

Dr. Harry Zimmerman DENTIST

W. Main St. - Annville, Pa.

D. B. SHIFFER GRADUATE OPTICIAN

Eyes Examined, Glasses Fitted, Broken
Lenses Replaced, anything in
the Optical line

East Main St ANNVILLE

Lebanon Valley College

First Class Faculty.

Group System.

Special Facilities in Chemistry
and Biology

Music, Art, Oratory

Ladies in the Hall are under the constant care of the Dean of Women.

Write for catalogue

Rev. S. D. Sossard, President
Annville, Pa.

D. L. SAYLOR & SONS CONTRACTORS and BUILDERS

Dealers in

LUMBER and COAL - ANNVILLE, PA.

Journal Publishing Co.

Printers

Main Street Annville, Pa.

WINDSOR HOTEL

W. T. BRUBAKER, Manager.

European, $1.00 per day and up
American, $2.50 per day and up

Midway between Broad Street
Station and Reading Terminal
on Filbert Street.

The only moderate priced hotel of
reputation and consequence in

PHILADELPHIA

Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute SCHOOL of ENGINEERING

CIVIL, MECHANICAL, ELECTRICAL and CHEMICAL
ENGINEERING, and GENERAL SCIENCE
Send for a Catalogue. TROY, N.Y.

CLIONIAN ANNIVERSARY NUMBER.

COLLEGE NEWS

LEBANON VALLEY COLLEGE

Volume VI. Annville, Pa., Tuesday, November 24, 1914

No. 11

Entered as second-class matter November 12, 1910, at the post office at Annville, Pa., under the act of March 3, 1879

Forty-fourth Anniversary Exercises of the Clionian Literary Society Prove to Be a Great Success

The chapel in Engle Hall was simply but artistically decorated in honor of the Forty-fourth Anniversary of the Clionian Literary Society which was celebrated on Friday evening, November the twentieth. The large audience of students and friends showed the interest felt in the organization which made every member feel proud of her part in the society.

The programme was an exceptionally good one as was shown on all sides by the attention paid and the remarks heard. Keim's Orchestra of Lebanon, furnished the music which was pleasing to all.

The first number was a selection by the orchestra, a march, "Citizen's Pride," H. J. Crosby, during which the speakers were ushered to their places on the rostrum. Then followed the invocation by Rev. S. F. Daugherty, of Annville. An overture by Rossini, "Cinderella" was enjoyed by all.

Miss Larene Engle, '15, gave the President's Address, "The Choice of the College Woman," a very good and interesting address, suggesting a new line of thought. Miss Engle, as president, certainly was equal to the occasion.

The next number was a piano solo, Chopin's "Rondo, op. 16" by Miss Ruth E. Engle, '15. Miss Engle has been known as an artist on the piano and her solo was a wonderful exhibition of her ability.

This solo was followed by the first oration given by Miss M. Belle Orris, '15, on "Co-operative Activity." This too was very well delivered, doing credit to herself as well as the society.

Ruth Strickler, who has been long since recognized as a beautiful singer, sang two selections (a) "One by One" by Von Ahn Carson, (b) "Ecstasy" by Rummel. This number was especially pleasing and enjoyed by all.

The third orator was Myra Kiracofe, '15, who presented "The New Order. Miss Kiracofe, too, is to be commended on her good oration and the splendid way in which it was delivered.

"Fourteen to One" was the title of the reading given by Anna Dubble, '15. This number was a great asset to the program, and received hearty applause.

Next on the programme was a chorus, "Persian Serenade," by Alex. Matthews. The girls sang exceptionally well, their voices blending beautifully. This number, too, was greatly appreciated.

The orchestra played as a closing selection Wagner's "Pilgrim Chorus."

MISS LARENE ENGLE

After the programme the audience was invited to the reception to be held in the gymnasium. There everyone had a most enjoyable social time together. Refreshments were served which added much to the enjoyment.

The anniversary was a great success and one long to be remembered. The gymnasium was beautifully decorated in yellow and white. Much credit is due the decorating committee of which Mary Bergdoll, '17, was chairman. Miss Ruth Whiskeyman, '16, had charge of the chapel decorations. Helen Oyler, '16, was chairman of the refreshment committee.

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS.

The Choice of the College Woman

The education offered to women in the colleges, added to her economic freedom, gives her an opportunity for doing the greatest amount of service through the choice of her life work.

Whatever her choice of profession or occupation may be, it must lie between aristocracy and democracy; between the sense of superiority and the feeling of community; between the desire to shine and the willingness to serve. In the home, in the market, in society, even in charity work and in the social settlement, this deep distinction runs through all she does.

The college woman must choose something more than a mere occupation. It must be work that will satisfy her sense of obligation to the world and to her fellow-beings. She must choose wisely for life was given to her for a purpose and to fulfill this end is her mission.

This choice is nothing less than whether in the relation to her environment she stands off and says "you and I" with the accent of implied superiority on the "I" or signifies her acceptance of the pronoun "we." If college women strive to maintain cast or class distinction and attempt to make the world recognize them as superior beings, they will not accomplish much in serving others and will be unhappy. But if they go into the world and while conscious of their power, their opportunities and talents, seek to put those to service and to bring to their less fortunate sisters, their culture and refinement, they will be doing a lasting service to humanity and will be happy because of their usefulness.

An illustration of the two choices open to college women is shown in Stephen Phillip's poem "Marpessa," where Apollo, the god, Idas the shepherd, and Marpessa, the beautiful mortal maiden meet.

She is called upon to choose between taking a place with a god above, or sharing with a shepherd, the toil and sorrow of his humble human lot on earth.

First the god Apollo as superior to man sprang to embrace the maiden, when they heard Jupiter's voice, "Let her decide."

Then in turn the god, Apollo, and the shepherd Idas, seek to win her. Apollo says: "I live forever in a deep deliberate bliss,

A spirit sliding through tranquility, Yet when I saw thee I imagined woe, That thou who art so fair, shouldst ever taste

Of the earth-sorrow;

But if thou'lt live with me, then will I kiss

Warm immortality into thy lips;

And I will carry thee above the world,

To share my ecstasy of flinging beams,

And scattering without intermission joy."

Apollo offered the exalted life. He feels that she belongs above and apart, whence she may shed an illuminating influence, which to him seems most desirable.

But the shepherd Idas pleads with Marpessa, in an eloquent statement of women's mission in the world. Not one of distant brilliancy as the sun in the heavens, but of sympathy and inspiration as a candle lighting up its own little sphere in the great darkness. Comradeship and kindness that shall uplift the common human tasks, and make earth a part of heaven are possibilities of this choice.

"It is in women to pity rather than to aspire,

Thy face remembered is from other worlds,

It has been sung of, though I know not where;

O beauty lone and like a candle clear In this dark country of the world!"

Taking the shepherd's hand in hers, Marpessa told Apollo she preferred to share the humble life of the shepherd Idas.

"Of immortality Thou singest:

Thou wouldst hold me from the ground,

And this just opening beauty from the grave,

As yet I have known no sorrow,

Yet I being human, human sorrow miss,

The half of music, I have heard men say,

Is to have grieved.

Out of our sadness have we made this world

So beautiful,—To all this sorrow I was born;

If I live with Idas, then we two,

On the low earth shall prosper hand in hand."

There are two alternatives for the college woman, she may be a brilliant benefactress in some special way, shining down on the world with the light of literature, of music, of art, or even in the work of social settlement and philanthropy, or she may be a partaker in humble helpfulness, lifting up her own little sphere by the inspiration of her own individuality, making other lives richer and more beautiful from the touch of her life upon them. She is a helpmeet to her companion, ministering gently to his needs, making his home a beautiful and suitable place for his leisure hours, performing cheerfully the homely tasks assigned to her. Perhaps she is willing to "Live in a House by the Side of the Road and be a Friend to Man."

Talents differ according to individuals, and in order that the college woman may accomplish the highest service, specialization is necessary. The college has made her different from other people and fitted her for a highly useful and honorable service in the world. Because of that power for service and through it, happiness is within her grasp. But the knowledge of being different from other people, the feeling of superiority, the tendency to look down upon them, may limit her outlook; it may cause her to be blind and unheeding to her part of the world's work.

The pessimists and cynics, if their cases were diagnosed, would be found to be suffering from the feeling of superiority, which is preying upon their minds. There is a reason why this is true. Happiness and unhappiness show a mark of transition from our normal state of feeling into some other aroused by contact with the world. The democrat finds in the world outside something as good as himself, or a little better, thus his contact with the world is pleasant, causing him happiness. Men or women, rich or poor, learned or ignorant, famous or obscure, who believe in the equality of rank and privilege are bound to be happy. They are the ones who sympathize, who see good in every glance, who inspire nobler things, and who uplift humanity. They are willing to give to their fellows, the admiration and respect due to them for they have adjusted themselves properly to their fellow-beings. On the other hand, the person who stands aloof and from his superior height never sees anything that he thinks better than himself, but rather that which he considers beneath will become unhappy and pessimistic. Those who suffer from the consciousness of superiority which comes from birth, wealth, beauty, education or skill, are sure to have in their hearts bitterness, loneliness and therefore unhappiness, for they have not adjusted themselves properly to their fellow-beings because of their own standard of conceit.

The choice for the college woman is momentous. For the most part today the college man becomes a democrat by necessity for there are not enough exalted positions to go around. At first the college woman was an aristocrat, as her college education distinguished her from the rest of her sex. Since the same opportunities for education are offered to many other women, she must do what her college brothers do under economic compulsion, she must be the comrade of all who labor, the sister of all who serve.

Tonight we are celebrating the forty-fourth anniversary of the Clionian Literary Society. Almost half a century has passed since its founding in 1870, by a band of earnest young college women, who trusted that the future Clionians would uphold and preserve the ideals and principles, they took as theirs. There has been a successful and abundant growth. Talents have been developed, accomplishments displayed, minds broadened, the art of presentation more highly developed, and a greater bond of sympathy and comradeship created between the girls. It is my great privilege in behalf of the Clionian Literary Society to express our appreciation of the interest shown to us, by your presence here this evening, and to give one and all a hearty welcome to our anniversary exercises.

CO-OPERATIVE ACTIVITY.

In the beginning man and woman were created equal. "Male and female created He them and blessed them."

"Man o'er woman

He made not lord, such title to himself

Reserving, human left from human free."

The laws given on Mt. Sinai for the government of man and woman were equal and the doctrines of Christ make no distinction. The ancient prophecy that God's spirit should be poured out upon daughters as well as sons, that they should prophesy, was fulfilled on the day of Pentecost.

In olden times woman's subjection to man was ascribed to disobedience of God's command. If people read the Scriptures intelligently they would get a right interpretation of God's law regarding woman's place and not try to exclude her from any position where she might exert her influence for good to her fellow-beings.

Miriam and Deborah, conjointly with Aaron and Barak, enlisted themselves on the side which regarded the right, unitedly going up to their battles and singing their songs of victory. In that time such a step meant a great sacrifice for woman. Therefore, in our age of great enlightenment we regard these women with veneration.

Later, we find Anna, a prophetess of four score years, in the temple day and night speaking of Christ to all those in Jerusalem who looked for redemption.

In the early apostolic church women were co-workers with the brethren. Phoebe is mentioned as a servant or minister of Christ and commended as such to the brethren. Ecclesiastical history informs us, that for two or three hundred years female ministers suffered martyrdom in company with their brethren.

These things should be known in order that we may be prepared to meet the assertion, so often made, that woman is stepping out of her appropriate sphere when she attempts to instruct public assemblies.

Rights are human rights and pertain to human beings without distinction of sex. Laws should not be made for men or for women but for mankind. The law depriving woman of the right of property is handed down to us from dark and feudal times, and is not consistent with the wiser, better, purer spirit of our age. At one time the wife was a mere prisoner on the bounty of her lord. Justice and benevolence have awakened the spirit of inquiry and men have found out that women possess powers equal to theirs.

Woman does not need to ask as a favor but she may claim as a right the removal of all hindrances to her elevation in life. She needs to receive encouragement for the proper cultivation of all her powers, so that she may enter profitably into the active business of life; that she may employ her own hands in supplying her wants; that she may strengthen her physical being by proper exercise and observance of the laws of health.

Woman's nature is not degraded in any kind of work. On the contrary she strives to occupy such walks in society as will befit her true dignity in all relations of life. True modesty will be as fully preserved executing the important vocations in which she is engaged, as they will be in the nursery or at the fireside ministering to man's self-indulgence. Then in the marriage union, the independence of the husband and wife will be equal, their dependence mutual and their obligations interchangeable. Then there will be

"Everywhere

Two heads in council, two beside the hearth,

Two in the tangled business of the world,—

Two plummetts dropt for one to sound the abyss

Of science, and the secrets of the mind."

Philosophers tell us that skirts were first put upon women to impede their movements so that they might not so readily run away from their masculine proprietors. But time brings its revenge. The skirt, once a badge of subjection, even its instrument, has become an emblem of majesty and authority. The eminence, the wisdom, the power of man, be he cardinal, king or justice of our Supreme Court is distinguished by clothing him in the flowing robes of womankind—scarlet, ermine or rustling silk as the case may require. From these facts we may learn that "dress reform" is no necessary part of the program of the emancipation of women.

Women could not live in the midst of the deep, strong excitement of the Civil War times and not have their brain and heart touched by the questions that affected the honor and safety of the country.

Harriet Beecher Stowe, the female story-writer, did a great deal for the emancipation of the slave when she gave "Uncle Tom's Cabin" to the public. Lucy Stone was a lecturer for the Anti-Slavery society; besides this, she was a great champion for Woman's Rights. Lucretia Mott, a Pennsylvanian Quakeress, placed the war upon Slavery first in her list of personal duties by pleading the slave's cause at all times. To espouse this cause in her day was a reproach and a peril. She advocated that women should speak in public and have the right to vote, and manifested in herself the proof that women could take part in public affairs and speak from platform or pulpit without the least relinquishment of womanly dignity or modesty.

MISS M. BELLE ORRIS

The first Woman's Rights Convention was held at Seneca Falls, N. Y. Its leading spirits were Elizabeth Cady Stanton and Lucretia Mott and about them were gathered an earnest body of thinking men and women whose names we identify with the Anti-Slavery cause rather than Woman's Rights. One plank declared for equal rights to education—that need has been met. Another demanded the openings of the field of industry to women. Today nearly six million women are engaged in occupation other than domestic service. Still another demanded equality for women before the law so that they might collect their own wages, do business in their own names, own and manage their own property. In practically every state this is now conceded. The only plank in this platform not effective, is complete suffrage.

The Woman's Rights agitation shows what could be done even by a few women without the ballot. Today gives assurance that equal suffrage will ultimately win. Mrs. Stanton, Mrs. Mott and their followers lived "out of due season" as the apostle Paul said. Now we are reaping the fruitage of their ambitions. In twelve states there is complete suffrage and restricted suffrage in most others.

However long deferred woman suffrage may prove to be, it is pretty generally conceded that women will inevitably vote. • The evolution of society will bring them into political equality with men just as it has brought them into industrial and intellectual equality. Women will not revolutionize society with the ballot. Men did not when they secured the right to vote, a privilege which even they did not always have, for at one time it was regarded as a "divine right of kings." However man has become more democratic since he has been accorded the right to vote. It has brought all classes and nearly all races to the same plane. They meet as one big family at political conventions; discuss questions as brother with brother; they are brought together in business as social equals; they come to the polls and vote, rich and poor together.

If man's advancement has made him more democratic woman's advancement will not make her less since woman is far more sympathetic than man. This width of human sympathy helps to make her more altruistic and through its development results in woman's capacity of self-restraint which fits her for nearly any station in life. The intuition or insight so peculiar to women produces remarkably unerring decisions, not the result of logic but of a power known as woman's intuitive judgment. This remarkable talent has saved many a man from making a mistake.

Success is measured by achievement and we admit that women have taken but a little part in the history of the race. With few exceptions since the unfolding of human intellect women have apparently been in subjection physically, politically and socially. Consequently they have not written history, nor discovered nor invented because opportunity was not open to them.

And achievement requires opportunity as well as capacity. Woman's opportunity does not mean political upheaval but social and educative advancement. The character of the

Continued on page 4

College News

Issued weekly during the College Year by the Students of Lebanon Valley College

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

FRANK M. VAN SCHAAK '15

ASSOCIATE EDITORS

FLORENCE MENTZ '15

S. HUBER HEINTZELMAN '16

Social

MYRA G. KIRACOFE '15

Athletics

CARL G. SNAVELY '15

Alumni

MASON LONG '16

Music

RAY P. CAMPBELL '15

BUSINESS MANAGER

FABER E. STENGLE '15

Subscription Price $1.00 per year

Single Copies 5 cts.

Clubs of ten, 75 cts.

Address all business communications to FABER E. STENGLE '15 all other matter to Room 22, Administration Building Lebanon Valley College, Annville, Pa.

EDITORIAL.

The exercises held last Friday evening celebrating the Forty-fourth Anniversary of the Clionian Literary Society furnished additional evidence of the advantages of a college training in general and more especially of the efficiency of the literary societies at Lebanon Valley. A college education is valuable from many stand points. It aims more at a broadening of the intellectual horizon than at specialization. It may give opportunity for the latter; but its office primarily is to help one find oneself. It sets the knowledge of the past and the present before the student—the thought, the aspiration, the achievements, the great truth of humanity, the products of the master minds of all time, collected, and classified and applied to the needs of our present complex modern life. Interpreters of these truths the college provides in its professors, men and women especially fitted by nature and study to be the inspiration, the priests of progress, the apostles of social efficiency to the leaders in the world of tomorrow. Specialization may well be left to the university; the chief mission of the college is the development of the various intellectual faculties inherent, and often latent, in the individual.

We do not claim for the college that it can accomplish what cannot be done outside an institution of this kind; but that it can train in the most advantageous way, with the greatest concentration of effort and under conditions most favorable to thoroughness and efficiency. Especially in the domain of scientific research is this true; for so complicated ed have studies of this nature become that the apparatus required is beyond the reach of most persons. Not that many persons do not become proficient without a college education—far from it; but the college aims to do for people what they, without such training, would either never do for themselves or would have far greater difficulty in accomplishing. It endeavors to assist them in making the most of life, both for themselves and for others.

The effect of this harmonious development of individual faculties was abundantly evidenced in the Clionian Anniversary exercises of last Friday. A broad, comprehensive, enlightened grasp of the great questions of the day was shown by the participants in their treatment of their subjects. They proved the unquestionable ability of woman to take her place, the earnest determination to do her part in the solving of the great questions of the day. Efficiency is the keynote of the hour, in business, in national issues, in social and moral reform. Social efficiency demands the participation of woman in various fields of public activity hitherto closed to her, not because of inability, but on account of traditional prejudice and a deficient appreciation of her powers. That women are as efficient in the administration of public affairs and in the movement for social reform as men are, and in some cases even superior to the latter, was proved by the speakers with convincing arguments. This ideal of social efficiency presented in a clear, forceful, and logical manner gave ample proof that the women of our college not only are abreast of the times but also are fully capable of holding their own with the men as leaders in the realm of intellectual supremacy of tomorrow.

CO-OPERATIVE ACTIVITY

(Continued from page 3)

Twentieth Century American born woman promises opportunity for social progress. The women of United States have passed from Puritanical dependence to economic and social freedom; they have been relieved of many of their old responsibilities and duties; they have been educated and received into the professions with men; and, now, freed from the ceaseless toil of their ancestors, from hunger, privation and religious oppression they are ready to take their place in the social world; to contribute to the public good.

The fields are white to harvest on every side. Never were opportunities for service so great; never the passion for altruistic effort so manifest. Twentieth century American society is a city set on a hill; the whole world is regarding our progress, applauding our success, profiting by our blunders. We are beginning to make history, the history of a democracy in which each citizen may play a part. Women as well as men are citizens; they, also, will be emancipators; both must assume their share of the responsibilities of the nation—bearing and rearing healthy, noble sons and daughters, administering worthy homes, occupying leading positions in industrial, educational and philanthropic ventures, and working at things which count for most in a nation's life. For "the woman's cause is man's," race preservation and race improvement.

For ages we have worked individually and ineffectively. Now at last we have found the means,—co-operative activity which will mean unified action in the endeavors for the world's betterment.

"And so these twain, upon the skirts of Time,

Sit side by side, full-summ'd in all their powers,

Dispensing harvest, sowing the To-be, Then comes the statelier Eden back to men:

Then reign the world's great bridals, chaste and calm;

Then springs the crowning race of humankind.

May these things be!"

"THE NEW ORDER."

In this day of rapid progress, when a message can be sent from San Francisco to Hong Kong in fifteen minutes, when horses are no longer a necessity, when battles are fought not on the land only, but under the water and in the air, woman has been progressing too. She is finding her place in society. Not without opposition it is true. But popular opinion must ever be overcome. Today we speak with pride of the splendid unselfish relief work done by our Red Cross sisters in the present war; and rightly so. But the first woman who risked her life for such service, Florence Nightingale, though now very much honored, was, in her lifetime, censured. Notwithstanding this, she and her followers, were persistent and finally set aside that old-fashioned, theoretical chivalry which kept them from the battlefield and for a long time deprived the sick and suffering of the ministrations of a hospital-trained nurse. Her work and influence are a monument to her; and an inspiration to progressive woman. The name of Florence Nightingale will go down through the ages, blazing the trail for all women bent on helping their fellow-men.

Nor does she stand alone as a champion of humanity. Such women as Charlotte Corday, of France, and Mollie Pitcher, our own heroine, grace the pages of history and do much credit to the name of woman. Others from by-gone days might be named but we do not have to look outside of the present century to find noble women—women who are now rising above their surroundings; guiding and controlling that great power—public sentiment.

As a concrete example of this struggle against the tide, consider the position of Commissioner of Correction, Katherine B. Davis, who is the first woman to hold a position in the cabinet of any mayor east of the Mississippi River. One of her experiences will suffice to show the nature of her work. July 8th, the prisoners in the penitentiary on Blackwell Island suddenly became rebellious. Without warning, forty of them jumped to their feet in the mess-hall. The keepers attempted to do their duty, but dishes from all sides rained on them. Soon, seven hundred prisoners were in open rebellion. Whatever was available was hurled at the prison officers. Only with great difficulty were the enraged men subdued but not until much property had been destroyed. By the time Miss Davis arrived, the leaders had been placed in solitary confinement on a diet of bread and water. But experience has taught that punishment does not solve such a problem. Therefore, Miss Davis attempted a different solution. Unattended, she passed among these maddened creatures. She made herself their confidante whether or not they were willing. As each promised obedience, she restored his privileges. Next she gathered the malefactors into the prison chapel where she spoke to them on the necessity of laws. So cleverly did she present reason and mingle humor with instruction that the men were led and taught unconsciously until even the most discontented were pacified.

"Is the work that Miss Davis is trying to do, a woman's work" is a question much under discussion. One writer says that surely no decent man can believe that it is right for a woman, however advanced her ideals may be, to be placed in contact with that horrid mob of besotted, degenerate, utterly vicious outcasts. But let us hear Miss Davis' words, "That these hardened criminals have in them the spark of gentlemanliness, is evidenced by the fact that never has a profane or vile word been used in my presence. The worst of them always treat me with the utmost decency." The difference in their treatment of Miss Davis and that of their keepers in the July rebellion seems to prove what she says.

The prisoners who are in the penitentiaries need to be touched; to be reformed or else the prison is not meeting its responsibility. Since men can not change hard-hearted criminals, such women as Miss Davis should be given the opportunity to do so. A criminal has his dark hours, just as any other man. Hours when kindness and sympathy alone can win. To woman seems to have been given a truer instinct to discover such a moment; a tendered way to turn it to good account. The secret of giving inspiration and hope to hopeless man seemingly belongs to woman.

This work of prison reform is not the only field for which woman by her very nature is peculiarly fitted. Places, outside the home, are found each year where woman is proving herself more efficient than man. However, the man who is supplanted by the woman is rarely the critic of his successor. With a sigh of relief he acknowledges his limitations frankly. The man who is far away from the job, the man who is in no way affected by the transfer is the severer critic. He, together with his sister, who can not and would not qualify for the work in the world, form the bulk of the public sentiment obstacle which this new woman must overcome. The important thing is to see that she is overcoming. The facts that Chicago has installed a woman judge in its Children's Court; and that a bill has been introduced into the Legislature at

MISS MYRA KIRACOFE

Albany providing for two women assistants in the New York Children's Court, are proof enough of this statement. These women are to have magisterial power of hearing and reporting in all cases where girls under sixteen are brought before the bar of justice. The Children's Court offers a wonderful opportunity to reach the boy and girl, who have little if any home training, and to direct them into the paths of right before their hearts have become hardened by sin.

Judge Franklin C. Hoyt, who is presiding justice in the Manhattan Children's Court says, "Many of us have reached the point where we find it advisable to have a woman assistant. It is particularly needful in the cases of girls charged with immorality. Frequently it is almost impossible to make the girl or her parents talk to a man. We think that a woman is far more capable of handling such situations." Here again the conditions demand woman whose ability is the result of her very nature. This is not at all difficult to believe, because it is true in the home. Woman, with her fine maternal instinct, is prepared to understand the weaknesses of her daughter; and understanding these weaknesses, will be patient and kind and thus help her over the age in which she is inclined to be foolish and absurd; while to the father, she is a riddle which he cannot solve and a source of much annoyance. How, then, can we expect men to judge girls justly?

Our Juvenile Courts are fountains of mercy. It is their aim to find out the cause for the crime which brings the child to them and knowing it, to eradicate it. Every one understands that the heart of a child can be reached only through kindness. Its shyness and reticence wear away as it loses its self-consciousness. Few men are able to make a child feel at ease or to win its favor. The majority of the young girls who come before these Courts have taken a downward step. In order to help them, all details must be known, and many personal questions must be asked. A girl cannot reveal herself to a man who cannot understand. Here, the need of a woman, who is quickened by love, is imperative if these lives are to be helped to the right path. Many have gone down to utter ruin through a lack of womanly sympathy and understanding. The best way to keep people out of penitentiaries and places of reform, is to help them before they commit sin.

Not only are women judges needed in the court but the jury, too, should be open to woman. Women jurors seem to be necessary for the best results in cases where women are tried. Their instinct, more than man's developed intellect, seems to warn them against wickedness. Their intuitive power to perceive the finer shades of feeling teaches them to recognize innocence. Ways, unknown to man but much more certain than the lawyer's cross-examination, have long been used by woman to discern the innocence or guilt of her sisters.

Since women have proved such adepts in ferreting out crime, they are being appointed to the police force, not taking the work from the men, but simply doing what men have been unable to do. It is only another way to help the wayward girl and to steer her clear from the path of degradation. When woman's strength is turned to good account, there is bound to be a favorable result. Ability is intrigue can be of great service when used by a woman whose heart is influenced by the spirit of that divine model of the ages.

Some wonder what will become of our homes if women are to do such work in the world. But only a small proportion of the men fill political or public offices; many are left to fill the positions of the offices and professions of our land. So will it be with our women and our homes. There are as many women in this world as there are men, while the political offices which they should fill are comparatively few. Only a few well-fitted women will take these important world positions while the vast majority will go on making homes; quietly aiding their sisters in the new, but nevertheless grand work. We need women to fill such positions—women with their sympathy, their intuition, their instinct to save the great mass of young girls traveling the downward road to destruction. And no less do we need women to show to the man behind the bars that there is something worth while in life—even for him. This fact is being recognized by the leading men in our country and woman is slowly attaining her rightful position which brings the words of Tennyson to us with a clear and mighty prophecy,

"The old order changeth, yielding place to new
And God fulfills Himself in many ways
Lest one good custom should corrupt the world."

FOURTEEN TO ONE.

SYNOPSIS

This story is set in one of the southern states, during the critical period following the Civil War.

The chief characters are the Reverend Mr. Matthews and his wife, Deborah, formerly of New Hampshire, Deacon Memminger, who has recently become a member of the church, and the Ku Klux Klan.

Because of the bitter feeling which the Klan had towards the parson, his wife became very anxious whenever he came home late. On this particular night he returned at eleven o'clock, two hours later than usual. His wife went out to meet him, helped him to put away his team, and then she got him into the house. He told her that he had been warned at the meeting, that the Klan lay in wait for him, so he had to come home over the mountains.

She gave him his supper, and while they were at family prayers, the Klan came, forced open the door and dragged the parson under an old tree with a rope around his neck. When they were about to swing him off, the leader's mask fell. It was Deacon Memminger, in each hand he held a revolver and aimed. He warned the men not to move a muscle on the rope, because he was an officer of the United States. His negro servant sprang to his assistance and bound the fourteen men.

Deacon Memminger helped the old man down, and he went back to his wife. She came to herself and the first thing she heard, was a familiar voice saying, "Don't be frightened, my dear, I'm coming."

ANNIVERSARY VISITORS

Among the Clio guests, Friday evening, were: Ruth Hughes, York, Pa.; Mary Bond, York, Pa.; Helen Bennet, York, Pa.; Edna Yarkers, '13, McAllisterville, Pa.; Lottie Guyer, Shippensburg, Pa.; Helen Weaver, Harrisburg, Pa.; Charles Oyler, Chambersburg, Pa.; Elizabeth Lau, '12, York, Pa.; Pauline Kiracofe, Hagerstown, Md.; Mrs. Dunkel, Lucknow, Pa.; Mrs. Emma Engle, Harrisburg, Pa.; Marian Heffelman, New Cumberland, Pa.; Jesse O. Zeigler, Elizabethtown, Pa.; Elizabeth Reichard, '13, York, Pa.; Rev. O. T. Ehrhart, '11, Hebron, Pa.; Lester Appenzellar, '08, Lebanon, Pa.; Miss

MISS ANNA DUBBLE

Appenzellar, Chambersburg, Pa.; Lottie Bard, Oregon, Pa.; Dorothy Dowdell, Harrisburg, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. John Heagy, Steelton, Pa.; Helen De Laplane, York.

MATHEMATICAL ROUND TABLE.

The monthly meeting of the Mathematical Round Table was held November 18th instead of the last Wednesday in the month, as the custom is, because of the Thanskinging vacation coming over that time. A very interesting program was rendered.

"Flatland".....Reuben Williams
The Milky Way.....Abraham Long
Impromptu Algebra Class,

Esta Wareheim

After the programme a business session was held at which several new members were elected to the Round Table.

VISITORS ADDRESS STUDENT BODY

The state secretary of the Y. M. C. A., Mr. J. H. Ehlers, last week visited the college in the interest of the organization which he represents. He conducted the devotional exercises and spoke in chapel Tuesday morning. After reading the passage which tells of the householder who gave the talents to his servants, he gave a short talk to the student body. His words were, in effect, as follows:

"Young men and women fall into the same tragic habit of refusing the estimate which their 'householder' has placed on their lives. Why is this estimate placed? We may have had good ancestors and are expected to continue the reputation acquired by them. Also we have had marked educational advantages. Our parents, church and teachers have placed an estimate on our lives. It is for us to demonstrate, and prove that their estimates shall not be mistaken.

"To aid in the achievement of the set goal we need development. This is attained by putting some of our interest into the Christian Association work, Conventions, Christian Endeavor Society projects, etc. We too often imitate the method of the one talented servant—let our God-given talents become dull and rusty from lack of use. We may be certain that we will have opportunities, but with thoughts of regret shall we see what might have been our privileges pass on to our neighbor. After graduation it is not our diploma that counts but our efficiency in a certain field of endeavor.

"What we need is to link ourselves up with deserving causes. Then when our husbandman comes at graduation, end of life, or possibly this year, we may not need to say: 'Here is the one talent, five or ten talents, as the case may be, but we shall have doubled, tripled, yes, quadrupled our talents.'"

Last Thursday morning in chapel it was our privilege to have with us Rev. J. E. Caldwell, a missionary for eight years in Porto Rico.

He led the chapel exercises and then spoke a few words about the "Gem of the Antilles" or "The Isle of Enchantment"—Porto Rico, mentioning the beautiful scenery to be found there. God made this island most beautiful—only one thing makes it ugly and that is sin—sin mars the perfect beauty which nature gave it.

Porto Rico is a land of contrasts. Two civilizations dwell side by side; the auto and the ox-cart travel over the same road. The next largest sugar refining mill in the world and

IT'S LIKE THIS!
COLLAM'S
FOR YOUR
GOOD EATS

Dr. Harry Zimmerman
DENTIST

W. Main St. - Annville, Pa.

D. B. SHIFFER
GRADUATE OPTICIAN

Eyes Examined, Glasses Fitted, Broken
Lenses Replaced, anything in
the Optical line

East Main St ANNVILLE

Lebanon Valley
College

First Class Faculty.

Group System.

*Special Facilities in Chemistry
and Biology*

Music, Art, Oratory

Ladies in the Hall are under the constant care of the Dean of Women.

Write for catalogue

Rev. S. D. Sossard, President
Annville, Pa.

the old fashioned hand mill; the modern arc-light and the old-fashioned tallow dip are to be found there in the same town.

We are giving Porto Rico our customs, our styles and our vices. Shall we not give them also the best we have, when we have given our worst?
We have given them our public school system. They have three High Schools on the island, two Normal Schools and the beginning of a University.

They have a God but they do not know him as a Father since they do not know Jesus Christ.

Porto Rico's native population is not colored as some people imagine.
There are 20 per cent. black, 20 per cent. white and the remaining 60 per cent. are mixed.

He made a great plea for teachers with the highest ideals to come down there to teach in their schools and show Jesus Christ in their lives.

Y. W. C. A.

The Young Women's Christian Association was given over into the hands of the White Shield Single Standard League. Mary Daugherty, as president led the meeting, speaking on "Clean Living." She explained the purpose of the organization which is to uphold the law of purity.
Miss Wareheim also read an article on the same subject.

The meeting was well attended and the interest was increased by a vocal solo by Miriam Oyer and a violin solo by Katherine Kreider.

Miss Eva Tiddle, of Lebanon, has enrolled as a full-course student at the Conservatory.

THE COLLEGE BOOK STORE

HEADQUARTERS FOR STUDENTS' SUPPLIES

PENNANTS

CUSHION TOPS

BANNERS

NOVELTIES

KODAKS, CAMERAS, SUPPLIES

DEVELOPING AND PRINTING

CIRCULATING LIBRARY

PARKER FOUNTAIN PENS

DAVID B. BASEHORE

SUCCESSOR TO

HARNISH & SMITH

HARLAN P. FRENCH, President

A. B. FRENCH, Vice President

VINCENT B. FISK, Sec'y and Manager

THE ALBANY TEACHERS AGENCY, INC.
KNOWS HOW!

Twenty-four Years of successful experience in bringing together

Good Schools and Good Teachers

Our field: Public and Private schools and colleges; we have filled positions in every State in the Union

Send for Bulletin

81 Chapel Street, Albany, N. Y.

D. L. SAYLOR & SONS
CONTRACTORS and BUILDERS

Dealers in
LUMBER and COAL - ANNVILLE, PA.

Journal Publishing Co.
Printers

Main Street Annville, Pa.

You are correct if you get your

LADIES' and GENTS'
FURNISHINGS

At KINPORTS', Annville, Pa.

Students' Discount. Packard & American Lady Shoe
Arrow Collars and Shirts

JOS. MILLER

FURNITURE
and UNDERTAKING

West Main Street Annville, Pa

JACOB SARGENT

MERCHANT
TAILOR

READY-TO-WEAR CLOTHING

Main Street

Annville

Theatrical Costumes
Academic Caps and Gowns

ON A RENTAL BASIS

WAAS & SON, Philadelphia

WINDSOR HOTEL

W. T. BRUBAKER, Manager.

European, $1.00 per day and up
American, $2.50 per day and up

Midway between Broad Street
Station and Reading Terminal
on Filbert Street.

The only moderate priced hotel of
reputation and consequence in
PHILADELPHIA

Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute
SCHOOL of ENGINEERING

ESTABLISHED 1824
CIVIL, MECHANICAL, ELECTRICAL and CHEMICAL
ENGINEERING, and GENERAL SCIENCE
Send for a Catalogue. TROY, N.Y.

COLLEGE NEWS

MORRIS CIANDONATO'S Electric Shoe Shop

Shoes repaired by machinery give better results than hand work.

Shop Work done while you wait.

Satisfaction guaranteed Prices right
STUDENT'S WORK SOLICITED

Dieges & Clust

"If we made it, it's right."

Official Jewelers of the Leading Colleges, Schools and Associations

Class Pins, Fraternity Pins,
Medals, Cups, Jewelry,
Watches, Diamonds

1011 Chestnut St., Philadelphia, Pa

SERVICES and CHARGES

Our services are worth more to all applicants than we charge. We earn more than we get.

We do not share our earnings with others. We have no local agents employed to "discuss" the qualifications of our applicants.

School authorities employing teachers through this agency are not open to the suspicion that they are sharing in the earnings of the agency.

Every year there is an increase in the number of applications for teachers coming direct from school authorities, and we are constantly enlarging our facilities.

These environments are appreciated by strong, self-reliant teachers.

THE TEACHERS' AGENCY

R. L. MYERS & CO.

Lemoyne Trust Bldg., Harrisburg, Pa
Co-operating agencies in Denver and Atlanta.

Quality and Satisfaction

combined makes clear the reason why

Spalding's

are outfitters to champions, whose implements must be invariably right.

The Spalding Trade-Mark represents years of leadership in the manufacture of athletic equipment. Write for free illustrated catalogue.

A. G. SPALDING & BROS.

126-128 Nassau St. 520 Fifth Ave. NEW YORK

BURDAN'S ICE CREAM

Made in Pottstown and
Lebanon, Pa.

FRESHMEN BANQUET.

Monday, November 16, was an exciting day in the history of the Freshman class of Lebanon Valley College, when they stole away from their rivals, the Sophomores, and held their banquet at the National Hotel in York. This event had long been eagerly anticipated by each member of the class, and the realization far surpassed the anticipation. Several Freshmen were taken by the "Sophs," and carried to the woods where they were held captive for a time; but this only added to their enjoyment of the banquet. The day was spent in sightseeing. By nine o'clock all had assembled in the banquet hall, where an excellent menu was served.

Mr. Race, the toastmaster, proved himself equal to the occasion. He first called upon Mr. Gemmill, the class president, who responded with an appropriate toast. "Our Girls" was the subject of a clever address by Mr. Keating, while Miss Loser "came back" with something better in "Our Boys." It was a subject with which she was evidently very familiar. Miss Case's subject was "They Call Us Green," and Mr. Jaeger discussed "Freshmen in Athletics." He mentioned the fact that the Freshmen boys have taken an active part in athletics, three of them being on the varsity football team, and a number on the reserve team. A flashlight picture was taken of the banqueters.

While in York, they were chaperoned by Miss Seltzer, professor in German at the college.

SCRUBS WALLOP SHIPPENSBURG.

On Annville field last Saturday afternoon the Scrubs added another scalp to their unbroken string of victories. The youngsters showed their superior knowledge of the game and completely outclassed the Y. M. C. A. boys. The score of 51 to 0 could have been piled higher with ease had the strong men been kept at their places. Evans, playing full-back steamed around Shippensburg's wings whenever he felt as though we needed six more points, "Kid" Rupp smashed through their tackles and added the necessary yards if we were in danger of being held for downs. Thus we might go on and enumerate the brilliant deeds of "Kid" Snively, Foults, Race and in fact how the entire Reserve squad covered themselves with glory.

Miss Fannie Morgart, Roaring Springs, Pa., spent Saturday and Sunday at the college, as a guest of Miss Helen Ziegler, '17.

Miss Doris Long, Ruth Bender and Ruth Huber, also Messrs. Heintzelman, Zug, Bowman, Deibler, Curry, Herring and Stambaugh attended the Student Volunteer Conference held at Lancaster over Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

WM. WALTZ

Hair Cutting and Shaving
Saloon

W. Main St.

Annville, Pa.

THE BLAZIER STUDIO

Photographs of Quality
839 Cumberland Street
LEBANON, PA.

CAPS and GOWNS

Faculty Gowns and Hoods. Pulpit and
Choir Gowns.

Judicial Robes

Best Workmanship
Lowest Prices

COX SONS & VINING

72 Madison Ave., New York

Wright & Ditson

Manufacturers and Dealers in

HIGH GRADE
ATHLETIC SUPPLIES

FOOTBALL, BASKET BALL,
ICE SKATES, HOCKEY,
GOLF, GYMNASIUM
APPARATUS

UNIFORMS for all Athletic Sports.
OFFICIAL IMPLEMENTS for all Track and Field Sports.
Wright & Ditson SWIMMERS are easily the finest Choice Worsted, well made, perfect fitting. Catalogue free.

WRIGHT & DITSON

344 Washington St., Boston. 22 Warren St., New York. 16 So. LaSalle St., Chicago. Harvard Square, Cambridge. 82 Waybosset St., Providence. 391 Main St., Worcester. 359 Market St., San Francisco

THE REDPATH BROCKWAY LYCEUM BUREAU

PITTSBURGH, PENNA

Furnishes this Winter's Lecture Course for the

Lebanon Valley College

Season Tickets $1.00 Reserved $1.50

Better work and more of it. That's the policy of this Laundry. If you haven't your name on our list we'd be glad to place there today. Fine shirt collar and cuff work specialty here.

Hershey Laundry Co.

C. E. Brenneman Agt.

COLLEGE NEWS

Rufus H Lefever

9 15

LEBANON VALLEY COLLEGE

Volume VI.

Annville, Pa., Tuesday, December 1, 1914

No. 12

Entered as second-class matter November 12, 1910, at the post office at Annville, Pa., under the act of March 3, 1879

THE SURVIVAL OF THE FITTEST

The lecture given last Monday evening by Lee Francis Lybarger, as the third number of the Star Course, was a great success. The committee in charge is to be congratulated on having secured a lecturer of such prominence and ability as that of Mr. Lybarger, who held the attention of the large audience assembled in Conservatory Hall from beginning to end. The subject, "The Survival of the Fittest, or the Psychology of 'Success'" was one that appealed to everyone; while his presentation of it was clear, forceful, and wonderfully convincing. Mr. Lybarger, an orator of no mean ability, has a winning manner, which made the bits of humor with which his lecture was interspersed all the more taking. This is a practical age; thus the practical nature of the lecture made an especial appeal to the audience, striking as it did the key-note of success.

The lecture in substance was as follows: Life itself is a continuous struggle from start to finish. It is a law of nature that thousands must be crushed in order that the fittest may survive. This is true in the commercial and professional worlds as well as in nature. Out of every one hundred persons entering mercantile pursuits ninety-five fail. The question naturally is asked, "How do those who succeed differ from those who fail?"—in this question is found the theme of the lecture. This condition of affairs is not a matter of accident, but is governed by law. As given by Herbert Spencer, this law is, "It is the fittest who survive." Very often in this life, strange to say, the most deserving have the hardest path, the most tribulations; while the undeserving seem to succeed. This is true in politics, in literature, and in other fields as well. It may be explained by the fact that those who survive do so under conditions which are imposed by nature or society. An enlightenment of the problem is found in the making of conditions as favorable as possible for the most deserving to succeed.

The supreme qualities making for success are resistance and self-assertion. The problem of continuing to live is resolved into continuing to resist the adverse conditions pressing about everyone and everything. The same is true in the moral world. The secret of moral reform is to make conditions so that it will be easier to do right than evil.

Continued on page 2

NORTH AMERICAN HONORS L. V. C.

On Nov. 23rd, the students and faculty of Lebanon Valley College were very much delighted with a visit of Mr. Geo. L. Graham and Mr. Cunningham, sporting editor and cartoonist, respectively of the North American of Philadelphia.

Mr. Graham delivered a most excellent address to the entire student body. It was timely and showed the relation between athletics and college work. Mr. Graham proved himself to be a master of assemblies by the way in which he held his audience. His humorous stories and witty sayings caused much laughter and applause and proved Mr. Graham's right to be called a great entertainer.

The object of this visit however, was to get a "pictorial write-up" of Lebanon Valley's foot ball team for the North American. We feel quite honored by the fact of our being given such prominence, but Mr. Graham assured us that our team deserved it and that it was a real pleasure to write it up.

We are very grateful to these gentlemen for the work they did for us and greatly appreciate the advertising given us through this most excellent paper—The North American.

We hope these gentlemen will pay us an annual visit on a similar errand, and assure them that any time they come they will be received with open arms.

G. D. GOSSARD.

A MOONLIGHT HIKE.

On Friday evening a very happy party of young folks left the college grounds to enjoy a hike to the Water Works. The party was very ably chaperoned by Miss Boehm. The walk was a very pleasant one, for the evening was ideal. Those who enjoyed the hike were the Misses Boehm, Mary Wyand, Sara Bachman, Elizabeth Jenkins, Arita Snyder, Naomi Hand, Ella Mutch, Ruth Huber and Esther Bachman; Messrs. Race, Stickel, David Fink, Ernst, Zuse, Evans, Wisner, Murphy and Keating.

PROF. SHENK AT HARRISBURG.

Professor H. H. Shenk, instructor in History, Economics, and Social Science at the college, spent Friday in Harrisburg visiting friends and attending the Stough evangelistic meetings.

Miss Ruth Taylor spent the Thanksgiving recess at the home of Miss Josephine Mathias in Highspire.

ECHOES FROM LANCASTER

The Tenth Annual Conference of the Eastern Union of Student Volunteers was held November 20-22 at Franklin and Marshall College, Lancaster. Dr. Henry Harbough Appel, President of Franklin and Marshall College, gave the address of welcome to the delegates in behalf of the town, the churches, and the college.

The conference was fortunate in having live-wire leaders, such as, Dr. Isaac F. Headland, formerly professor in Peking University; Sam Higginbottom, of Allahabad, India; Rev. E. J. Lee, China; and Dr. Charles R. Watson, of Philadelphia. These men while realizing the importance of home missions also, in accordance with the great commission of Christ to his disciples, have caught the inspiration of a world-vision. Their sympathies and thoughts are not bound by race prejudice, but include the African in his barbaric state, the Chinaman with his superstitions and illiteracy, and the people of India in their degradation and poverty. In India alone, there are more than 100,000,000 people living at the rate of one cent a day.

In speaking of "China the Supreme Opportunity of the Christian Church," Reverend Mr. Lee stated that the missionary societies of the European countries are now unable to send religious help to the mission fields. This, then, throws the responsibility on us. China's war forces are now being augmented. If they are taught of our God this military force will have lost its dangerous aspect for the civilized nations.

Dr. Headland, a man of remarkable intelligence, chose for one of his subjects "The Making of a Man." He several times asked the question, "What do you do when you have nothing to do?" Kill time? That is the worst kind of murder. One's life will be made or marred, depending as to what he does when he has nothing to do. Do a thing till you can do it as well as it is possible to be done. David in his leisure hurled stones. He practiced at this art till he could hit the mark every time. Another significant thing in David's battle with Goliath is that he would not use some one else's weapons. Don't depend on another person to make a fortune for you.

Individuals pass through all the stages experienced by humanity, namely the age of the savage, the builder, and the philosopher. The savage stage is in childhood, the building stage is reached in youth as is brought out by the fact that

Continued on page 2

College News

Issued weekly during the College Year by the Students of Lebanon Valley College

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF
FRANK M. VAN SCHAAK '15
ASSOCIATE EDITORS
FLORENCE MENTZ '15
S. HUBER HEINTZELMAN '16

Social
MYRA G. KIRACOFE '15

Athletics
JOHN O. JONES '15

Alumni
MASON LONG '16

Music
RAY P. CAMPBELL '15
BUSINESS MANAGER
FABER E. STENGLE '15

Subscription Price $1.00 per year
Single Copies 5 cts.
Clubs of ten, 75 cts.

Address all business communications to FABER E. STENGLE '15 all other matter to Room 22, Administration Building Lebanon Valley College, Annville, Pa.

WE SHOULD BE THANKFUL

Once more Thanksgiving Day has passed and the praise of a nation has ascended to the throne of its Maker. The purpose for which the Pilgrim Fathers set aside the day has again been accomplished. Thanksgiving is not the only day on which the American people give thanks; but it is chosen as that particular day on which all at the same time should render their praises for what they have so bountifully received.

American people have reason to lift their voices in thankfulness to the "Giver of every good and perfect gift." For, while nearly all of Europe has been caught in the cyclone of war, God has safely sheltered the United States in the "hollow of his hand." We therefore should feel very happy that he has spared us the cruel barbarities and ruin of that cruel monster, war.

Not only as a nation should we be thankful; for as a student-body, Lebanon Valley has much to be thankful for this year. Let us count some of our blessings,—an enthusiastic president, a progressive faculty, the largest student body in the history of the institution, a Freshman class of over a hundred, a victorious football team, and the brightest prospects for excellent basketball, baseball, and track seasons. Not only do we give thanks for these things but also for the generosity and kindness of the alumni and friends who are watching over our welfare.

This has been a happy Thanksgiving occasion and we have been truly fortunate creatures. Now since the turkey has been eaten, and we have enjoyed a few days' rest, let us go back to work with renewed eagerness to prove ourselves worthy of so many blessings, thus showing our appreciation and our gratitude.

JOHN O. JONES ON NEWS STAFF.

John O. Jones, '15, has been appointed by the college faculty Athletic Editor of the College News to fill the vacancy occasioned by the recent resignation of Carl G. Snively, '15.

THE SURVIVAL OF THE FITTEST

(Continued from page 1)

Real character, however, is developed by continued resistance to evil. The test is present only when the opportunity to do evil is present and is resisted. If great success is to be attained in any field in the world of activity, there must be self-assertion and resistance. Do not be afraid to assert oneself on the side of right. College people are often too unassertive; the powers of evil, however, never lack assertiveness. There is a universal law that "The more you resist and conquer, the stronger you become."

The greatest qualities of character leading to success may be considered as five in number. The first, ambition, is the desire to excel, to climb higher, to go farther. The most practical form of ambition, as well as the noblest and loftiest, lies in the aim not to surpass others but to excel oneself. No exercise, no profession, no work, is of much benefit that does not give pleasure to the doer.

The second great quality of success, self-reliance, has characterized all great people. The test of character lies in continued effort toward a goal the attainment of which one's closest friends declare is impossible.

"Courage," the third great quality, "is the foundation of life and success." There are two kinds of courage: physical, pertaining to physical existence; and moral, which is greater than physical courage. It is indeed true that many who can face a loaded cannon unflinchingly cannot endure the ridicule and criticism of the world.

The fourth great quality of success may be considered as having three parts: will power, self poise, and mental domination. Before he commands others, one must first conquer himself.

Persistence of effort, or perseverance, is the fifth and last quality of success. Many who can keep the pace while enthusiasm lasts, do not have the courage to hold on long enough. Today more persistence of effort is required than ever before. Time is no deterrent to great men, when they know they can win at last.

The question naturally arises, "If we develop these faculties are we sure of success?" The answer is, "yes." "What is the meaning of success?" is the next question. The answer simply yet fully expressed is, "The attainment of these lofty, heroic qualities is success in itself."

ECHOES FROM LANCASTER

Continued from page 1

all children want to build a house, construct a railroad or something similar and the third stage is attained in young manhood. You will never be a big man merely by being a big thinker, but by being a big doer. After doing these, the big things, in the proper spirit we shall be rewarded by love, joy, peace, long-suffering, gentleness, faith, meekness and temperance. Some of the other sparks from the anvil of this conference are as follows:

Altruism is the crown of education.

Get all the advice you can and in this light please yourself.

This is God's world, and any work to which God has appointed us is God's work, be it sewing soles on shoes, practising law, or serving in the ministry.

Man is a trinity without the physical side. He has his intellectual, moral, and religious sides.

It is ignorance that makes people dislike one another.

Anything can be made a world influence if a man with a world view gets back of it. By means of a Rockefeller was steel reckoned with in world thought. It took a Heinz to make for pickles a world market.

To make religion one must think in universal terms.

Get to the edge of existence and you have religion.

Bore down and get the smallest particle and you make science.

Coming in contact with men of such views, the three hundred and twenty-four young men and women representing fifty-two educational institutions could not help but be inspired and took a firmer resolve for their life.

Lebanon Valley College was represented by one professor and nine students.

PROHIBITION LEAGUE OFFICERS

At a meeting of the Lebanon Valley College Prohibition League held one evening recently the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President—J. Paul Hummell.
Vice-President—Edwin H. Ziegler.
Secretary—Reuben W. Williams.
Treasurer—David B. Basehore.
Reporter—M. Markawitz.

The League has twenty members. League now has twenty members, with good prospects of increasing the membership. The officers are looking forward to a successful year. An attempt will also be made to send a representative to the National Convention, to be held December 29, 1914 to January 1, 1915, at Topeka, Kansas.

AMERICAN STRING QUARTETTE.

Do not forget the concert to be given by the American String Quartette, of New York City, in Engle Hall, Tuesday evening, December 8th. The appearance of this quartette at the college affords an opportunity for the students and citizens of Annville to hear the very best in music and it is to be hoped that as many as can will take advantage of the opportunity. The quartette comes here highly recommended and we feel sure that they will present a program that will be sure to please. Tickets are on sale at 50 cents; all seats reserved. Reservations can be made at Basehore's Book Store, Friday, December 4th, without extra charge.

Prof. Dunkelberger, Supervising Principal of the Oberlin Schools, and Mr. Sheibley, also of Oberlin, visited the college Monday evening of last week to hear the lecture of Dr. Lybarger.

CLIONIAN.

"What American Occupation Has Meant to a Mexican Community"
Naomi Beaverson
Vocal Solo . . . Katherine Kreider
Question Box . . . Josephine Mathias
"Reading of Books Nowadays," . . .
Esta Wareheim
Piano Solo . . . . . Blanche Black
Olive Branch . . . . . Editor

KALOZETEAN.

(South American Program)
Inhabitants . . . . . H. S. Yetter
Language . . . . . R. Nissley
Quartette:—
A. E. Shonk, A. M. Long, Ira S. Ernst and R. Light.
Religion . . . . . H. M. Gingrich Government . . . . . J. Long
Violin Solo . . . . . Leroy Walters
Debate—Resolved, That the South American Republics should have a central unit of government.
Affirmative. . . . . Negative.
H. E. Shaeffer . . . . . George Kutz
Norman Bucher . . . . . C. R. Longenecker
Political Subdivisions and History, E. Light

PHILOKOSMIAN

Thanksgiving—George M. Haverstock, Lester F. Snyder.
Sketch—John Machen, Jacob Shenberger.
Debate—Resolved, That the telephone and telegraph systems of the U. S. should be owned and controlled by the government.
Affirmative—Robert Hartz, Paul Bowman.
Negative—Conrad Curry, John Jones.
Whistling Quartette—Paul Hummel, Carl G. Snively, John Machen, Guy Stumbach.
Our Invincible Sword Drawn From the Sea—Chas. Horstick.
The Courting of America—David J. Evans.

Many of the students spent the Thanksgiving recess at their homes or at the homes of friends. About sixty remained at school and were given a rare treat on Thanksgiving Day.

L. V. VARSITY BASKETBALL SCHEDULE.

(Season of 1914-15)
Dec. 4—Lebanon Club at Lebanon.
Dec. 11—Lebanon Club at Annville.
Jan. 6—Lehigh at South Bethlehem.
Jan. 7—Moravian College at Bethlehem.
Jan. 8—Swarthmore College at Swarthmore.
Jan. 15—Moravian College at Annville.
Jan. 29—New York University Law School at Annville.
Feb. 2—Mount St. Mary's at Emmitsburg, Md.
Feb. 3—York All Collegiates at York.
Feb. 5—Bucknell University at Annville.
Feb. 10—Juniata College at Annville.
Feb. 19—Juniata College at Huntingdon.
Feb. 24—Ursinus College at Annville.
Mar. 6—Penna. Military College at Chester.
Mar. 9—Muhlenberg College at Allentown.
Mar. 12—Muhlenberg College at Annville.
The schedule of the Reserve Basketball team will be arranged in the near future, as will also the schedule for the girls' basketball team.

D. B. SHIFFER
GRADUATE OPTICIAN
Eyes Examined, Glasses Fitted, Broken Lenses Replaced, anything in the Optical line
East Main St ANNVILLE

BURDAN'S
ICE CREAM
Made in Pottstown and Lebanon, Pa.

THE COLLEGE BOOK STORE
HEADQUARTERS FOR STUDENTS' SUPPLIES
PENNANTS BANNERS
CUSHION TOPS NOVELTIES
KODAKS, CAMERAS, SUPPLIES
DEVELOPING AND PRINTING
CIRCULATING LIBRARY PARKER FOUNTAIN PENS
DAVID B. BASEHORE
SUCCESSOR TO
HARNISH & SMITH

HARLAN P. FRENCH, President
A. B. FRENCH, Vice President VINCENT B. FISK, Sec'y and Manager

THE ALBANY TEACHERS AGENCY, INC.
KNOWS HOW!

Twenty-four Years of successful experience in bringing together
Good Schools and Good Teachers
Our field: Public and Private schools and colleges; we have filled positions in every State in the Union
Send for Bulletin 81 Chapel Street, Albany, N. Y.

IT'S LIKE THIS!
GOLLAM'S
FOR YOUR
GOOD EATS

Lebanon Valley
College

First Class Faculty.
Group System.
Special Facilities in Chemistry and Biology
Music, Art, Oratory

Ladies in the Hall are under the constant care of the Dean of Women.

Write for catalogue

Rev. S. D. Sossard, President
Annville, Pa.

Quality and
Satisfaction

combined makes clear the reason why

Spalding's

are outfitters to champions, whose implements must be invariably right.

The Spalding Trade-Mark represents years of leadership in the manufacture of athletic equipment. Write for free illustrated catalogue.

A. G. SPALDING & BROS.
126-128 Nassau St. 520 Fifth Ave. NEW YORK

SERVICES and CHARGES

Our services are worth more to all applicants than we charge. We earn more than we get.

We do not share our earnings with others. We have no local agents employed to "discuss" the qualifications of our applicants.

School authorities employing teachers through this agency are not open to the suspicion that they are sharing in the earnings of the agency.

Every year there is an increase in the number of applications for teachers coming direct from school authorities, and we are constantly enlarging our facilities.

These environments are appreciated by strong, self-reliant teachers.

THE TEACHERS' AGENCY
R. L. MYERS & CO.

Lemoyne Trust Bldg., Harrisburg, Pa
Co-operating agencies in Denver and Atlanta.

MORRIS GIANDONATO'S
Electric Shoe Shop

Shoes repaired by machinery give better results than hand work.

Shop Work done while you wait.

Satisfaction guaranteed Prices right
STUDENT'S WORK SOLICITED

Dieges & Clust

"If we made it, it's right."

Official Jewelers of the Leading Colleges, Schools and Associations

Class Pins, Fraternity Pins, Medals, Cups, Jewelry, Watches, Diamonds

1011 Chestnut St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Theatrical Costumes Academic Caps and Gowns

ON A RENTAL BASIS

WAAS & SON, Philadelphia

JACOB SARGENT

MERCHANT TAILOR

READY-TO-WEAR CLOTHING

Main Street

Annville

JOS. MILLER

FURNITURE
and UNDERTAKING

West Main Street

Annville, Pa.

You are correct if you get your

LADIES' and GENTS' FURNISHINGS

At KINPORTS', Annville, Pa.

Students' Discount. Packard & American Lady Shoe
Arrow Collars and Shirts

Journal Publishing Co. Printers

Main Street

Annville, Pa.

C. E. Brenneeman Agt.

D. L. SAYLOR & SONS

CONTRACTORS and BUILDERS

Dealers in

LUMBER and COAL - ANNVILLE, PA.

Better work and more of it. That's the policy of this Laundry. If you haven't your name on our list we'd be glad to place it there today. Fine shirt collar and cuff work a specialty here.

Hershey Laundry Co.

THE REDPATH BROCKWAY LYCEUM
BUREAU

PITTSBURGH, PENNA.

Furnishes this Winter's Lecture Course for the

Lebanon Valley College

Season Tickets $1.00 Reserved $1.50

THE
BLAZIER STUDIO

Photographs of Quality

839 Cumberland Street
LEBANON, PA.

NOTES OF INTEREST.

Miss Barbara Suckling, of Holidaysburg, Pa., was delightfully entertained by her sister Clara, '18, at the college, during the Thanksgiving vacation.

Miss Nellie Jenkins, Minersville, Pa., spent Saturday and Sunday at the college with her sister, Elizabeth, of the Conservatory of Music.

Mr. Edward Lorenz, a sophomore, at Princeton, and a friend of Miss Nettie Showers, '17, spent his Thanksgiving vacation at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Lehman.

Miss Edith Freed, '10, Berwyn, Pa., enjoyed her Thanksgiving vacation with her mother, Mrs. Violet Freed, at the college.

Miss Edith Lehman, '13, of Royersford, Pa., Max Lehman, '07, of Baltimore, Md., and John Lehman, '11, of Steelton, Pa., spent their vacation with their parents, Dr. and Mrs. Lehman, in Annville.

Miss Helen Weidler, '12, of Highbridge, N. J., spent part of the week with friends in Annville.

Miss Evelyn Snively and Miss Bernice Richardson, of Ramey, Pa., were the guests of the former's brothers over the week-end.

Professors Sheldon, Schmidt and Bachman, Misses Kathryn Kreider, Kathryn Boltz, Arita Snyder and Messrs. P. M. Linebaugh and R. P. Campbell went down to Albright to hear the piano recital given by Earle La Ross, of Philadelphia, in the college chapel on the evening of November 16.

THE RESERVES HUMBLE MIDDLETOWN!

The boys who have not tasted of defeat throughout this year motored to Middletown on Thanksgiving Day, and there defeated the best team the town has had for years, by the score of 53-0.

The occasion was to have been nothing more than a jolly trouncing of Lebanon Valley's Reserves, for fully six hundred persons witnessed the game, together with the Middletown Band, all anxiously waiting for the town's first touchdown. But when Coach Mackert's men began simply to insist on walking back and forth, from any yard line to the goal posts, the "Evans' Pep" of the crowd was lacking. It was truly a wonderful game, and was not as the score would indicate, a big walkover. The boys fought hard every minute of the game; in fact, it was the best one of the year on the Reserves' part. "Bill" Swartz played a fine game at end, carrying the ball across the line for a touchdown after receiving a forward pass from Evans.

Loomis, Eichelberger, Race, Inman, Keating, Hollinger and Evans deserve mention for their deadly tackling, and consistent gaining.

The Reserves finished the season of eight games with no defeat, having scored a total of 231 points against their opponents' 19. This being the first Reserve schedule of Lebanon Valley their manager, Robert Hartz, is more than pleased with the season which has been so successful.

WM. WALTZ

Hair Cutting and Shaving
Saloon

W. Main St.

Annville, Pa.

CAPS and GOWNS

Faculty Gowns and Hoods. Pulpit and
Choir Gowns.

Judicial Robes

Best Workmanship
Lowest Prices

COX SONS & VINING

72 Madison Ave., New York

Wright & Ditson

Manufacturers and Dealers in

HIGH GRADE
ATHLETIC SUPPLIES

FOOTBALL, BASKET BALL,
ICE SKATES, HOCKEY,
GOLF, GYMNASIUM
APPARATUS

UNIFORMS for all Athletic Sports.
OFFICIAL IMPLEMENTS for all Track and
Field Sports.
Wright & Ditson SWEATERS are easily the finest
Choice Worsted, well made, perfect fitting.
Catalogue free.

WRIGHT & DITSON

344 Washington St., Boston. 22 Warren St., New
York. 16 So. LaSalle St., Chicago. Harvard
Square, Cambridge. 82 Waybosset St., Providence.
391 Main St., Worcester. 859 Market
St., San Francisco

Dr. Harry Zimmerman
DENTIST

W. Main St.

Annville, Pa.

WINDSOR HOTEL

W. T. BRUBAKER, Manager.

European, $1.00 per day and up
American, $2.50 per day and up

Midway between Broad Street
Station and Reading Terminal
on Filbert Street.

The only moderate priced hotel of
reputation and consequence in
PHILADELPHIA

Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute
SCHOOL of ENGINEERING
ESTABLISHED 1824

CIVIL, MECHANICAL, ELECTRICAL and CHEMICAL
ENGINEERING, and GENERAL SCIENCE
Send for a Catalogue. TROY, N.Y.

COLLEGE NEWS

LEBANON VALLEY COLLEGE

Volume VI.

Annville, Pa., Tuesday, December 8, 1914

No. 13

Entered as second-class matter November 12, 1910, at the Post Office at Annville, Pa., under the act of March 3, 1879

L. V.'S GREATEST FOOT BALL SEASON

(By PROF. A. E. SHROYER)

The eighteenth season of football at Lebanon Valley College has passed into notable history.

There will be placed in the archives of athletic records the following summary of L. V.'s achievements upon the gridiron in 1914.

VARSITY.

L. V. Opponents

Sept. 23, Carlisle Indians at Carlisle .....	0	7
Oct. 3, Carlisle Indian Reserves at Annville..	56	0
Oct. 10, F. and M. at Lancaster .....	0	3
Oct. 17, Western Maryland at Lebanon .....	21	3
Oct. 24, Gettysburg at Gettysburg .....	24	9
Oct. 31, Washington College at Annville.....	41	0
Nov. 7, Middletown A. C. at Annville .....	85	0
Nov. 14, Muhlenberg at Allentown .....	7	0
Total .....	234	22

RESERVES.

L. V. Opponents

Sept. 26, Penbrook A. C. at Annville .....	29	7
Oct. 3, Reading High at Reading .....	6	6
Oct. 9, Harrisburg Central High at Annville.	28	6
Oct. 24, Palmyra A. C. at Palmyra .....	19	0
Oct. 31, Hershey A. C. at Hershey .....	6	0
Nov. 14, Harrisburg Academy at Harrisburg....	25	0
Nov. 21, Shippensburg Y. M. C. A. at Annville	51	0
Nov. 26, Middletown A. C. at Middletown.....	53	0
Total .....	217	19

The above is undoubtedly the best record achieved for two teams simultaneously in our football history of eighteen years. After the various games which were played away from home, when the scores were flashed over the wires, friends would ask student after student, "Is it true?" "Is it true?" Buoyantly and confidently, and may I say, with just pride, time and again we had the pleasure of confirming solemnly the good news, "Yes it is true."

For six consecutive years I have served as a member on the athletic committee which always endeavored to do the best for Lebanon Valley in this department. Our faith was test-

Continued on page 3

RECEPTION AND LETTERS FOR TEAM

At the close of such a victorious football season as Lebanon Valley has had the students had to show their appreciation by giving a reception to the players. This reception was held last Thursday in the Alumni Gymnasium and was well attended by alumni and friends. The gymnasium was decorated with pennants and banners with blue and white streamers draped from banister to banister of the gallery. The committee in charge had planned a programme and secured speakers for the occasion.

The first number on the programme was the "Alma Mater." Everyone joined in heartily and made the walls just ring. For all were happy that old L. V. C. had shown what she could do in the football world and they had to show it by singing with all their might.

Rev. T. E. Rupp spoke on the "Beginnings of Football at Lebanon Valley." He played on the first team while attending college here and thus could speak from first hand knowledge. Then, things were not quite so pleasant as they are now. But he spoke very highly of the game. He says every football man that was graduated from this institution has made good in the world. Now, the rules make the game less rough than it was when he played, which is all for the better; so football is not the brutal sport some imagine it to be, and it helps to produce clean, healthy, self-controlled young men who will make their mark in the world.

Another college song followed his remarks. Then Mr. L. V. Appenzeller, who was at one time manager of L. V.'s football team, spoke. He gave an account of the "dark ages" in football here at Lebanon Valley but we are glad to say that the "Age of Revival" followed.

Mr. Verling Jamison read two selections, which everyone thoroughly enjoyed; after which all joined in singing "When I'm an Old Alumnus."

Prof. E. M. Balsbaugh spoke on football now at Lebanon Valley, and Dr. Gossard followed with "The Prospects for Next Year."

"College Days" followed and then the awarding of the letters. Every varsity man got a certificate entitling him to wear the L, and Mrs. Gossard then pinned an L on them as they came. After all had received their letters, Ross Swartz, the newly elected captain, made a speech which surely was a credit to him. The Reserves likewise received certificates

Continued on page 4

Y. M. AND Y. W. C. A. JOINT SESSION

On Sunday the Young Men's and Young Women's Christian Associations were particularly fortunate in having Dr. S. S. Hough, Sec. of the Foreign Missionary Board of the United Brethren Church, to address them in their monthly joint session. Dr. Gossard made the opening prayer, and after a selection by the male quartette, and a vocal solo by Miss Schmidt, Paul Bowman introduced the speaker.

Dr. Hough used as his subject, "How to Make Christ Real" and gave some splendid suggestions which each and every one would do well to follow. He said that in order to have Christ real, we must keep in touch with Him in three ways: First. Be ready to hear what Christ himself wants to say. Give Him time to speak to you through His word. That is the way to form a friendship between you and your Lord. Secondly. Work with Him. You must actually "tackle something" for Christ. Expression deepens the impressions. After deciding for Christ, tie yourself to the last man and then help everyone between Him and you. Thirdly. Keep the current of prayer with your Savior in full force. He compared everyone to a wireless station. God is the power and is going to do the work through you as His helpers.

After the address, which was very inspiring, Mr. Steinhauer showed his ability with the violin. The various musical number did a great deal toward making the hour a success and those who were absent missed a very instructive meeting.

CHAFFING-DISH PARTY.

A number of young folks spent a delightful time together in the parlor of the Ladies' Dormitory, Saturday evening, when the girls in the party proved their culinary skill. After enjoying the games that had been planned for them, and as one person expressed it, "having oceans of fun," they did full justice to the good things that had been prepared in the chaffing-dishes. Among those present, were Misses Helen Ziegler, Mary Bergdoll, Ruth Huber, Ella Mutch, Nettie Showers, Ruth Heffleman and Katherine Dasher; Messrs. Wm. Swartz, Edward Ziegler, Paul Hummel, Reuben Williams, A. M. Long and David Fink.

EXTRA COPIES OF CLIO. NUMBER.

Extra copies of the Clonian Anniversary number of the College News can be secured from the Business Manager at five cents each.

College News

Issued weekly during the College Year by the Students of Lebanon Valley College

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

FRANK M. VAN SCHAAK '15

ASSOCIATE EDITORS

FLORENCE MENTZ '15

S. HUBER HEINTZELMAN '16

Social

MYRA G. KIRACOFE '15

Athletics

JOHN O. JONES '15

Alumni

MASON LONG '16

Music

RAY P. CAMPBELL '15

BUSINESS MANAGER

FABER E. STENGLE '15

Subscription Price $1.00 per year

Single Copies 5 cts.

Clubs of ten, 75 cts.

Address all business communications to FABER E. STENGLE '15 all other matter to Room 22, Administration Building Lebanon Valley College, Annville, Pa.

BURNING MEN LIKE RUBBISH.

Let us be as brutal in speaking about war as war itself is. Perhaps if we would take away the brass bands and the gilt buttons and shoulder straps and all the rest of the glitter, and see war as it actually is, it would sink to the place where it belongs in the world's estimation. Then there would be nothing glorious about it, nothing patriotic. It would be deliberate murder, a desire for might to triumph, whether right or wrong.

Could we see life as it really is, and as it should be expressed, and would be expressed if we did not intrude personal desires and ambitions, we would realize that we are brothers, the manifestations in infinitely varying forms of the one great power—life. Then we should want right and justice to be done to the least among us, whether an individual or a nation, even though there was not a cent in the pocket of the individual or the boundary lines of the nation enclosed but a few hundred acres of land. So, ought we not to look very frankly at what prevents these things from coming to pass?—at war, where brothers slay brothers, even though they may be called Slavs, or Poles, or English, or German, or French? where the small country, because it is weak, numerically or financially must submit to injustice and bow the neck to the oppressor.

After the Battle of Liege, it was reported to the civilized world by the various news agencies that the men killed were piled in heaps and burned. A glorious spectacle for the twentieth century and a supposedly Christian civilization, is it not? Young men, men in the prime of life, men who brought light and joy to homes—to mothers, wives, children; men who had been brought up perhaps with much struggle and self-sacrifice to be useful as a factor for progress, industrial, educational, spiritual, in the community, were shot down by the thousands, by huge iron machines, the death-dealing missiles of which there was no es-Christian Associations.

caping, and were then gathered in piles, much as we gather rubbish on our lawns, and burned. And we of the twentieth century, of a period of wonderful industrial and intellectual progress, are asked to contemplate this spectacle and say it is necessary and can't be helped.

We are off the track somewhere, don't you think? And isn't it because we have never put war in its true place, because we have not stripped it of its fictitious glitter, but still accord it the place and homage that tradition, and those who are interested in it and receive profit from it give it. We have not been either clear-sighted enough or not honest enough to see it and rate it for what it is, and wipe it out of existence.

But we are beginning to look facts rather plainly in the face and to do some hard thinking. We are beginning to see that those men whose bodies were burned like rubbish on the field of Liege were the victims the innocent dupes urged on by powers seeking selfish ends. And this knowledge will help the time to come when the masses, without whom no war could be waged, will one and all refuse to fight, refuse to slay their brothers, no matter of what name or race, refuse to lend aid or countenance to the cause of might instead of right, to rifles instead of reason.

And then war will cease, and the reign of peace and brotherhood that is promised will begin. And in time, it is sure to come, for the heart of it is this great truth of brotherhood and justice. And the feeling of this is already like a heaven at work in the world. The pity of it is that it had not worked sufficiently to prevent those pyres on the field of Liege. But let us, everyone, help forward it, so that in years to come there can be no more of them.

C. H. Z.

PROFESSOR SHENK A POPULAR SPEAKER.

Professor Shenk of the Department of History and Political Science has filled a number of speaking engagements during the month of November. On the fifteenth he delivered a lecture in Allentown under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., that called forth much favorable comment. In the evening of the same day he spoke in the United Brethren church, of Allentown, of which Rev. C. G. White, '12, is the energetic and successful pastor.

On December 11 and 12 he will address the teachers of Lebanon on the occasion of their annual institute, and on the 30th of December will address the child study department of the Pennsylvania State Teachers' Association in Harrisburg.

CALENDAR.

Tuesday, December 8, 6.15 P. M., Prayer Meeting; 8.00 P. M., Concert by the American String Quartette.

Thursday, December 10, 7.15 P. M., Societies, including Clio-Philo Joint Session.

Friday, December 11, 8.00 P. M., Basketball; L. V. vs. Lebanon Club, in the College Gymnasium.

Saturday, December 12, Albright College Glee Club, Engle Conservatory.

Sunday, December 13, 1.00 P. M., es-Christian Associations.

FOOTBALL BANQUET.

On Thursday evening immediately following the Football Reception, a banquet was given in the College Dining Hall in honor of the thirty-seven football men who acquitted themselves so nobly on the gridiron this fall. Besides the football men, a large number of invited guests were present including all the male members of the faculty: Prof. Deaner of Annville; Rev. S. F. Daugherty, the College Pastor; Prof. Balsbaugh, Superintendent of the Lebanon Schools; Prof. Appenzellar, Principal of the Lebanon High School; Professors Strickler, Frost and Butterwick, all teachers in the Lebanon High School; the Rev. S. E. Rupp, of Harrisburg, and about ten young high school football stars from Harrisburg, Steelton and Lebanon. Mr. Crouse, the caterer, had the tables beautifully arranged and decorated.

Dr. Gossard acted as toastmaster, and as usual was fully equal to the occasion. Professor Derickson, Professor Shenk, Professor Shroyer, Manager Stickel, Professor Strickler, and Rev. Mr. Daugherty responded to their names with suitable toasts. It was nearly twelve o'clock when the company left the dining hall, feeling that our wonderfully successful season had been duly celebrated.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION OFFICERS.

The Athletic Association last Thursday elected the following officers for 1915:

President—Joseph Hollinger.
Secretary—Conrad K. Curry.
Football Manager—Robert Hartz.
Asst. Football Manager—Paul Wagner.
Track Manager—Mason Long.
Asst. Track Manager—Russell Rupp.
Tennis Manager—S. Huber Heintzelman.
Asst. Tennis Manager—David Fink.
Junior Member of the Executive Board—David Evans.

CLIO-PHILO. JOINT SESSION.

Thursday, December 10, 1914.

Overture ..... Orchestra
"Divorces" ..... Ralph Stickel
Reading ..... Katharine Kreider
Ladies' Quartette ..... Misses Louise Henry, Lillian Gantz, Ethel Strickler, Naomi Hand.
"My Rules of Order" ... Robert Hartz
'Cello Solo ..... Dorothy Davis
Sketch ..... Misses Zeigler, Clark, Colt, and Marguerite Engle; Messrs. Evans, Lefever, McConnel and Brenneman.
Olive Branch and Living Thoughts ..... Editors

KALOZETEAN.

Thursday, December 10, 1914.

Current Events ..... M. L. Brown
Brief, The Growing Giant of Industry in Japan ..... Willfam Martin Quartet ..... Ira S. Ernst, R. Light, A. Long, A. Shonk.
Parliamentary Drill
Pro. and Con. .... Pro., H. M. Bender
Con., F. M. VanSchaack
Reading ..... R. Williams
Extempore
Song ..... Society

L. V.'S GREATEST FOOT BALL SEASON

(Continued from page 1)

ed in past years to the limit. We never despaired. We never cancelled an engagement. We met all competitors scheduled on our part. We lost many battles; but the war was never over. We entered the conflict to a finish. We had at least staying qualities. Our faith has overcome. We have won. Our policy of "watchful waiting" has been rewarded.

The fame of the teams, as well as the fair name of our college, has gone out through the Keystone State unto its utmost boundaries. Never did the press give us columns of commendation and bring us to the favorable notice of the public as it did during the past season. We have a right to appreciate what others say and think about us. Special mention should be made of Mr. Graham, sporting editor, and Mr. Cunningham, cartoonist, of the Philadelphia North American for their recognition, talent and time, and words of praise devoted to us both in their visit to the college and through the columns of their paper.

All this has come to pass not accidentally; it is the resultant of the following combination of forces:

1. Organization. The need of closer co-operation and organization was felt for a number of years in order to marshal the forces, concentrate effort, control discipline, and locate responsibility. This desired boon was effected by the student body petitioning the trustees of Lebanon Valley to recognize athletics as a department of the college and to employ a head for it. The board cheerfully acceded to this request nearly three years ago. A revival in athletics immediately became apparent and was expressed in part by the splendid gymnasium donated by the alumni. The revival tide is still rising.

2. Men. Men are an all important factor. It takes men to win battles of this sort. Only brave and strong men could endure the onslaughts of the enemy on the battlefield of Gettysburg, repulse and defeat them, and come off the field without the smell of smoke (powder) upon them.

No faint-hearted men could go to a very Port Arthur, a citadel of football power like that represented in the regions near Easton and South Bethlehem and break through the first line of forts and through the second line of defence and escape at least with the pig-skin, if not the bacon. It takes the "chaps" to do it.

3. Spirit. The body without the spirit in it is a dead thing. A student body without college spirit is in a like condition. Never mind going for the undertaker, not even for the doctor; no symptoms of no-spirit it is at L. V. No quarantine upon spirit here. The enthusiasm manifested among the students certainly inspired the men on the teams to give every ounce of their powers in every contest. They could not resist the impelling atmosphere. Spirit inspired "pep."

4. Work. Not only "pep" but "prep" has brought to us a "rep." Preparation through patient and persistent training was a strict requirement. "Genius is 95 per cent. perspiration." Without real hard, intelligent work in training, no abiding success is possible.

IT'S LIKE THIS!
GOLLAM'S
FOR YOUR
GOOD EATS

Lebanon Valley College

First Class Faculty.

Group System.

*Special Facilities in Chemistry
and Biology*

Music, Art, Oratory

Ladies in the Hall are under the constant care of the Dean of Women.

Write for catalogue

*Rev. S. D. Sossard, President
Annville, Pa.*

Quality and Satisfaction

combined makes clear the
reason why

Spalding's

are outfitters to champions, whose implements must be invariably right.

The Spalding Trade-Mark represents years of leadership in the manufacture of athletic equipment. Write for free illustrated catalogue.

A. G. SPALDING & BROS.
126-128 Nassau St. 520 Fifth Ave. NEW YORK

SERVICES and CHARGES

Our services are worth more to all applicants than we charge. We earn more than we get.

We do not share our earnings with others. We have no local agents employed to "discuss" the qualifications of our applicants.

School authorities employing teachers through this agency are not open to the suspicion that they are sharing in the earnings of the agency.

Every year there is an increase in the number of applications for teachers coming direct from school authorities, and we are constantly enlarging our facilities.

These environments are appreciated by strong, self-reliant teachers.

THE TEACHERS' AGENCY

R. L. MYERS & CO.
Lemoyne Trust Bldg., Harrisburg, Pa.
Co-operating agencies in Denver and Atlanta.

MORRIS GIANDONATO'S Electric Shoe Shop

Shoes repaired by machinery give better results than hand work.

Shop Work done while you wait.

Satisfaction guaranteed Prices right
STUDENT'S WORK SOLICITED

D. B. SHIFFER
GRADUATE OPTICIAN
Eyes Examined, Glasses Fitted, Broken
Lenses Replaced, anything in
the Optical line
East Main St ANNVILLE

BURDAN'S
ICE CREAM
Made in Pottstown and
Lebanon, Pa.

THE COLLEGE BOOK STORE

HEADQUARTERS FOR STUDENTS' SUPPLIES
PENNANTS BANNERS
CUSHION TOPS NOVELTIES

KODAKS, CAMERAS, SUPPLIES
DEVELOPING AND PRINTING
CIRCULATING LIBRARY PARKER FOUNTAIN PENS
DAVID B. BASEHORE
SUCCESSOR TO
HARNISH & SMITH

HARLAN P. FRENCH, President
A. B. FRENCH, Vice President VINCENT B. FISK, Sec'y and Manager

THE ALBANY TEACHERS AGENCY, INC. KNOWS HOW!

Twenty-four Years of successful experience in bringing together

Good Schools and Good Teachers

Our field: Public and Private schools and colleges; we have filled positions in every State in the Union

Send for Bulletin

81 Chapel Street, Albany, N. Y.

Dieges & Clust

"If we made it, it's right."

Official Jewelers of the Leading Colleges, Schools and AssociationsClass Pins, Fraternity Pins, Medals, Cups, Jewelry, Watches, Diamonds

1011 Chestnut St., Philadelphia, Pa

Theatrical Costumes
Academic Caps and Gowns

ON A RENTAL BASIS

WAAS & SON, Philadelphia*JACOB SARGENT*MERCHANT TAILOR

READY-TO-WEAR CLOTHING

Main Street

Annville

JOS. MILLER*FURNITURE
and UNDERTAKING

West Main Street

Annville, Pa

You are correct if you get your

LADIES' and GENTS'
FURNISHINGS

At KINPORTS', Annville, Pa.

Students' Discount. Packard & American Lady Shoe
Arrow Collars and ShirtsJournal Publishing Co.
Printers

Main Street

Annville, Pa

D. L. SAYLOR & SONS
CONTRACTORS and BUILDERS

Dealers in

LUMBER and COAL - ANNVILLE, PA.

Better work and more of it. That's the policy of this Laundry. If you haven't your name on our list we'd be glad to place it there today. Fine shirt collar and cuff work a specialty here.

Hershey Laundry Co.

C. E. Brenneman Agt.

THE REDPATH BROCKWAY LYCEUM
BUREAU

PITTSBURGH, PENNA,

Furnishes this Winter's Lecture Course for the
Lebanon Valley College

Season Tickets $1.00 Reserved $1.50

THE
BLAZIER STUDIO

Photographs of Quality

839 Cumberland Street
LEBANON, PA.

THE PURPOSE OF IT ALL.

As far back as 430 B. C., Pericles in his famous funeral oration over the soldiers who fell in battle, eulogizing some of the features which made their nation great, said, "Moreover, we have provided for our spirits the most numerous recreations from labors, by celebrating games and sacrifices through the whole year, of which the daily gratification drives away sadness." Religion and athletics were combined then. They should not be divorced now. College days are the happiest of all days. What if they were all days of hard study and grinding toil and no more! We need something to break the monotony, something to drive away all sadness, to keep our spirits young, and to make us cheerful and optimistic. Wholesome recreations contribute much to happiness and health and thereby make life real and worth while.

On Nov. 9, 1914, Rev. Newell Dwight Hillis dedicated a new gymnasium in connection with Plymouth church. To vindicate the church in supplying a building for athletic culture, he said, "God has created man with five hungers: First, the hunger of the body; second, the hunger of the intellect; third, the hunger of the taste, and imagination for the beautiful; fourth, hunger for friendship and affection; and fifth, the hunger after righteousness. Man is a soul; but his soul dwells in a body, fearfully and wonderfully made. Civilization rests upon sound minds living in sound bodies. The church should strive to minister properly through appropriate institutions to these hungers."

The college seeks to minister to these hungers as an institution of the church to produce perfect and symmetrical lives. This is the function of a complete education to send young men and young women forth into the world stream of activities to serve their day and generation all the better.

RECEPTION AND LETTERS FOR TEAM

Continued from page 1

and letters and Captain Race made a speech. Then as all went home, feeling elated over the fact that Lebanon Valley had won such a place in football, they congratulated themselves, the team, and Coach Guyer, on the successful season.

NOTES OF INTEREST.

Elizabeth Jenkins, of the Conservatory of Music, was entertained at the home of Fleta Kettering, in Palmyra, over the week end.

Mrs. S. H. Harris, of Harrisburg, Pa., spent Saturday and Sunday at the college, with her daughter, Katharine, '18. Miss Harris entertained a number of the girls Saturday evening at a chaffing-dish party in her room, in honor of her mother. All reported having a delightful time.

Prof. C. C. Peters, Superintendent of Schools at Royerford, has received a scholarship from the University of Pennsylvania, and he is now taking work for his Ph.D. degree at that institution.

WM. WALTZ

Hair Cutting and Shaving
Saloon

W. Main St.

Annville, Pa.

CAPS and GOWNS*Faculty Gowns and Hoods. Pulpit and
Choir Gowns.*Judicial RobesBest Workmanship Lowest PricesCOX SONS & VINING

72 Madison Ave., New York

Wright & Ditson

Manufacturers and Dealers in

HIGH GRADE
ATHLETIC SUPPLIES*FOOTBALL, BASKET BALL,
ICE SKATES, HOCKEY,
GOLF, GYMNASIUM
APPARATUS

UNIFORMS for all Athletic Sports.
OFFICIAL IMPLEMENTS for all Track and Field Sports.
Wright & Ditson SWIFTERS are easily the finest Choice Worsted, well made, perfect fitting. Catalogue free.

WRIGHT & DITSON

341 Washington St., Boston. 22 Warren St., New York. 16 So. LaSalle St., Chicago. Harvard Square, Cambridge. 82 Waybosset St., Providence. 391 Main St., Worcester. 359 Market St., San Francisco

Dr. Harry Zimmerman
DENTIST

W. Main St.

Annville, Pa.

WINDSOR HOTEL

W. T. BRUBAKER, Manager.

European, $1.00 per day and up
American, $2.50 per day and upMidway between Broad Street
Station and Reading Terminal on Filbert Street.The only moderate priced hotel of
reputation and consequence in PHILADELPHIA*Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute SCHOOL of ENGINEERING

CIVIL, MECHANICAL, ELECTRICAL and CHEMICAL
ENGINEERING, and GENERAL SCIENCE
Send for a Catalogue. TROY, N.Y.

COLLEGE NEWS

LEBANON VALLEY COLLEGE

Volume VI.

Annville, Pa., Tuesday, December 15, 1914

No. 14

Entered as second-class matter November 12, 1910, at the post office at Annville, Pa., under the act of March 3, 1879

DOCTOR HOUGH'S SPIRITED ADDRESS

Mr. S. S. Hough, D.D., General Secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions of the United Brethren Church, was in Annville Sunday and Monday of last week, and the college was honored in having him address the students in chapel on Monday morning. Dr. Hough is intensely interested in his work, and realizes the need for trained, efficient workers.

Speaking of people in different walks of life, he said that some show a greater adaptability to their work than others. He then told of the young minister who often experienced difficulty in keeping up a conversation, and was advised by the Presiding Elder to ask for a glass of water when conversation lagged. This would give him time to think of something to talk about when his church member returned with the water. Several days later this young minister informed the Presiding Elder that he had drunk twenty-one glasses of water in a half day. This young man had not made the best possible use of his college career. He had confined himself to his books and had not taken advantage of the other necessary training for the ability to adapt himself to conditions as he found them. We don't need men who, like trees grown in-doors, need one given temperature and extremely favorable surroundings in order to live, it is the man who will come boldly out and breast the winds of adverse criticism and unpopularity, and who dares to stand for God and the right, knowing how to do his best under whatever circumstances, that the mission field, as well as other interests, is asking to be given today.

Due to the present European War, 40 per cent. of the missionaries in foreign fields have no home church to which they can look for help. Consequently the demands upon our country are doubled. The question for America to decide is whether or not she will assume the responsibility laid at her threshold. As Europe cannot recover for at least twenty-five years from the effects of the terrible war now in progress, this question is one of great moment and the prayers and help of the Christian people in the United States are needed for the encouragement of this work.

Mary Bergdoll, '17, and Helen Zeigler, '17, have returned from the bed-side of Mary Basler, in Myers town.

A CHRISTMAS WISH.

May the joyous bells of Christmas,
With their message of great cheer
Filled with love, and hope,
and gladness,
Ring for you throughout the year.

And that peace the angels carolled,
Wafted from the manger-throne
Of the Christ Child, Prince of Glory,
E'er be with you and your own.

F. M. V. S.

FINE PROGRAM AT JOINT SESSION

About two hundred joyous students and friends assembled in Philo hall last Thursday night to enjoy the literary program rendered by the Philokosmian and Clonian Literary Societies in their first joint session of the college year. According to the usual custom, the Philo officers presided at this session. After the devotional exercises were conducted by the chaplain, the signal for the opening of the program was the playing of the Philo Orchestra. The audience was so well pleased with the orchestra music that another overture was demanded.

Mr. Stickel then gave a sociological discussion on the subject, "Divorces." He showed that the strength and perpetuity of a nation consist in the nation's purity and strength of womanhood and manhood; but that our once lofty ideal of manhood and womanhood is being lowered by the great increase in divorces each year. Miss Katharine Kreider, on account of sickness, was unable to appear on the program with her reading. Everyone was sorry to have this number omitted, for all knew the competency of Miss Kreider, as a reader. The quartette, composed of Misses Louise Henry, Lillian Gantz, Naomi Hand and Ethel Strickler sang exceptionally well and the continuous applause showed the appreciation of the audience. Mr. Robert Hartz, with his humorous paper on "My Rules of Order," kept the students and friends in a spirit of laughter by showing the daily schedule under which he works and also entertains himself at college. The cello solo showed one and all that

Continued on page 4

STRING QUARTETTE A GREAT SUCCESS

The concert given last Tuesday evening in Engle Auditorium by the American String Quartette, of New York City, proved to be one of the best musical successes that has ever appeared at the college, and one that was thoroughly appreciated by the well-filled auditorium of music-lovers.

The quartette was composed of four attractive and accomplished young ladies, each one an artist of the highest type on her respective instrument: Miss Gertrude Marshall, First Violin; Miss Ruth Stickney, Second Violin; Miss Adeline Packard, Viola; and Mrs. Susan Lord Brandegee, Violincello. About five years ago they decided to form a string quartette and accordingly placed themselves under the instruction of the well-known violinist and teacher, Charles Martin Loeffler, formerly of the Boston Symphony Orchestra. After over a year's patient work together under the guidance of this wonderful musician, they were pronounced capable artists by him; and since then they have been giving their time to concert performances in New York, Boston, and other important cities of the country.

With such a reputation to precede them, those present at the recital were prepared to hear something really artistic; and from the expressions of approval on all sides at the conclusion of the program we feel safe in saying all were pleased even beyond their expectations.

The first number of the program was a Quartette for two Violins.

Continued on page 3

LIBRARY RECEIVES

VALUABLE GIFT.

The Library has been fortunate in securing through Hon. A. S. Kreider, congressman from our district, the Thirteenth Census report, 1910, in twelve volumes, with a supplement for Pennsylvania. We are indeed grateful for this valuable addition to our library.

In order to have more room for just such gifts, we have increased our shelf space by utilizing the basement. We hope, in this manner, to relieve the crowded condition of our shelves, and be able to expand so that the library may become more useful and valuable to the student body.

The Albright College Male Glee Club rendered a splendid programme in Engle Hall on Saturday evening. It was held under the auspices of the United Evangelical Church of Annville.

College News

Issued weekly during the College Year by the Students of Lebanon Valley College

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

FRANK M. VAN SCHAAK '15

ASSOCIATE EDITORS

FLORENCE MENTZ '15

S. HUBER HEINTZELMAN '16

Social

MYRA G. KIRACOFE '15

Athletics

JOHN O. JONES '15

Alumni

MASON LONG '16

Music

RAY P. CAMPBELL '15

BUSINESS MANAGER

FABER E. STENGLE '15

Subscription Price $1.00 per year

Single Copies 5 cts.

Clubs of ten, 75 cts.

Address all business communications to FABER E. STENGLE '15 all other matter to Room 22, Administration Building Lebanon Valley College, Annville, Pa.

THE SPIRIT OF CHRISTMAS.

Christmas—O, the magic of the name! We have heard it ever since we were old enough to remember anything. We can all recall how we as children were wont to look forward to it, this day of happiness for the younger folk and their elders as well. As we grew older, the occasion gradually came to have a new meaning for us,—a deeper, more spiritual meaning—something more than a time merely for the gratification of childish desires for dolls, games, tin soldiers, and the like. The carols of the day brought us the tidings of the same sweet story of a little child, about whom our fathers and mothers read to us in the great book with the leather cover. It seemed a wonderful story to us then; and, as time went on, it grew more wonderful in its deeper significance; and it has never lost its charm.

The years passed; other things come into our lives—school; duties at home and outside; and then, college. Let us stop a moment in the midst of the many activities of this work-a-day world to ask ourselves whether we Americans do not sometimes forget the true spirit of Christmas? In the complexities of modern life has not the custom of exchanging gifts at this season come to be more of a habit than an expression of regard? Often we look upon it as a necessity rather than as a free-will offering on the altar of friendship. A gift to be a true gift must be not only of the hand, but of the heart as well.

The subject of gifts leads us to consider how long the world has been making gifts at the Christmas season. It takes us back a long way. Yes, nineteen centuries and more across the years. It brings us to the lowly stable of an inn, above which a star is shining; and in which lies a little child, to whom three learned travellers from afar are offering gifts of "gold, and frankincense, and myrrh." They are doing this not because it is customary or because they expect some reward in return; no, but to express their respect, their homage, their love for the child in the lowly manger—to show their appreciation of the greatest gift that ever was given. When we give our gifts today, should we not consider whose birthday we are celebrating? Should we not think of how much this gift means to us? To realize what it has meant to the race, we need only contrast our America with non-Christian lands.

Many have followed the star since that night of the long ago—that star which has shed its glory down the ages, leading the countless pilgrims on the till they found that gift of peace, and joy, and love. There is a story called "The Following of The Star," by Florence Barclay, which is especially interesting at the Christmas season. It has all the fascination of the modern novel, and contains a good Christmas sermon as well. In our holiday reading, we must not forget to turn once more to Washington Irving's delightful pen pictures of the old English Christmas which he has given us in his "Sketch Book." The hearty hospitality of the old squire, the care-free joyousness of the guests, and the general benevolence of the Yuletide season, as portrayed in the genial style of the author, light up the page with the same attractiveness as when we read it for the first time.

While we students are enjoying the pleasures of the holiday season in the midst of the comforts of our homes here in peaceful America, let us not forget the thousands that are engaged in the terrible struggle across the sea—the thousands wounded, suffering, dying on the battlefields of the old world. Think of the ruined homes and desolate firesides, deserted, or with their people battling with famine! Let us, as we consider the awfulness of this strife, be immeasurably grateful for the blessings of peace which we enjoy. And may we on this Christmas Day, 1914, join in a universal prayer to the Ruler of Nations that the true Christmas spirit may enter the hearts of those at war, that they may soon sheathe the sword, and, like the Wise Men of old follow the star, and together lay their gifts of humility, homage and love at the feet of the Prince of Peace.

Y. W. C. A.

Those who attended the meeting of the Y. W. C. A. heard a very good report of the Student Volunteer Convention held at Lancaster a short time ago. Misses Ruth Huber and Ruth Bender who were the delegates from our Y. W. C. A. gave an account of the meetings they attended while at the convention. The many needs of the foreign fields were presented, especially the need in Mexico, our nearest neighbor. The call comes to all to go out where the fields are ripe unto the harvest and where the reapers are so sorely needed.

Miss Marguerite Engle, having won the championship in the Girls' Tennis Tournament, has been awarded a $5.00 Wright and Ditson racket.

THE FOOTBALL SITUATION

AT LEBANON VALLEY

At the close of the 1911 football season the writer took occasion to review the situation as it then existed at Annville. It was predicted that either something would be done to improve the apparently hopeless outlook for future football or the game would be abolished. The 1912 team was the best that had ever represented the college, the 1913 team was an improvement over 1912 and now we have seen the great aggregation of 1914, probably the best small college team in the middle states. Teams like Lehigh, W. & J., and Lafayette are a little above what is generally considered small colleges. The above ranking of L. V. would be disputed by F. & M. but the writer saw the F. & M. game and it only took about one quarter to convince any keen observer that Lebanon Valley had the stronger lineup. Where F. & M. was weak L. V. was strong and it was only a question of how much more than 14 points Lebanon Valley might win if someone on their team could only see the tactical advantage they held. After all that, it is well known that it takes a first class team to hold F. & M. to a 3-0 score at Lancaster.

Lebanon Valley has had some really great players and an All-Time-All-Lebanon Valley team would give a good account of itself against any of the big six.

At left end would be seen Guyer the present coach who knows football. It is doubtful if there is an end playing today who is better than Roy Guyer in his prime. He could cover kicks, handle the forward pass, take out a tackle, block, run the ball, and as a defensive end would be a peer in his position.

Mackert of this year's team would be the best the college has produced for left tackle.

Ex-Capt. Shaeffer, Carnes and Capt. Carl Snavelly would make up an extremely able center trio that would get out on the ends to tackle and that would be blessed with an abundance of football knowledge and football sense.

At right tackle would be placed the greatest line-man that ever wore the colors of Lebanon Valley. "Bill" Rupp would take care of all comers.

Better ends than "Lorry" Maxwell seldom grow. He would play on the right wing.

"Van" Dayhoff would run the team and be captain. "Van" had almost a national reputation as a drop kicker and has won games against Bucknell, F. & M., and Dickinson besides scoring against Penn. He would be both the offensive and defensive general. Playing left back defense he would steady Mackert and Guyer in trying positions.

Wheelock is the best for left half and would play right half defense. Maxwell's rapid fire brain would make things sure on that side.

"Polly" Strickler in 1912 the very best back in the State is also the greatest backfielder that ever wore the old blue and white. "Polly" working with this rugged team would only be used once in every six plays and on that sixth play which would be devised as a specialty for him, would always deliver a first down. This speed-boy would play the safety defense.

COLLEGE NEWS

Jesse Yoder a man of wonderful endurance is the only player who has a claim on full back. His line-breaking is still talked about. Yoder used a beautiful body shift which made his plunging very effective after a break away.

Taggart as coach would keep this aggregation as contenders with teams taught by Folwell, Hollenback, Keady, Crowell, Mayser and Warner. This man's keenness as a tactician is so well recognized that several of the leading colleges have unsuccessfully sought his services.

This All-Time-All-Lebanon Valley team is picked to play the game of today and not the game as it was played by some of those selected. Provision has been made for kicking of all kinds, every necessary style of offense and of most importance, there would be brains to this team.

First Team.	Second Team.
L.E.—Guyer	Atticks
L.T.—Mackert	Shelly
L.G.—Shaeffer	E. Rupp
C.—Snively	Von Bereghy
R.G.—Carnes	Holler
R.T.—W. Rupp	Bechtel
R.E.—Maxwell	Dearoff
Q.B.—Dayhoff	Lerew
L.H.—Wheelock	Jaeger
R.H.—Strickler	Barnhart
F.B.—Yoder	Pell
Coach—Taggart.
(Signed) HENRY L. WILDER.

FAITHFUL IN LITTLE THINGS.

"It is doing little things that gives us courage to attempt, and accomplish big things. We can't expect to walk until we can crawl; we can run only after being able to walk. So is it in all phases of activity. The person who has been faithful in the lesser duties of life is the better able to meet the graver problems in life's field of action." Such was the thought discussed in the Y. M. C. A. session Sunday. Mr. C. E. Brenne-man, as leader, introduced the subject well. Geo. A. DeHuff rendered a pleasing flute solo which lent zest to the meeting.

NOTES OF INTEREST.

Miss Mary Basler, of the Academy, who is suffering from meningitis of the brain, due to overwork, was taken to her home in Myerstown, last Wednesday. Her condition is serious. She is being attended by Dr. Reiter, of Myerstown, and Dr. Walters of Lebanon. Dr. Morgan, a specialist, from the Medico Chi, Philadelphia, was called in consultation.

Katharine Ruth, '18, is confined to her room as a result of a "run down" system. She has been compelled to give up her studies for a few weeks, in order to take a complete rest.

Tonsillitis has been an unwelcome visitor at the Boys' Dormitory recently. Among those afflicted were Willis McNelly, Tom Foltz, Walter Rhoads, Norman Potter and Harry Katerman. Several were quite ill, but all are able to be out again.

CALENDAR.

Friday, December 18, 4.00 P. M., Christmas Recess begins.
Monday, January 4, 1.00 P. M., Christmas Recess ends.

"Something Doing"

JANUARY 13, 1915

Reserve this date

D. B. SHIFFER GRADUATE OPTICIAN

Eyes Examined, Glasses Fitted, Broken
Lenses Replaced, anything in
the Optical line

East Main St ANNVILLE

BURDAN'S ICE CREAM

Made in Pottstown and
Lebanon, Pa.

THE COLLEGE BOOK STORE

HEADQUARTERS FOR STUDENTS' SUPPLIES

PENNANTS

CUSHION TOPS

BANNERS

NOVELTIES

KODAKS, CAMERAS, SUPPLIES

DEVELOPING AND PRINTING

CIRCULATING LIBRARY

PARKER FOUNTAIN PENS

DAVID B. BASEHORE

SUCCESSOR TO

HARNISH & SMITH

HARLAN P. FRENCH, President
A. B. FRENCH, Vice President
VINCENT B. FISK, Sec'y and Manager

THE ALBANY TEACHERS AGENCY, INC. KNOWS HOW!

Twenty-four Years of successful experience in bringing together

Good Schools and Good Teachers

Our field: Public and Private schools and colleges; we have filled positions in every State in the Union

Send for Bulletin

81 Chapel Street, Albany, N. Y.

WM. WALTZ

Hair Cutting and Shaving
Saloon

W. Main St.

Annville, Pa.

CAPS and GOWNS

Faculty Gowns and Hoods. Pulpit and
Choir Gowns.

Judicial Robes

Best Workmanship
Lowest Prices

COX SONS & VINING

72 Madison Ave., New York

Wright & Ditson

Manufacturers and Dealers in

HIGH GRADE
ATHLETIC SUPPLIES

FOOTBALL, BASKETBALL,
ICE SKATES, HOCKEY,
GOLF, GYMNASIUM
APPARATUS

UNIFORMS for all Athletic Sports.
OFFICIAL IMPLEMENTS for all Track and
Field Sports.
Wright & Ditson SWEATERS are easily the finest
Choice Worsted, well made, perfect fitting.
Catalogue free.

WRIGHT & DITSON

344 Washington St., Boston. 22 Warren St., New
York. 16 So. LaSalle St., Chicago. Harvard
Square, Cambridge. 82 Waybosset St., Providence.
391 Main St., Worcester. 359 Market
St., San Francisco

Dr. Harry Zimmerman DENTIST

W. Main St.

Annville, Pa.

WINDSOR HOTEL

W. T. BRUBAKER, Manager.

European, $1.00 per day and up
American, $2.50 per day and up

Midway between Broad Street
Station and Reading Terminal
on Filbert Street.

The only moderate priced hotel of
reputation and consequence in
PHILADELPHIA

Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute ESTABLISHED 1824 SCHOOL of ENGINEERING

CIVIL, MECHANICAL, ELECTRICAL and CHEMICAL
ENGINEERING, and GENERAL SCIENCE
Send for a Catalogue. TROY, N.Y.

Dieges & Clust

"If we made it, it's right."

Official Jewelers of the Leading Colleges, Schools and Associations

Class Pins, Fraternity Pins, Medals, Cups, Jewelry, Watches, Diamonds

1011 Chestnut St., Philadelphia, Pa

Theatrical Costumes Academic Caps and Gowns

ON A RENTAL BASIS

WAAS & SON, Philadelphia

JACOB SARGENT

MERCHANT
TAILOR

READY-TO-WEAR CLOTHING

Main Street

Annvile

JOS. MILLER

FURNITURE
and UNDERTAKING

West Main Street

Annvile, Pa

You are correct if you get your

LADIES' and GENTS'
FURNISHINGS

At KINPORTS', Annville, Pa.

Students' Discount, Packard & American Lady Shoe
Arrow Collars and Shirts

Journal Publishing Co. Printers

Main Street

Annvile, Pa

D. L. SAYLOR & SONS CONTRACTORS and BUILDERS

Dealers in

LUMBER and COAL - ANNVILLE, PA.

Better work and more of it. That's the policy of this Laundry. If you haven't your name on our list we'd be glad to place it there today. Fine shirt collar and cuff work a specialty here.

Hershey Laundry Co.

C. E. Brenneman Agt.

THE REDPATH BROCKWAY LYCEUM BUREAU

PITTSBURGH, PENNA.

Furnishes this Winter's Lecture Course for the
Lebanon Valley College

Season Tickets $1.00. Reserved $1.50

THE BLAZIER STUDIO

Photographs of Quality

839 Cumberland Street

EBANON,

PA.

STRING QUARTETTE A GREAT SUCCESS

Continued from page 1

Viola and Violincello in G by Mozart. Through the four movements of this bright opening number the players proved to the audience by their poise and the perfect rendition of their ensemble that they were artists of rare ability. The solo for Violincello with string accompaniment was well received and the soloist was obliged to respond to an encore with a most interesting Algerian air. That the Violin solos so flawlessly rendered in beautiful tones by Miss Marshall delighted the entire audience was evidenced by the burst of applause which greeted her upon their completion. She, too, was obliged to meet the desires of her musical admirers with an encore.

To the lovers of weird, mysterious tone, color so characteristic of Grieg, the last number of the program, "Quartette in G Minor" by that Norwegian composer, was the most pleasing and most enjoyable of all. As in the first number, their ensemble was again par-ber, their ensemble was again particularly fine and all present were sorry when the sound of the last chord had died away.

The recital was largely attended not only by the students and residents of Annville, but by people from Lebanon, Palmyra, Hershey and other nearby towns.

FINE PROGRAM AT JOINT SESSION

(Continued from page 1)

Miss Dorothy Davis is a competent and worthy artist. The climax of the program was reached when Misses Bachman, Clark, Colt and Marguerite Engle, and Messrs. Evans, Brenne-man, Lefever, and McConel gave their original sketch of "Lefever's Matrimonial Bureau." No theatrical group could have procured more applause and created more laughter than the actors and actresses of this sketch. After the interesting reports of the editors through the "Olive Branch" and "Living Thoughts," the program was concluded.

At the invitation of the Philos through their president, Mr. Carl Snavely, the host of friends remained in the hall and spent the evening in a social manner. The Philo Orchestra delighted the company with their splendid music while the guests were served with refreshments, and continued their entertainment until it was time for them to depart.

BASKET BALL SEASON STARTS OUT WELL

In the first home game of the season, Lebanon Valley's Basket Ball team defeated the strong aggregation of the Lebanon Athletic Club by the overwhelming score of 61 to 25. In spite of the fact that after the first five minutes of play there was little doubt as to who would ultimately triumph, the game proved intensely interesting throughout.

IT'S LIKE THIS!
GOLLAM'S
FOR YOUR
GOOD EATS

Lebanon Valley College

First Class Faculty.

Group System.

Special Facilities in Chemistry
and Biology

Music, Art, Oratory

Ladies in the Hall are under the constant care of the Dean of Women.

Write for catalogue

Rev. S. D. Sossard, President
Annvile, Pa

Quality and Satisfaction

combined makes clear the
reason why

Spalding's

are outfitters to champions, whose implements must be invari-
ably right.

The Spalding Trade-Mark represents
years of leadership in the manufacture of athletic equipment. Write for free illustrated catalogue.

A. G. SPALDING & BROS.

126-128 Nassau St. 520 Fifth Ave. NEW YORK

SERVICES and CHARGES

Our services are worth more to all applicahs than we charge. We earn
more than we get.

We do not share our earnings with others. We have no local agents employed to "discuss" the qualifications
of our applicants.

School authorities employing teachers through this agency are not open to
the suspicion that they are sharing in
the earnings of the agency.

Every year there is an increase in the
number of applications for teachers
coming direct from school authorities,
and we are constantly enlarging our
facilities.

These environments are appreciated
by strong, self-reliant teachers.

THE TEACHERS' AGENCY

R. L. MYERS & CO.

Lemoyne Trust Bldg., Harrisburg, Pa
Co-operating agencies in Denver and Atlanta.

MORRIS GIANDONATO'S Electric Shoe Shop

Shoes repaired by machinery give better
results than hand work.

Shop Work done while you wait.

Satisfaction guaranteed

Prices right

STUDENT'S WORK SOLICITED